The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard. Newmann's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the Dine's pressure-tube anemometer and the Standard dial anemometer.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day ☁, dew; o, overcast; d, drizzling rain; p, passing temporary showers; ☽, fog.

D. B. HORN,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

1. The revenue administration of the Dhaka Canal is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Gandak Circle. The Divisional Canal Officer is responsible for maintaining the canal in an efficient condition, for the distribution of water to the lessees, and for the closing of the outlets in rotation when required; he is further responsible for the assessment of water-rates.

2. The Collector of the district is responsible for the collection of water-rates.

3. Except as provided in the Act and in these rules, no appeal shall lie from any order passed by a Canal Officer, but the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the order of the Divisional Canal Officer, and the Subdivisional Canal Officer or Divisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the orders of the Superintending Canal Officer, who shall exercise a general control over the proceedings of all Canal Officers.

4. In appeals to the Collector under section 91 of the Act other than those especially provided for in rule 14, the Collector may require the Superintending Engineer to state his opinion in writing, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings of the case.

ON BLOCKS.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer shall map out the irrigable area into blocks demarcated by suitable boundaries, and in order to equalise the area to be dealt with each year, shall determine the date of expiry of the leases in each block, so that as far as practicable one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease every year.

6. Each block, determined as above, shall be numbered and marked on the maps to be maintained by the Divisional Canal Officer, and shall also be recorded with its irrigable area in the registers to be kept by him.

ON APPLICATIONS.

7. Any person who requires a lease for water must apply to—

- (a) the Sectional Officer, or
- (b) the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

These applications must be made in writing and may be on plain paper.

The person receiving them shall enter on the back any further data required.

ON LEASES AND PERMITS.

8. Ordinarily 5-year leases may be granted for the whole irrigable area of a block or a definite part of a block under the following conditions:—

- (i) No lease for less than 10 acres shall be granted.
- (ii) No lease shall be granted when the water must cross unleased lands, unless a suitable village channel exists.

9. Villages which apply for a lease less than five years in advance of the date of expiry fixed under rule 5 will only be granted leases for the remaining years of the term fixed for the block in which they are situated, so that all the leases within the same block may expire on the same date. These leases will be granted under the same conditions as 5-year leases.

10. The Divisional Canal Officer shall issue permits for long leases to the lessees through the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

When water is urgently required, the Subdivisional Canal Officer may grant a season lease which will be cancelled if the long lease is subsequently concluded. The Subdivisional Canal Officer may also issue season leases under rule 13 (III and IV).

When a lease is granted an agreement shall be taken in forms given in Appendices I and III and a "permit" shall be given to the lessee or lessees in forms given in Appendices II and IV.

11. Water for filling tanks may be supplied when available for cash paid in advance; the water taken into the tanks may be used for irrigation or any other purpose (Forms of application and permit are given in Appendices V and VI).

12. Water may be supplied by measurement through a permanent outlet, when the working level of the water in the distributary can be kept fairly constant.

A parcha showing the area and amount assessed against each cultivator shall be sent to him through the cultivator's representative when the demand statement is sent to the Collector for realising the amounts. Persons charged under rule 24 shall be served, by post or otherwise, with a statement showing the amounts charged to enable them to lodge an appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Act if they desire to do so.

15. The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (I and II) shall be payable in two equal instalments, falling due respectively on the 1st January and 1st February following, but all sums of Rs. 10 and under shall become due on the 1st January and be payable in one instalment.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (III) shall fall due on the 1st April following.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (IV) shall fall due on the 1st July following.

The rates for water to be supplied under rule 13 (V) shall be payable before water is supplied.

16. Water-rates imposed under rule 24 shall fall due as soon as the assessment is made and shall be realised at once.

ON REMISSIONS.

17. Remission of water-rates, either in whole or in part, shall be granted as follows:—

(a) By the Divisional Canal Officer for errors in assessment or rates.

(b) By the Divisional Canal Officer for injury to a crop on a leased area caused by a deficiency in the supply of water.

A written application must be made at least 20 days before the crop is out.

18. Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

19. In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is not realisable may be written off as irrecoverable on the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer.

20. Before awarding compensation under section 16 of the Act or making reference under section 17 of the Act the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, and his written opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

ON CULTIVATORS' REPRESENTATIVES.

21. When a lease is entered into, the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall select as representative of the cultivators a suitable person or persons who shall be generally acceptable to the cultivators and shall each have a direct interest in the land for which the lease is executed. Jait raiyats or gumashtas shall usually be selected, or if it is undesirable in any particular case to appoint the jait raiyats or gumashtas, the reasons for passing them over and selecting others in preference are to be noted by the Subdivisional Canal Officer in the list of cultivators' representatives to be maintained by him.

22. The person or persons so selected shall be required to give assistance to the Canal Officers in respect of the following matters:—

I.—In the preparation of applications for leases.

II.—In the measurement of irrigated lands.

III.—In giving the names of the occupiers of the various fields.

IV.—In receiving demand statements and informing the cultivators of the demands against them.

V.—In receiving parchas and distributing them.

VI.—In attending, when required, at enquiries and complaints.

VII.—In reporting to the silladars any mutations of holdings of persons who have signed a long lease.

VIII.—In assisting the tahsildar in collecting rates.

23. For such assistance the cultivators' representative or representatives shall be entitled to free irrigation of the lands in his own occupation, which may be within the boundaries of the long lease, subject to a limit of 3 per cent. of the area assessed. The Divisional Canal Officer may disallow this free irrigation and recover the rates, in whole or in part, from the jait raiyat or gumashta or other representative, if the assistance specified in rule 22 has not been efficiently rendered to the satisfaction of the local officers. The reasons for such disallowance are to be recorded in the list of cultivators' representatives maintained by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

ON UNAUTHORISED IRRIGATION.

24. For the unauthorised use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre shall be charged; this rate may, however, be reduced at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer.

25. When it comes to the knowledge of the Subdivisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken in an unauthorised manner, he shall hold a local investigation, and, if he considers that water has been taken in this way, he shall serve a notice on the persons liable to be assessed, fixing a date for hearing objections. Any objections made shall be taken down and the whole record forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer for disposal.

26. The Divisional Canal Officer, after hearing any objection that may be raised, shall, if he is of opinion that the area should be assessed, fix the rates allowed under rule 24 and dispose of the case within one month of the receipt of the record from the Subdivisional Canal Officer. Water-rates shall not be charged where the unauthorised irrigation has occurred through the act, neglect or default of a Canal Officer or subordinate.

27. Applications may be subsequently received from villages in which unauthorised irrigation has been detected, and these villages may be granted leases; but in such cases the persons assessed under rule 24 shall also pay the water-rates due in respect of the lease subsequently granted, provided that the total of these two rates shall not exceed the maximum rate chargeable under rule 24. In such cases of double assessment the Divisional Canal Officer may remit, in whole or in part, the rates assessed under rule 24.

ON PENALTIES AND CANCELLING OF LEASES.

28. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st June next following.

29. The Superintending Canal Officer may, with the concurrence of the Collector, direct the Divisional Canal Officer to—

- (I) Cease to issue permits for the irrigation of lands in villages where there have been constant difficulties in realising water-rates until all the arrears of water-rates due are paid up; and also if specially so ordered, until half the amount due under new applications is paid in advance. An order under this rule shall be in force for the time stated therein, which shall not exceed three years.
- (II) Cancel any long lease if on the 1st June water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears.
- (III) Cancel any lease of which the lands cannot be irrigated from the canal except by passing water over an unleased area.

MISCELLANEOUS.

30. No person shall, without the written permission of the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer, pass or cause any animal or vehicle to pass along or across any of the works, channels, or banks of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, except by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries and their approaches as have been provided for the purpose.

31. Unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operations of these rules, no officer employed on the canal shall have any interest in the distribution of water from it, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others.

WATER-RATE RULES FOR THE TEUR (MADHUBAN) CANAL.

The 4th February 1905.

No. 7.—Notification.—With reference to Notification No. 101, dated 19th February 1884, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 20th February 1884 at page 365, and in exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 78 and 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal proposes to pass the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Teur (Madhuban) Canal, with effect from the 1st April 1905.

D. B. HORN,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

1. The revenue administration of the Teur (Madhuban) Canal is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Gandak Circle. The Divisional Canal Officer is responsible for maintaining the canal in an efficient condition, for the distribution of water to the lessees, and for the closing of the outlets in rotation when required; he is further responsible for the assessment of water-rates.

2. The Collector of the district is responsible for the collection of water-rates.

3. Except as provided in the Act and in these rules, no appeal shall lie from any order passed by a Canal Officer, but the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the order of the Divisional Canal Officer, and the Subdivisional Canal Officer or Divisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the orders of the Superintending Canal Officer, who shall exercise a general control over the proceedings of all Canal Officers.

4. In appeals to the Collector under section 91 of the Act other than those especially provided for in rule 14, the Collector may require the Superintending Engineer to state his opinion in writing, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings of the case.

ON BLOCKS.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer shall map out the irrigable area into blocks demarcated by suitable boundaries, and in order to equalise the area to be dealt with each year, shall determine the date of expiry of the leases in each block, so that as far as practicable one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease every year.

6. Each block, determined as above, shall be numbered and marked on the maps to be maintained by the Divisional Canal Officer, and shall also be recorded with its irrigable area in the registers to be kept by him.

ON APPLICATIONS.

7. Any person who requires a lease for water must apply to—

- (a) the Sectional Officer, or
- (b) the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

These applications must be made in writing and may be on plain paper.

The person receiving them shall enter on the back any further data required.

ON LEASES AND PERMITS.

8. Ordinarily 5-year leases may be granted for the whole irrigable area of a block, or a definite part of a block, under the following conditions:—

- (i) No lease for less than 10⁰ acres shall be granted.
- (ii) No lease shall be granted when the water must cross unleased lands, unless a suitable village channel exists.

9. Villages which apply for a lease less than five years in advance of the date of expiry fixed under rule 5 will only be granted leases for the remaining years of the term fixed for the block in which they are situated, so that all the leases within the same block may expire on the same date. These leases will be granted under the same conditions as 5-year leases.

10. The Divisional Canal Officer shall issue permits for long leases to the lessees through the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

When water is urgently required, the Subdivisional Canal Officer may grant a season lease which will be cancelled if the long lease is subsequently concluded. The Subdivisional Canal Officer may also issue season leases under rule 13 (III and IV).

When a lease is granted an agreement shall be taken in forms given in Appendices I and III, and a "permit" shall be given to the lessee or lessees in the forms given in Appendices II and IV.

11. Water for filling tanks may be supplied when available for cash paid in advance; the water taken into the tank may be used for irrigation or any other purpose (Forms of application and permit are given in Appendices V and VI).

12. Water may be supplied by measurement through a permanent outlet, when the working level of the water in the distributary can be kept fairly constant.

ON WATER-RATES.

13. The following rates will be charged for water, whether taken by lift or flow :—

	Rs.	A.
I.—Long leases, 16th June to 15th November	...	1 0	per acre.
II.—Season leases, 16th „ to 15th	...	1 8	„
III.— Ditto, 16th November to 28th February	...	0 8	„
IV.— Ditto, 1st March to 15th June	...	2 0	„
V.—Water supplied to tanks	...	1 0	per 10,000 c. ft.

ON DEMAND STATEMENTS.

14. The statement of the amounts due for the water-rates leviable under these rules shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall, from time to time, be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor. A parcha showing the area and amount assessed against each cultivator shall be sent to him through the cultivator's representative when the demand statement is sent to the Collector for realising the amounts. Persons charged under rule 24 shall be served, by post or otherwise, with a statement showing the amounts charged to enable them to lodge an appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Act if they desire to do so.

15. The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (I and II) shall be payable in two equal instalments, falling due respectively on the 1st January and 1st February following, but all sums of Rs 10 and under shall become due on the 1st January and be payable in one instalment.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (III) shall fall due on the 1st April following.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (IV) shall fall due on the 1st July following.

The rates for water to be supplied under rule 13 (V) shall be payable before water is supplied.

16. Water-rates imposed under rule 24 shall fall due as soon as the assessment is made and shall be realised at once.

ON REMISSIONS.

17. Remission of water-rates, either in whole or in part, shall be granted as follows :—

- (i) By the Divisional Canal Officer for errors in assessment of rates.
- (ii) By the Divisional Canal Officer for injury to a crop on a leased area caused by a deficiency in the supply of water.

A written application must be made at least 20 days before the crop is cut.

18. Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

The Divisional Canal Officer may disallow this free irrigation, and recover the rates, in whole or in part, from the jait raiyat or gumashta or other representative, if the assistance, specified in rule 22; has not been efficiently rendered to the satisfaction of the local officers. The reasons for such disallowance are to be recorded in the list of cultivators' representatives maintained by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

ON UNAUTHORISED IRRIGATION.

24. For the unauthorised use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre shall be charged: this rate may, however, be reduced at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer.

25. ESTABLISHMENT OF RURAL PRIMARY SCHOOLS IN BENGAL.

GENERAL DEPARTMENT—EDUCATION.

RESOLUTION—No. 658.

READ—

The Resolution of this Government No. 1, dated the 1st January 1901.

Paragraphs 21 and 41 of the Resolution on Indian Educational Policy issued by the Governor-General in Council on the 11th March 1904.

THE Lieutenant-Governor has lately had under his consideration the suitability of the courses of instruction followed in primary schools in rural areas in Bengal and of the courses of training given to the teachers of such schools, with special reference to the views expressed on these subjects in paragraphs 21 and 41 respectively of the Resolution on Indian Educational Policy issued by the Governor-General in Council on the 11th March 1904.

2. The suitability of the courses followed in primary schools in this Province was considered in the years 1899 to 1901, with particular regard to the needs of the agricultural population; and the courses as then existing were revised so as to make them considerably simpler than they had previously been. No attempt was made however at that time to differentiate the teaching in primary schools in purely rural areas from that given in similar schools in urban areas or in large villages where there are many educated people; nor was any special course of training for the teachers of such schools devised.

Mr. A. Pedler, F.R.S., C.I.E., Director of Public Instruction, Chairman.

The Hon'ble Mr. K. G. Gupta, Member of the Board of Revenue.

Mr. H. Luson, Commissioner of the Chittagong Division.

Mr. S. L. Maddox, Director of Land Records and Agriculture.

The Hon'ble Mr. A. Earle, Secretary to the Government of Bengal, General Department, Secretary.

The Lieutenant-Governor has had these questions investigated by a committee consisting of the marginally-noted officers; and the results of the deliberations of this committee are set forth in the following paragraphs.

3. The Committee observe that it is desirable in the first place to take cognisance of the very great differences between the conditions, in respect of primary education, of Bengal and other Provinces of India. This procedure will, they remark, make it easier to form a correct judgment as regards the questions under discussion. In Bengal there are over 44,000 lower primary schools and about 5,000 upper primary schools; whereas in the Central Provinces the total number of primary schools is only about 2,100. In Bengal 30 per cent. of boys of a school-going age are actually at primary schools, whereas in the Central Provinces the percentage is 15 only. In Bombay the expenditure incurred on schools of this class is three times as great as that incurred on similar schools in Bengal, although the number of schools maintained in the former Province is considerably less. In Bombay and the Central Provinces the teachers receive far higher pay than they do in Bengal. The dissimilarity of conditions in Bengal and the Central Provinces is seen in a striking light when it is stated that the total number of primary schools in the Central Provinces is less than half the number of such schools in the Midnapore district alone.

4. There is a marked contrast in many respects between the departmental Board schools in Bombay, the United Provinces, the Punjab and the Central Provinces and the privately managed indigenous village pathsalas in Bengal. In those Provinces primary schools have been created and developed by Government on the departmental system; whilst Bengal, Madras and Assam have all along operated through the agency of grants-in-aid made to existing indigenous schools. The privately managed schools of Bengal represent nearly one-half of the total number of boys' primary schools in the whole of India, (vide paragraph 452 of the last Quinquennial Review of Education in India). Their main feature is their extraordinary cheapness, the cost per pupil being Rs. 2-7 a year, which is the lowest figure returned by any Province; Rs. 6-4 being, for example, the cost per pupil in Bombay. There is a much greater demand for secondary education in Bengal than in the Central Provinces; and a larger proportion of boys reading in primary schools in this Province aim at carrying their education beyond the primary stage. The existing provision for primary education in Bengal, however, barely touches the needs of the vast agricultural population, neither the courses nor the hours of instruction being suited to their requirements. It is hoped that, if the courses are simplified and shortened, there will be a large accession of scholars of this class.

5. The Committee quote the following passage which occurs in paragraph 21 of the Resolution on Indian Educational Policy of the 11th March 1904:—
“The aim of rural schools should be, not to impart definite agricultural teaching, but to give to the children a preliminary training which will make them intelligent cultivators, will train them to be observers, thinkers and experimenters in however humble a manner, and will protect them in their business transactions with the landlords to whom they pay rent and the grain-dealers to whom they dispose of their crops. The reading books prescribed should be written in simple language, not in unfamiliar literary style, and should deal with topics associated with rural life. The grammar taught should be elementary and only native systems of arithmetic should be used. The village map should be thoroughly understood; and a most useful course of instruction may be given in the accounts papers, enabling every boy before leaving school to master the intricacies of the village accounts and to understand the demands that may be made upon the cultivator. The Government of India regard it as a matter of the greatest importance to provide a simple, suitable and useful style of school for the agriculturist, and to foster the demand for it among the population." With regard to these remarks, the Committee find that the principal points in respect of which the rural schools in Bengal are at present deficient are—

- (1) the courses of instruction are too long, too advanced and too diversified; and
- (2) the prescribed text-books are not written in simple language commonly used by the people.

6. As regards the measures which can, in their opinion, be taken in this Province in order to simplify the courses of instruction in these schools, the Committee observe that there would be very great difficulty in combining half-time with whole-time instruction in the same schools according to the system followed in the Central Provinces. A reference to the Appendix at page 163 of Mr. Sharp's Report on Rural Schools in the Central Provinces will show that there are in all four classes in the primary schools in those Provinces; that the courses of instruction in those schools are the same for all boys up to the second class; and that it is only in the two highest classes that additional instruction is given to full-time scholars. Class III represents the end of the lower primary course, while Class IV represents the upper primary standard. The arrangements in force in those Provinces as regards half-time instruction, though feasible there because the number of half-time scholars is large and the number of full-time scholars inconsiderable, would be impracticable in many parts of Bengal, where a large proportion of the boys would have to be taught whole-time from the commencement of their studies. In the year 1901, the Government of India recommended the opening of separate schools for agriculturists as a comparatively cheap means of conducting a simple form of education; and in Bombay this system has been in force for some years, and now appears to be making progress vide paragraph 609 of the last Quinquennial Review of Education in India). It appears from paragraph 21 of the Resolution on Indian Educational Policy of the 11th March 1904 and paragraph 519 of the last Quinquennial Review of Education in India that the half-time "zamindari" schools which were established in the Punjab have proved a failure. The schools were unpopular and failed to maintain a position by the side of the whole-time schools. The half-time rule was frequently infringed, native arithmetic was universally neglected, and the lessons in the agricultural readers were not practically illustrated by visits to the field. The Lieutenant-Governor of the Punjab has, therefore, recently decided to establish a "uniform scheme of schools in rural tracts as distinguished from urban schools, which will not be so ambitious as the present scheme for primary schools and will retain the useful features of the zamindari scheme." A very similar system has recently been introduced in Assam by the Chief Commissioner. The Committee consider that for Bengal also this will be the only practicable arrangement.

facilities for the conversion of existing lower primary schools into upper primary schools wherever the demand for a higher class of primary education appears to be established. It is hoped that while in this way the agricultural classes in purely rural areas will in future secure a system of education which is suited to them, and the number of scholars from such classes will be largely increased, further facilities for more advanced learning will be made available for the classes who wish that their sons should proceed beyond the lower primary stage. The scheme thus briefly outlined is discussed in detail in the ensuing paragraphs.

8. The fixing of the exact hours during which the classes in the proposed rural primary schools should be held will be arranged according to the convenience of the villagers and the seasons of the year. The usual hours kept in primary schools in Bengal are from 6 to 9 in the morning and again from 2 to 5 in the afternoon. The people are accustomed to afternoon hours, and it may still be found convenient to give part of the instruction at that time. The courses of instruction will be shortened, but the number of hours of instruction will be not less than three. Instruction will be given all in the morning, or partly in the morning and partly in the afternoon, according to the convenience of the villagers and the seasons of the year. According to present practice, schools will be closed at seasons when the children are required to assist their parents in cultivating or harvesting, or when the monsoon rains make attendance difficult or impossible, holidays being given whenever an important festival occurs.

9. The Committee are of opinion that there should be only one Infant Class in the proposed rural primary schools. No minimum age should be prescribed; but a child who is over 7 years of age, coming to school for the first time, should be placed in Class I, instead of in the Infant Class. Above the Infant Class there should be only three classes, through each of which it should ordinarily take a pupil one year to pass. It is proposed that the curricula for the Infant Class and the three classes above the Infant Class should be on the following lines:—

A.—Curriculum for the Infant Class.

I. To form with any kind of seed, and afterwards to copy in sand or on the ground—

- (a) numbers up to 100 and the multiplication tables up to 10×10 ;
- (b) the letters of the alphabet and simple words;
- (c) simple geometrical shapes; and
- (d) simple examples of addition and subtraction.

II. To recognize—

- (a) simple forms shewn by means of models made of wood, etc.;
- (b) colours shewn by means of flowers, etc.;
- (c) familiar objects, taught from the actual objects or from pictures of them;
- (d) familiar animals; and
- (e) familiar flowers, plants, etc.

III. To comprehend and remember simple stories.

IV. To sing nursery rhymes and simple household songs.

V. Infant drill, exercises and games.

VI. Children's easy occupations, such as seed-placing in its various applications (in addition to those mentioned in clause I above) and stick-laying. Kindergarten gifts may be used where such are used by the school authorities.

B.—Curricula for Classes I, II and III.

10. In paragraph 5 above it has been stated that the prescribed text books at present in use in Lower Primary Schools in this Province are not written in simple language commonly used by the people. They are, for the most part, written in more or less Sanskritised language, with not a few scientific terms which are not understood by the villagers. The Committee recommend that a special Committee of expert officers should be formed to prepare model text books for the proposed schools for the sons of agriculturists; and that in preparing these text books the Committee in question should examine carefully the primers used in Bombay, the Central Provinces, the Punjab, Assam and elsewhere. The text books will in the first place be prepared in English. When they have been approved by Government, suitable persons will be selected by the Director of Public Instruction, in consultation with Commissioners of Divisions and Inspectors of Schools, for the purpose of translating them into the local vernaculars. The translations made by them will be approved by the Director after reference to such experts as he may deem it necessary to consult.

11. The Committee consider it to be a matter of great importance that the translations from the model English text-books should be prepared in a sufficient number of local vernaculars. For instance, in Bihar the translations should, they consider, be made in at least three dialects, viz., Tirhutia, Bhojpuri and Magadhi or Maithali; while in Bengal they should be translated into Northern, Eastern and Central and Western Bengali at least.

12. In paragraph 7 above it has been stated that considerable facilities will be provided for the conversion of existing lower primary schools into upper primary schools wherever the demand for a higher class of education appears to be established. When a lower primary school is converted into an upper primary one, an additional teacher has to be appointed; and this strengthening of the staff necessarily involves additional expense. The Committee propose that the option of converting a lower primary school into an upper primary one should be allowed whenever the local residents are willing to incur their share of the necessary additional expense. When a lower primary school is thus converted into an upper primary one, the newly formed upper primary school will be allowed an increased grant from public funds according to the existing rules for grants-in-aid. The cost of a lower primary teacher is about Rs. 6, whereas the cost of an upper primary teacher is about Rs. 15 a month. Of the Rs. 6 paid to a lower primary teacher, Government pays Rs. 2 and the residents Rs. 4; while of the Rs. 15 paid to an upper primary teacher, the residents pay Rs. 9 and the Government pays Rs. 6. The increased cost to Government will therefore be Rs. 4 a month, or Rs. 50 a year, roughly, for each school so converted. It is hoped that within five years the existing number of upper primary schools (5,000) will be at least doubled. The additional expenditure which will therefore devolve upon Government at the end of that period will be Rs. 2,50,000 a year.

13. The next matter discussed by the Committee was whether the courses prescribed for guru training schools require modification in view of the proposals which they have made in regard to rural primary schools. On this subject they refer to the following passage which occurs in paragraph 41 of the Resolution on Indian Educational Policy of the 11th March 1904:—"Steps are also being taken to supply courses of training specially suited for teachers of rural schools. These do not attempt the impossible task of reforming the agricultural practice of the peasantry by the agency of village school-masters imbued with a smattering of scientific theory. They serve the more limited and practical purpose of supplying the village schools with teachers whose stock-in-trade is not mere book learning, and whose interests have been aroused in the study of rural things, so that they may be able to connect their teaching with the objects which are familiar to the children in the country schools." Just as it is proposed to distinguish between the courses for primary schools for agriculturists and those required for urban areas and places in which agriculturists do not predominate or in which there are a large number of educated people, so it is necessary, in the opinion of the Committee, to make a corresponding distinction in respect of the training of the persons destined to teach those who will adopt agriculture as their means of subsistence.

14. In the first place the Committee consider that the training of teachers for these elementary schools should not, for the present at any rate, occupy more than one year. The scheme of studies in guru training schools as now sanctioned contemplates a training for a period of two years. The Committee consider that if the curricula set forth in paragraph 9 are adopted in respect of rural schools, a course of training for one year will for some time to come suffice for the teachers of these schools, provided that a thoroughly efficient teaching staff is appointed, as recommended in paragraph 17. A great advantage to be gained by this modification of existing orders will be that double the number of trained teachers will be secured within any given period. Hitherto, partly owing to want of funds, and partly to lack of head-pandits trained in first grade training schools to take charge of the guru training schools, the number of teachers turned out for lower primary schools has been a mere fraction of the number that is actually required. Hereafter, if the number of trained teachers is largely increased, it may perhaps be possible to revert to the present system of giving a course of studies for two years.

15. The scheme of studies which the Committee recommend for the training of teachers in rural schools is as follows:—

General Knowledge.

As in Standard III of a vernacular school, or as much as possible of the upper primary course. {

1. Elementary Bengali, Hindi, Urdu or Uriya literature.
2. Ditto ditto ditto Grammar and composition.
3. Ditto ditto ditto Historical and Geographical Readers.

As in Standard III of a vernacular school, or as much as possible of the upper primary course. {

4. Arithmetic.
5. Writing.
6. Practical object-lessons for infant classes.
7. Agricultural Reader.
8. Drawing (free-hand and geometrical).
9. Practical geometry and mensuration
10. Manual training.
11. School drill.
12. District maps, and, where there has been a cadastral survey, village maps.
13. Where there has been a cadastral survey, khatians and khassans and the village note.
14. Samples of zamindari accounts, zamindari receipts, and pottahs and kabuliyats .
15. Letter-writing and deeds.
16. School gardening.

Art of Teaching.

|----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| 17. Junior Teachers' Manual (practical portion). |
| 18. Practical teaching of infant stages, with special reference to practical object-lessons. |

16. The above scheme of studies generally follows that in force at the present time for the training of teachers in lower primary schools; but certain modifications have been made with the object of simplifying the course. Only one new subject has been added, viz., the "Agricultural Reader." The preparation of this text-book will be entrusted to the Director of Public Instruction and the Director of Land Records and Agriculture. It will be in three parts, the first part being adapted for teachers in rural primary schools, the second for teachers in ordinary lower primary, upper primary and middle schools and the third for first grade training schools. This book will be translated into the principal vernaculars in their literary form.

17. The Committee consider it imperative that additional training schools for teachers in rural primary schools should be established without delay, and that the teaching staff to be employed in the training schools should be thoroughly efficient. How great are the needs of Bengal in respect of trained teachers is clearly seen when it is stated that the percentage of such teachers in primary schools in this Province is 4.1 only, as against 23.4 in Madras, 34.1 in Bombay, 39.2 in the United Provinces and 48.3 in the Punjab. It is proposed therefore to open special training schools for the teachers of rural primary schools; and it is considered necessary to open as soon as practicable 70 such schools, each capable of turning out 40 teachers a year. The headmaster in charge of each such school will be a person who has undergone a three years' course at an agricultural college, and his salary will be Rs. 40 rising to Rs. 50. The second master will be a person who has been trained in a first grade training school, and his salary will be Rs. 20 rising to Rs. 25. The cost of each such school will be approximately Rs. 3,960 a year in respect of recurring expenditure and Rs. 1,450 in respect of initial expenditure. The total recurring expenditure will, therefore, be Rs. 2,77,200, and the total initial expenditure will be Rs. 1,01,500. Even at this rate it will take nearly sixteen years to provide Bengal with trained teachers for all the rural primary schools.

18. The Committee consider that the only change required in respect of the prescribed course of studies for first grade training schools, as given at pages 203 to 206 of Rules and Orders of the Education Department, Bengal, is that the third part of the proposed Agricultural Reader (vide paragraph 16) should be prescribed in addition to the existing course. These schools will, as indicated in the last paragraph, supply junior masters for the training schools for teachers in rural primary schools; and it is desirable, therefore, that a certain amount of agricultural knowledge should be imparted at them.

19. At the same time as the action indicated in the last six paragraphs is taken in respect of training schools for teachers in rural primary schools, the existing guru training schools, which will continue to supply teachers for primary schools in non-rural areas, will be reorganised. At present there are about 135 such schools, viz., one for each subdivision. It is proposed to reduce the number of these schools so as to secure greater efficiency as regards the staff and the teaching, but at the same time to arrange so that the same number of the teachers are trained as at present. Under the present system 135 schools turn out 675 teachers a year. In future the same number of teachers will be trained; but the schools will be fewer, each having more pupils; and the training given will be of a much higher character, the salary of the teaching staff being raised to the same scale as that suggested for training schools for teachers in rural primary schools.

20. The Committee consider that gardens should be attached to all first grade training schools, and, wherever practicable, to guru training schools. They observe that the Director of Public Instruction and the Director of Land Records and Agriculture have already been addressed by Government as regards the question of attaching gardens to the first-named class of training schools.

21. The total cost of the scheme recommended by the Committee is approximately as follows:—

	Rs.
(1) For the conversion of lower primary into upper primary schools (paragraph 12 of this Resolution)— Rs 50,000 a year rising to Rs. 2,50,000, or say ...	2,50,000
(2) For the establishment of guru training schools (paragraph 17 of the Resolution) ...	2,77,200
with an initial expenditure of ...	1,01,500
(3) For the preparation of text-books (paragraphs 10, 11 and 16) say ...	10,000

The recurring expenditure will, therefore, be Rs. 3,27,200, rising in five years to Rs. 5,27,200, while the non-recurring charges will amount to Rs. 1,11,500.

22. The Lieutenant-Governor wishes to consult the public before taking action on the proposals of the Committee. He requests therefore that any person who may desire to do so will submit to Government on or before the 15th March 1905 any criticisms which he may have to make in regard to the scheme. It is proposed that the scheme should be introduced with effect from the 1st January 1906.

The question of remodelling the lines on which vernacular education in the Indian Empire has hitherto been based has, for a considerable time, been exercising the attention of both the Imperial and Local Governments. The following short history of the question was given in the annexed Resolution of this Government No. 1921, dated the 1st July 1899 :—

It was particularly in its relation to agriculture that this question engaged the attention of the fifth meeting of the Agricultural Conference held in the Department of Revenue and Agriculture at Simla on the 6th October 1893. After considering the recommendations made by Dr. Voelcker in paragraphs 527 and 528 of his report on the improvement of Indian Agriculture, the following Resolutions were passed :—

Resolution I.—That in considering the question of agricultural education and progress the Conference desire to express the opinion that it is most desirable to extend primary education among the agricultural classes.

Resolution II.—That, as a general rule, instruction in agriculture should be combined with the existing course of education, and not depend exclusively on separate special institutions.

Resolution III.—That it is most desirable that the Universities should recognise the Science of Agriculture as an optional subject in the course for a degree.

Resolution IX.—That, in the opinion of the Conference, education in the lower schools should be of such a principal character as to fit the pupils for technical pursuits including agriculture, as well as for literary and commercial pursuits.

Resolution X.—That the text-books used in schools should be written in the simplest language ordinarily understood by the people, and should be descriptive of subjects with which they are familiar; also that the use of pictorial lesson charts illustrating familiar objects should be encouraged.

Resolution XI.—That the system of training in normal schools should be adapted to qualify school-teachers to give instruction of the character indicated in Resolution VIII.

Resolution XII.—That in each Province a Committee, in which agricultural officers should be included, should be convened at an early date for the consideration of the questions raised in the preceding resolutions.

The Governor-General in Council, after considering the recommendation of the Conference, and after correspondence with the Secretary of State, determined, before enunciating finally the principles or policy to be adopted to give Local Governments the opportunity of fully examining the various subjects dealt with by the Conference, and with a view to affording them every facility in their investigation, deputed Sir Edward Buck to attend a series of Provincial Conferences and explain the various issues under discussion and the different methods proposed or adopted in other provinces. It was explained that the Government of India believed that "greater success was to be expected from making instruction in the rudiments of agriculture part and parcel of the primary system of instruction in the country than from teaching it as a subject apart from the general educational programme, and that such general enlightenment and intellectual expansion of the agricultural classes as would enable them to perceive for themselves the small reforms which are within their means and opportunities would be more likely to produce substantial results than special instruction in particular agricultural processes." It followed therefore that the educational question which was given to each Province to answer was not merely how to adapt education to the training of agriculturists, but how the plan of instruction should be so fashioned as to promote in the pupils the power of assimilating easily any kind of technical instruction.

2. This phase of the question was discussed at the meeting of the Bengal Provincial Conference held on the 6th of January 1896, and it was suggested that the course of science in primary and middle schools should be reconsidered and so graduated as to include at different stages branches of the elements of agriculture, care being taken to exclude words or ideas of which the pupils could have no understanding. Effect was to be given to this resolution by arranging for the introduction of a compulsory course of Elementary Science, illustrated as far as practicable by object-lessons and the Director of Public Instruction was asked to report how he proposed to give effect to these suggestions. This he did in August 1897, and in March 1898 a stimulus to the establishment of agricultural education was given by the opening of the Agricultural classes at the Sibpur Engineering College. This was, however, only a scheme for a "Higher Agricultural Education" and still left out of account the objects of the original scheme, the pupils of the vernacular schools; and in August 1898 the Lieutenant-Governor called for proposals of a wider nature aimed at a change in the system of vernacular education by the adoption of methods designed rather to develop the minds of the boys than to practice and strengthen their memories. After indicating the points for consideration, he referred the matter for careful discussion and report to a small Committee of educational experts whose names are given in the margin.

3. The Committee submitted a careful and thorough report in April 1899. The full text of it was published in July 1899, and for convenience a copy of it is an annexure to the present Resolution. The Committee came to the introduction that the aims of the Government could only be fulfilled by the conclusion of the methods originally put forward by Froebel and now known under the name of Kindergarten training. Under that system children are trained and not taught in the ordinary acceptation of the word. They are so trained as to do and learn things of themselves. They are encouraged to feel that each one possesses a certain amount of innate intelligence and initiative, the gradual development of which depends on the child himself and his personal activity. They are led to see that eyes, ears and hands all help in the acquiring of knowledge, and these are the channels through which under that system all first knowledge is acquired. Closely allied with the methods of Kindergarten teaching is the so-called object-lesson teaching; and it was the opinion of the Committee that object-lessons must be insisted on if habits of observation are to be fostered, and that they should be made a means for mental exercise and not merely a method of imparting miscellaneous or even valuable information. The Committee remarked that Kindergarten training may be an expensive and elaborate form of education, and that the "Gifts of Froebel," the appliances with which the system is ordinarily carried out in European schools, were beyond the means of Indian schools. They asserted, however, that a form of Kindergarten could be devised for India, which would be suitable to the circumstances and local conditions of the pupils, and which would yet entail little or no expenditure. They advised that the principles they recommended should be worked out on more or less new lines with the use of objects already to be found in almost every primary school. They proposed that the first years of a child's life, from about 5 to 7, should be devoted almost entirely to training the senses and powers of observation. Then would begin the strengthening and development of the memory and reasoning powers. They were of opinion that object-lessons should be a prominent part of the teaching of all classes up to and including the lower primary stage, and that the various subjects taught up to the upper primary stage should be treated as far as possible as object-lessons. Guided by these views, the Committee prepared a syllabus, which is given in detail in the annexed report. Briefly, it was proposed that free-hand drawing and drill should run through the whole course. Manual training for boys should begin in the A class of the lower primary, while needlework for girls should begin in class B of the lower primary. A simple reading course was arranged as follows:—For boys in town schools, some elementary notions of the simplest facts and principles of Botany, Natural History, Hygiene, Physical Science, and Chemistry; for boys in country schools, a similar course, only with agriculture substituted for Physical Science and Chemistry; for girls in both town and country, a similar course of Botany, Natural History, and Domestic Economy only; the readers were to be written in the most simple and comprehensible language, and to be illustrated and explained as far as possible by means of object-lessons. In the Writing course the forms of simple documents which are commonly used by raiyats were to be introduced as exercises. Mensuration was to include a course of simple practical Geometry. In the two highest standards Euclid was introduced as an alternative, instead of as at present a compulsory subject. Under the head of Literature and Poetry, the subject of moral training was to be considered in the selection of pieces.

4. The Committee observed that there were three necessary preliminaries to the introduction of their scheme. First, the immediate introduction of instruction in the new methods into training schools, so as to enable them to turn out rapidly teachers qualified to take up school work under the new system. Second, the training of Inspecting Pandits, Sub-Inspectors, and Deputy Inspectors of Schools, who would have to be familiarised with the new methods. Third, the preparation of manuals for the teachers and text-books for the pupils. They considered that a period of two and-a-half years should be allowed to elapse from the date of publication of the syllabus for schools to adapt themselves to the altered requirements, and they recommended that their new system should be introduced throughout the Province, and not by any partial or local method.

5. The changes recommended by this Committee were of the most vital importance to the interests of education in Bengal. The Lieutenant-Governor therefore published their report for general information, and invited any who might desire to do so to submit criticisms on the proposals. The call was widely responded to. Numerous representations from public bodies were received by Government, and the newspapers commented at length on the Committee's scheme. The criticisms on the whole were not by any means unfavourable. Those that disparaged the scheme were very often based on a misconception of the proposals. Thus, for instance, it was distinctly laid down in the original syllabus that Arithmetic was to be taught as at present, and that both European and Native systems were to be included. Much, however, of the adverse criticism was based on the supposition that instruction in zamindari and mahajani accounts was to be abolished.

Another mistaken conception on which some of the criticisms were based was that the proposed scheme was meant to give scientific and technical education of a character suited to the agricultural classes only. But the Committee expressly declared their intention to give into the hands of pupils lesson-books on subjects with which they have to do every day of their lives, instead of on matters altogether foreign to their experience, and thus to help in cultivating their faculties of observation and making their education more real than it is at present.

A third objection was based on the contention that the proposed scheme aimed at teaching too many subjects, whereas in effect the subjects intended to be taught are Reading, Writing, and Arithmetic, as before, with drill and drawing added, the burden on students being sensibly reduced chiefly as regards the quantity of book work.

This proposed reduction has led very many of the critics to assume that the scheme will discourage the growth of vernacular literature, and they insisted again and again on the importance of literature, on the value of it in helping the development of the emotions, and the neglect of it in the proposed scheme. Indeed, it was said that this neglect would affect the prospects of Bengali literature. The obvious reply to remarks of this nature is that a literature cannot be called into existence by the prospect of books being selected for primary examinations; nor can vernacular literary works of the highest merit be prescribed for elementary schools, since the children would be unable to understand them.

6. The former Committee was reconstituted to consider these reviews and representations, and they altogether held 15 meetings since the 3rd of January 1900. The results arrived at by the Director of Public Instruction and the Committee with regard to the original proposals, as viewed in the light of the criticisms given, will be found in the Director of Public Instruction's report No. 3126, dated 8th May 1900, which is also published as an annexure to this Resolution.

7. After considering the opinions which the public had expressed in answer to the invitation of Government on the scheme suggested, the Committee, in their second report, intimated that in their opinion the original proposals might be modified in the following manner:—

- (1) A Literature book should be prescribed for the upper primary course.
- (2) The course in Grammar for the upper primary and middle vernacular standards should be extended.
- (3) The amount of History and Geography, to be taught in the upper primary and middle vernacular standards should be increased, and separate books for Geography and History were recommended.
- (4) Bamboo-work and basket-weaving should be omitted from the manual training course, and manual training should be made optional.
- (5) The Writing course should be extended up to the last (that is the sixth) standard in the revised scheme, and it would be thus practicable to prescribe the writing of more vernacular documents and accounts than was originally contemplated.

They admitted the danger of accentuating the already existing tendency on the part of parents to send their children to high schools or other English schools at the very commencement of their school-life, and recommended, in supplement of their original proposals, certain measures to check this tendency and to give that prominence to vernacular education which ought to obtain in the early training of Indian boys. They also recommended that a certain elasticity should be allowed at first in the manner of teaching the proposed course.

8. The Committee were not, however, disposed to modify the views they had expressed with regard to the principles on which the system of vernacular education should be based. They declined to abandon the principles of the Kindergarten system. It was, they said, now universally recognised as the best for infant education, and as teaching by object-lessons is only an extension of the same system, the whole scheme they had recommended for the vernacular schools was really based on it.

As to whether the scheme should be tried tentatively or not in the first instance, the Committee were of the opinion, as before, that it should at the outset be brought into action throughout the whole Province.

9. The Committee in their first report had quoted the successful introduction of a somewhat similar scheme in the Central Provinces. It was admitted, however, that manual training had been lately and deliberately excluded from the course there, and the Lieutenant-Governor considered that the brief reference in the Committee's second report to the action of the Central Provinces Government in subsequently abandoning the Kindergarten system in rural schools was a most inadequate notice of a very important experience. It seemed to him that the Committee must justify their proposal by a much more detailed statement and explanation of them, and he desired the Director to answer the following questions:—

- (1) How far the Committee's proposal varied from the system which was tried in the Central Provinces and to a certain extent subsequently abandoned; what reasons there were for anticipating a different result for the proposed plan in Bengal and how far the proposals received support from any experience in other Provinces.
- (2) Whether the new system should be introduced simultaneously into (a) all primary and middle schools over the whole Province, or (b) into selected areas, or (c) into selected schools.
- (3) Whether the new syllabus should be introduced into the lower classes of high schools which correspond to the corresponding classes of middle and primary schools.

10. On the first question, the Director of Public Instruction has furnished an explanation in his letter No. 2223T., dated 17th October 1900, which forms an annexure to this Resolution. He has explained that in the Central Provinces the Kindergarten system has been given up only in rural schools, and in them mainly for two reasons; first, because it has been decided to have in country schools a half-day system, instead of the whole-day course, and second, because the expense was found to be intolerable of the stereotyped and costly European "Froebel's Gifts." The fact that these gifts are quite foreign to an Indian child's experience and that the pupil ordinarily could not handle the gifts and so actually engage in the object-lesson rendered success in this particular experiment in Kindergarten a great difficulty, and almost invited its failure. The Central Provinces system must be modified in the future if it is to become a success, and must be made to suit Indian pupils and Indian circumstances and also be made of such a kind that its cost enables every pupil to take part in the exercise. It is open to very grave doubt, he said, whether the gifts of coloured worsted balls, wooden cubes, etc., which may and do appeal to European children, will appeal equally to Indian children, and hence when the Committee considered the question of the introduction of Kindergarten they very rightly discarded "Froebel's Gifts" altogether, and while accepting Froebel's principles, they attempted to work out the application of his principles by the use of purely indigenous materials, and of such a kind that every child can provide its own gifts to illustrate the principles of teaching.

Hence the withdrawal of the Kindergarten system from the rural schools in the Central Provinces cannot, in the Director's opinion, be taken to represent at all a failure of Kindergarten principles in Indian schools, but it really represents only the want of success of a particular (and for India, a mistaken) form of the application of the principles.

The system proposed by the Committee does not follow at all in the train of the Central Provinces system. They proposed, as the Director explains, to depart entirely from the stereotyped European system, and to introduce simple exercises, which can be made with pieces of string, paper, leaves, coloured cloths, and objects of everyday life, such as a piece of wood, a box, a stool or chair, a table or a school desk, simple lessons about plants. No expensive "gifts" are to be given which children would find to be quite outside their ordinary lives and experiences; but objects found in every school-house and in every village are to be selected and used in the school, and the various faculties of observation, reasoning, descriptive powers, etc., are to be exercised and practised on these familiar objects. School work will therefore be really a developed part of their every-day life, while habits of accuracy and obedience will be inculcated by the process of stick-laying and simple physical exercises and action songs. In the great majority of the subjects in which instruction is to be given, everything which is treated of almost forms an integral part of every-day life in the town or country, as the case may be.

It is not expected that the teachers will, all at once, teach the new subjects well. It is almost certain they will teach them badly, but what is contended is that the teaching cannot be worse than the present entirely mechanical system of training the memory whereby all the other faculties are dulled at the expense of monotonous parrot-like exercises. It is urged that bad teaching with a good educational system will produce better results than bad teaching with a bad and unsound system. Hence the change is considered necessary notwithstanding the grave difficulties which will have to be faced.

The lesson thus given by the Central Provinces is that the failure there was merely the failure of a particular form of practice, and that to be a success in this country the system must be made to suit Indian pupils and Indian circumstances and of such a kind that its cost will enable every pupil to take part in the exercises. All of this the Director has shown can be effected without in any way changing the principles of the system. That such is the case will appear from the references given by the Director as to what is now being done with much success in Madras and Burma, where the practice followed is one suitable to Indian life and circumstances; more especially so in the case of Madras, the authorities of which Province have entirely discarded the uses of the European forms of Froebel's Gifts.

The Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that the Director and his Committee have successfully established their case. He believes with him that the Kindergarten plan is the best and truest method of training and developing the intelligence of children, and experience elsewhere confirms the opinion that when the plan is adapted in its form to the circumstances and conditions of the country, it meets with perfect success. He accepts the recommendation of the Committee on this point in principle.

11. As regards the second point, of the three courses possible the first is the one advocated by the Committee in its reports. It is, however, evident that there are very serious difficulties involved in this proposal. To introduce the system simultaneously throughout the Province, it would be necessary to attempt to specially train all the primary and middle school teachers in Bengal numbering some 50,000 at the least, some of whom (i.e., those who are in charge of good schools) are fairly intelligent and able, while others are of a very inferior type, such as the gurus who start the so-called season pathshalas. The task of training such an enormous number of teachers would be colossal, and it is feared that the difficulties which might arise in this matter would militate against the success of the scheme and might give rise to doubts as to the soundness of the scheme itself.

In the case of the second plan, limiting the introduction of the scheme to a selected area, the difficulties to be met are of a precisely similar nature to those just described, though smaller in amount. The main difficulty in this case would be to teach the inferior type of gurus in their new work within the time which it has been proposed to introduce the scheme. Another difficulty would be that of selection of the areas for experiment, and a further slight difficulty might be found in cases where boys migrated from a school in a selected area to another in which the old course of instruction was still maintained.

In the case of the third course, the proposal would be to limit the compulsory introduction of the new scheme to those schools where boys are being actually sent up for competition for scholarships of the middle, upper primary, and lower primary stages, in which classes of schools the gurus are generally experienced and trained men, and to leave the gurus in schools of a lower type, such as season pathshalas, either to continue to teach as now the old system of instruction, or to attempt the new should they wish to do so, or feel they were competent to undertake it. The number of primary schools, upper and lower, is 47,714, of these not more than 16,444, exactly one-third of the whole, compete for scholarships.

The Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that the last is the soundest course. In recently recommending the introduction of reforms of a very similar character into Ireland, the Irish Commissioners were unanimous in considering that the proposed changes "ought to be introduced, not all at once, but gradually and tentatively," beginning with the larger centres. And they based their conclusion on the fact that time would be required to organize the training of teachers of whom those selected for initial instruction would be aided at the outset by the counsel and instruction of expert instructors (page 45 of the appendices to this Resolution). The Lieutenant-Governor is of opinion that these considerations have equal, if not greater, weight in Bengal. It may be hoped that the inducement held out under this third course to the most competent of the gurus to adopt the new system will succeed in providing the best schools with masters willing to learn and more or less able to become themselves efficient teachers under the guidance and instruction of experts. And progress will be facilitated not only by the initial restriction of the numbers to be trained, but also by the circumstance that those who will come under first instruction will be the best of their class. The Director has now finally arrived at the same conclusion, and the Lieutenant-Governor, accepting, as he has, the principle of the proposals, decides that they shall be carried out by this method. The scholarship examinations for the middle and upper and lower primary schools will accordingly be held in the year 1904 and onwards in accordance with the new courses only, the present scholarship courses being abolished from that date. Also in schools sending up candidates to the upper primary and lower primary examinations from that date, examinations corresponding in standard to the present A and B standard examinations will be held in the new course. On the other hand, in all lower primary schools which do not choose to send up pupils in competition for the lower primary scholarship examinations in the present A and B standards will continue to be held. In schools which send up candidates in 1904 and onwards to the middle vernacular, primary, or lower primary scholarship examinations, two examinations will be held for rewards in the standards set forth in the Committee's report in "third year of infant class" and "standard I" in exactly the same way as examinations in the standards B and A which are held at the present time.

12. With reference to the third point, it appears that till within the last few years the lower classes of High English schools were conducted on a vernacular basis, and are now conducted on what is called the English basis. This means that even in the lowest classes of such schools English is almost exclusively used as the medium of instruction for the subjects that are taught in them. In plainer words a child is taught the rudiments of geography and history through English sentences and English explanations before he has mastered English sentences for himself. It is not surprising that this system has been found to be perfectly disastrous to the sound instruction of the pupils in the English which their parents want them to acquire. The excuse for it lay in the belief that a child could not begin English too young, if he was to be a proficient in the language, and that it is a waste of time to teach him rudiments in his vernacular and the higher stage in English. The experience of even a few years has shown this belief to be entirely false. The child gets his instruction from a master of the lowest class; his instruction is a matter of rote and not of intelligence; and his English is of a type from which it never recovers. This most pernicious plan was begun in private schools; it has extended to the Government high schools and aided schools, apparently from the fear that they would lose pupils if they did not follow suit. No proper investigation of the merits of the two systems appears to have preceded the change of basis, and certainly no formal sanction from the Government has ever been given to the system of teaching children in a foreign language from practically the earliest stages of their instruction. The teaching in the lowest classes of high schools through the medium of English was formally considered and formally condemned at a conference of the Inspectors of Schools which sat early this year, and by which a return to the former vernacular basis of instruction in the lower classes of such schools was advocated. In Sir John Woodburn's opinion the conference were altogether in the right. He has himself been greatly struck in visits to these schools by the frequent inability of the scholars to explain in their own language the meaning of what they read. A system which debars young students from an early training in their own vernacular cannot but be wrong. Where instruction is given from the very commencement of a child's attendance at school in a foreign language, the result could only be what it has proved to be—that the pupil learns merely by rote without in most cases obtaining any intelligent grasp of the meaning of what he is being taught; and if education is to be on a sound basis, we must revert without delay to the system from which we have so rapidly and almost unconsciously departed. In all Government high schools the medium of instruction in the lowest classes will hereafter be in the vernacular, and this will be a condition of aid to the aided schools. Over private schools the Government has no control, but the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that they will, in loyalty to their own vernacular, follow the example that has been set to them, and as an encouragement to that end, he directs that students in the lower classes of high and middle schools corresponding in educational standard to similar classes in middle and primary schools shall be allowed to compete for middle and upper primary scholarships on the same terms as students in middle and upper primary schools. There is at present no examination for such scholarships in the lower classes of those schools, and he hopes that this new privilege will form an effective incentive to the adoption of a system which appeals alike to experience and patriotism. The substitution of vernacular for English text-books in the first three lowest classes is probably the first step necessary to the reversion to the old system.

13. Having decided what should be done, the next and far more difficult step is to settle the manner in which effect is to be given to these conclusions. Obviously, the very first matter to be taken in hand is the preparation of manuals for the guidance and use of the teachers in the new system and of readers for the children; the second is the training of the teachers. Details as to the methods to be followed with reference to the preparation and supply of the requisite primers and teachers' manuals will be published presently, but it is to be clearly understood that one of the essential principles to be followed is that the objects required to illustrate the course of instruction must be such as can be obtained locally and at practically a nominal cost. The Lieutenant-Governor is compelled to anticipate that the compilation of these manuals and primers with the care and clearness that is necessary will occupy the better part of a year. In the meantime, the Kurseong Training School (which will commence work in February and for which a Principal of special experience has already arrived from England) will be utilized in the careful instruction in the system of the masters of the nine other training schools of the Province.

As soon as the teachers' manual have been prepared, a copy will, in the first place, be supplied to each member of the inspecting staff (Inspectors, Deputy Inspectors, Sub-Inspectors, Inspecting Pandits, and Circle Pandits), as well as to every vernacular teacher of the manual relating to the class or classes of schools in which he is interested.

A conference will then be held by each Inspector of Schools of all Deputy Inspectors in his circle with the view of discussing the new subjects and methods of instruction, and of dealing with any difficulties which they may have found in the syllabus or in the teachers' manuals.

As soon as the new courses have been started in the training schools at the head-quarters of each Inspector's circle, the Deputy and Sub-Inspectors of the circle will be required to attend at the schools for a period of a month or six weeks to be instructed in the working of the new system.

When each Deputy Inspector or Sub-Inspector of Schools has completed his course of instruction at the training school, he will be required in all his future tours to call together at different centres, whether at thanas or at other convenient places in his subdivision, the Inspecting Pandits and the masters of such middle and primary schools of his beat as have sent up pupils for scholarships, in order to instruct them in the methods of teaching the new courses, and at the same time to explain carefully the character and design of the teachers' manuals.

The Deputy or Sub-Inspector will also, whenever he may visit any of the schools in which the new course has been or is to be adopted, be expected to explain and demonstrate practically to the masters or gurus the nature of the new subjects to be taught, and the proper method of teaching them. The recurrence at intervals of six or eight weeks of the Sub-Inspector's rounds will enable these officers to repeat and amplify their instructions, to ascertain and correct any mistakes or misapprehensions which may have occurred, and to inform themselves generally of the progress which each teacher may have made in dealing with a new system and of his capacity for further improvement. Each Sub-Inspector will have, on the average, 65 schools on the new system under his supervision.

It will also be desirable that the Deputy Inspector of each district should from time to time summon all Sub-Inspectors and Inspecting Pandits under his charge to some convenient centre, where there is a good school, which would be utilized as what might be termed a practising school for the demonstration of methods of instruction in a practical manner. Conferences thus convened might last for two or three weeks.

The Lieutenant-Governor is conscious that the scheme for the training of teachers is imperfect, but it will at least serve as a useful foundation for further developments in the required direction.

14. Sir John Woodburn has so far not made any allusion to the important matter of technical instruction. He wishes it to be distinctly understood that the primary object of giving a more practical turn to the general system of early education is not that of preparing boys for learning any particular trade or profession. The first aim of these reforms is here, as it has been in Europe and now under similar circumstances in Great Britain, to train and improve the intelligence of the young, whatever may be the future occupation of their life. The Irish Commissioners state that in their investigations on the Continent they "enquired particularly whether the literary side of school studies had suffered any loss by the change" and received a uniform assurance in every country "that no such loss had been observed, but that in some cases literary studies had been positively improved by the introduction of the new system, a result accounted for partly by the increased intelligence of the children, partly by the constant change and variety of their occupation, and partly by their increased interest in their work." It is true that the reformed methods will have the effect of giving to those boys who intend either to follow practical professions, such as those of Medicine and Engineering, or to take up as the occupation of their life any of the various trades and handicrafts of the country, a far better preparation than the narrower system hitherto in force. So far this is an immense gain. For, as the Irish Commissioners pointed out, "the present system of primary education is so one-sided in its character that it leaves the pupils quite unprepared for technical education." But, to quote their concluding words, "the system of education modified as we proposed" (and it may be noted that these proposals coincide in principle entirely with those embodied in the present scheme) "would give an all-round training to the faculties of the children and would thus lay a solid foundation for any system of higher education, literary, scientific, or technical, which might afterwards be found suitable to their talents and circumstances." The width of the Commissioners' enquiries gives a special weight to their findings, and the Lieutenant-Governor believes that the results of the system will not be different in Bengal from those which have followed it elsewhere.

ORDER —Ordered that this Resolution, with all the papers read and referred to in the preamble to this Resolution, be published for general information.

Extract from the Government of India's Resolution No. 199-211, dated the 11th March 1904.

PARA. 21. The instruction of the masses in such subjects as will best fit them for their position in life involves some differentiation in the courses for rural schools, especially in connection with the attempts which are being made to connect primary teaching with familiar objects. In Bombay a separate course of instruction, with standards of its own, is prescribed. In the Central Provinces a system of half-time schools has been successfully established, providing simple courses of instruction in the mornings for the children of agriculturists, who work in the fields during the rest of the day. This system seems worthy of imitation elsewhere; at present a similar experiment made in the Punjab has met with less success. The aim of the rural schools should be, not to impart definite agricultural teaching, but to give to the children a preliminary training which will make them intelligent cultivators, will train them to be observers, thinkers, and experimenters in however humble a manner, and will protect them in their business transactions with the landlords to whom they pay rent and the grain dealers to whom they dispose of their crops. The reading books proscribed should be written in simple language, not in unfamiliar literary style, and should deal with topics associated with rural life. The grammar taught should be elementary, and only native systems of arithmetic should be used. The village map should be thoroughly understood; and a most useful course of instruction may be given in the accountant's papers, enabling every boy before leaving school to master the intricacies of the village accounts and to understand the demands that may be made upon the cultivator. The Government of India regard it as a matter of the greatest importance to provide a simple, suitable, and useful type of school for the agriculturist, and to foster the demand for it among the population. This and other reforms in primary schools will involve some revision of the pay of primary teachers which varies greatly, and in some provinces is too small to attract or to retain a satisfactory class of men. Thus in Bengal the rates fall as low as Rs. 5 per month, while the average pay in the Bombay Presidency rises to Rs. 17 and Rs. 18. The matter has been under consideration, and improvements will be made where they are most needed.

• • • • •

PARA. 41. Steps are also being taken to supply courses of training specially suited for teachers of rural schools. These do not attempt the impossible task of reforming the agricultural practice of the peasantry by the agency of village school-masters imbued with a smattering of scientific theory. They serve the more limited and practical purpose of supplying the village schools with teachers whose stock-in-trade is not mere book learning, and whose interests have been aroused in the study of rural things, so that they may be able to connect their teaching with the objects which are familiar to the children in the country schools. Various plans are being tried, such as drafting the teachers from the normal school to a Government farm and training them there for six months, or giving a continuous course at the normal school itself by means of lectures combined with practice in cultivating plots of ground or school-gardens. Experience will show which methods work best in different provinces, and it is not necessary to pronounce in favour of one plan to the exclusion of others.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newmann's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beekley's anemograph. Davis pressure-tube anemometer and the Standard dial anemometer.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

The 4th February 1905.

No. 6.—Notification.—With reference to Notification No 49, dated 1st September 1903, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd September 1903 at page 1157, and in exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 78 and 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal proposes to pass the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Dhaka Canal, with effect from the 1st April 1905.

D. B. HORN,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

1. The revenue administration of the Dhaka Canal is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Gandak Circle. The Divisional Canal Officer is responsible for maintaining the canal in an efficient condition, for the distribution of water to the lessees, and for the closing of the outlets in rotation when required; he is further responsible for the assessment of water-rates.

2. The Collector of the district is responsible for the collection of water-rates.

3. Except as provided in the Act and in these rules, no appeal shall lie from any order passed by a Canal Officer, but the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the order of the Divisional Canal Officer, and the Subdivisional Canal Officer or Divisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the orders of the Superintending Canal Officer, who shall exercise a general control over the proceedings of all Canal Officers.

4. In appeals to the Collector under section 91 of the Act other than those especially provided for in rule 14, the Collector may require the Superintending Engineer to state his opinion in writing, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings of the case.

ON BLOCKS.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer shall map out the irrigable area into blocks demarcated by suitable boundaries, and in order to equalise the area to be dealt with each year, shall determine the date of expiry of the leases in each block, so that as far as practicable one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease every year.

6. Each block, determined as above, shall be numbered and marked on the maps to be maintained by the Divisional Canal Officer, and shall also be recorded with its irrigable area in the registers to be kept by him.

ON APPLICATIONS.

7. Any person who requires a lease for water must apply to—

- (a) the Sectional Officer, or
- (b) the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

These applications must be made in writing and may be on plain paper.

The person receiving them shall enter on the back any further data required.

ON LEASES AND PERMITS.

8. Ordinarily 5-year leases may be granted for the whole irrigable area of a block or a definite part of a block under the following conditions:—

- (i) No lease for less than 10 acres shall be granted.
- (ii) No lease shall be granted when the water must cross unleased lands, unless a suitable village channel exists.

9. Villages which apply for a lease less than five years in advance of the date of expiry fixed under rule 5 will only be granted leases for the remaining years of the term fixed for the block in which they are situated, so that all the leases within the same block may expire on the same date. These leases will be granted under the same conditions as 5-year leases.

10. The Divisional Canal Officer shall issue permits for long leases to the lessees through the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

When water is urgently required, the Subdivisional Canal Officer may grant a season lease which will be cancelled if the long lease is subsequently concluded. The Subdivisional Canal Officer may also issue season leases under rule 13 (III and IV).

When a lease is granted an agreement shall be taken in forms given in Appendices I and III and a "permit" shall be given to the lessee or lessees in forms given in Appendices II and IV.

11. Water for filling tanks may be supplied when available for cash paid in advance; the water taken into the tanks may be used for irrigation or any other purpose (Forms of application and permit are given in Appendices V and VI).

12. Water may be supplied by measurement through a permanent outlet, when the working level of the water in the distributary can be kept fairly constant.

ON WATER-RATES.

13. The following rates will be charged for water, whether taken by lift or flow :—

	Rs.	A.
I.—Long leases, 16th June to 15th November	... 1	0	per acre.

ON DEMAND STATEMENTS.

14. The statement of the amounts due for the water-rates leviable under these rules shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall, from time to time, be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor. A parcha showing the area and amount assessed against each cultivator shall be sent to him through the cultivator's representative when the demand statement is sent to the Collector for realising the amounts. Persons charged under rule 24 shall be served, by post or otherwise, with a statement showing the amounts charged to enable them to lodge an appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Act if they desire to do so.

15. The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (I and II) shall be payable in two equal instalments, falling due respectively on the 1st January and 1st February following, but all sums of Rs. 10 and under shall become due on the 1st January and be payable in one instalment.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (III) shall fall due on the 1st April following.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (IV) shall fall due on the 1st July following.

The rates for water to be supplied under rule 13 (V) shall be payable before water is supplied.

16. Water-rates imposed under rule 24 shall fall due as soon as the assessment is made and shall be realised at once.

ON REMISSIONS.

17. Remission of water-rates, either in whole or in part, shall be granted as follows :—

- (i) By the Divisional Canal Officer for errors in assessment or rates.
- (ii) By the Divisional Canal Officer for injury to a crop on a leased area caused by a deficiency in the supply of water.

A written application must be made at least 20 days before the crop is out.

18. Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

19. In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is not realisable may be written off as irrecoverable on the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer.

20. Before awarding compensation under section 16 of the Act or making reference under section 17 of the Act the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, and his written opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

ON CULTIVATORS' REPRESENTATIVES.

21. When a lease is entered into, the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall select as representative of the cultivators a suitable person or persons who shall be generally acceptable to the cultivators and shall each have a direct interest in the land for which the lease is executed. Jait raiyats or gumashtas shall usually be selected, or if it is undesirable in any particular case to appoint the jait raiyats or gumashtas, the reasons for passing them over and selecting others in preference are to be noted by the Subdivisional Canal Officer in the list of cultivators' representatives to be maintained by him.

22. The person or persons so selected shall be required to give assistance to the Canal Officers in respect of the following matters :—

- I.—In the preparation of applications for leases.
- II.—In the measurement of irrigated lands.
- III.—In giving the names of the occupiers of the various fields.
- IV.—In receiving demand statements and informing the cultivators of the demands against them.
- V.—In receiving parahas and distributing them.
- VI.—In attending, when required, at enquiries and complaints.
- VII.—In reporting to the zilladars any mutations of holdings of persons who have signed a long lease.
- VIII.—In assisting the tahsildar in collecting rates.

23. For such assistance the cultivators' representative or representatives shall be entitled to free irrigation of the lands in his own occupation, which may lie within the boundaries of the long lease, subject to a limit of 3 per cent. of the area assessed. The Divisional Canal Officer may disallow this free irrigation and recover the rates, in whole or in part, from the jait raiyat or gumashta or other representative, if the assistance specified in rule 22 has not been efficiently rendered to the satisfaction of the local officers. The reasons for such disallowance are to be recorded in the list of cultivators' representatives maintained by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

ON UNAUTHORISED IRRIGATION.

24. For the unauthorised use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre shall be charged; this rate may, however, be reduced at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer.

25. When it comes to the knowledge of the Subdivisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken in an unauthorised manner, he shall hold a local investigation, and, if he considers that water has been taken in this way, he shall serve a notice on the persons liable to be assessed, fixing a date for hearing objections. Any objections made shall be taken down and the whole record forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer for disposal.

26. The Divisional Canal Officer after hearing any objection that may be raised shall, if he is of opinion that the area should be assessed, fix the rates allowed under rule 24 and dispose of the case within one month of the receipt of the record from the Subdivisional Canal Officer. Water-rates shall not be charged where the unauthorised irrigation has occurred through the act, neglect or default of a Canal Officer or subordinate.

27. Applications may be subsequently received from villages in which unauthorised irrigation has been detected, and these villages may be granted leases; but in such cases the persons assessed under rule 24 shall also pay the water-rates due in respect of the lease subsequently granted, provided that the total of these two rates shall not exceed the maximum rate chargeable under rule 24. In such cases of double assessment the Divisional Canal Officer may remit, in whole or in part, the rates assessed under rule 24.

ON PENALTIES AND CANCELLING OF LEASES.

28. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st June next following.

29. The Superintending Canal Officer may, with the concurrence of the Collector, direct the Divisional Canal Officer to—

- (I) Cease to issue permits for the irrigation of lands in villages where there have been constant difficulties in realising water-rates until all the arrears of water-rates due are paid up; and also if specially so ordered, until half the amount due under new applications is paid in advance. An order under this rule shall be in force for the time stated therein, which shall not exceed three years.
- (II) Cancel any long lease if on the 1st June water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears.
- (III) Cancel any lease of which the lands cannot be irrigated from the canal except by passing water over an unleased area.

MISCELLANEOUS.

30. No person shall, without the written permission of the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer, pass or cause any animal or vehicle to pass along or across any of the works, channels, or banks of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, except by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries and their approaches as have been provided for the purpose.

31. Unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operations of these rules, no officer employed on the canal shall have any interest in the distribution of water from it, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others.

14. The statement of the amounts due for the water-rates leviable under these rules shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall, from time to time, be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor. A parcha showing the area and amount assessed against each cultivator shall be sent to him through the cultivator's representative when the demand statement is sent to the Collector for realising the amounts. Persons charged under rule 24 shall be served, by post or otherwise, with a statement showing the amounts charged to enable them to lodge an appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Act if they desire to do so.

15. The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (I and II) shall be payable in two equal instalments, falling due respectively on the 1st January and 1st February following, but all sums of Rs 10 and under shall become due on the 1st January and be payable in one instalment.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (III) shall fall due on the 1st April following.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (IV) shall fall due on the 1st July following.

The rates for water to be supplied under rule 13 (V) shall be payable before water is supplied.

16. Water-rates imposed under rule 24 shall fall due as soon as the assessment is made and shall be realised at once.

ON REMISSIONS.

17. Remission of water-rates, either in whole or in part, shall be granted as follows :—

- (i) By the Divisional Canal Officer for errors in assessment of rates.
- (ii) By the Divisional Canal Officer for injury to a crop on a leased area caused by a deficiency in the supply of water.

A written application must be made at least 20 days before the crop is cut.

18. Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

19. In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is not realisable may be written off as irrecoverable on the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer.

20. Before awarding compensation under section 16 of the Act or making reference under section 17 of the Act, the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, and his written opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

ON CULTIVATORS' REPRESENTATIVES.

21. When a lease is entered into, the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall select as representative of the cultivators a suitable person or persons who shall be generally acceptable to the cultivators and shall each have a direct interest in the land for which the lease is executed. Jait raiyats or gumashtas shall usually be selected, or if it is undesirable in any particular case to appoint the jait raiyats or gumashtas, the reasons for passing them over and selecting others in preference are to be noted by the Subdivisional Canal Officer in the list of cultivators' representatives to be maintained by him.

22. The person or persons so selected shall be required to give assistance to the Canal Officers in respect of the following matters :—

- I.—In the preparation of applications for leases.
- II.—In the measurement of irrigated lands.
- III.—In giving the names of the occupiers of the various fields.
- IV.—In receiving demand statements and informing the cultivators of the demands against them.
- V.—In receiving parchas and distributing them.
- VI.—In attending, when required, at enquiries and complaints.
- VII.—In reporting to the zilladars any mutations of holdings of persons who have signed a long lease.
- VIII.—In assisting the tahsildar in collecting rates.

23. For such assistance the cultivators' representative or representatives shall be entitled to free irrigation of the lands in his own occupation, which may lie within the boundaries of the long lease, subject to a limit of 3 per cent. of the area assessed. The Divisional Canal Officer may disallow this free irrigation, and recover the rates, in whole or in part, from the jait raiyat or gumashta or other representative, if the assistance, specified in rule 22, has not been efficiently rendered to the satisfaction of the local officers. The reasons for such disallowance are to be recorded in the list of cultivators' representatives maintained by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

ON UNAUTHORISED IRRIGATION.

24. For the unauthorised use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre shall be charged: this rate may, however, be reduced at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer.

25. When it comes to the knowledge of the Subdivisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken in an unauthorised manner, he shall hold a local investigation, and if he considers that water has been taken in this way, he shall serve a notice on the persons liable to be assessed fixing a date for hearing objections. Any objections made shall be taken down and the whole record forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer for disposal.

26. The Divisional Canal Officer after hearing any objection that may be raised shall, if he is of opinion that the area should be assessed, fix the rates allowed under rule 24 and dispose of the case within one month of the receipt of the record from the Subdivisional Canal Officer. Water-rates shall not be charged, where the unauthorised irrigation has occurred through the act, neglect or default of a Canal Officer or subordinate.

27. Applications may be subsequently received from villages in which unauthorised irrigation has been detected, and these villages may be granted leases; but in such cases the persons assessed under rule 24 shall also pay the water-rates due in respect of the lease subsequently granted, provided that the total of these two rates shall not exceed the maximum rate chargeable under rule 24. In such cases of double assessment the Divisional Canal Officer may remit, in whole or in part, the rates assessed under rule 24.

ON PENALTIES AND CANCELLING OF LEASES.

28. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st June next following.

29. The Superintending Canal Officer may, with the concurrence of the Collector, direct the Divisional Canal Officer to—

- (I) Cease to issue permits for the irrigation of lands in villages where there have been constant difficulties in realising water-rates until all the arrears of water-rates due are paid up; and also if specially so ordered, until half the amount due under new applications is paid in advance. An order under this rule shall be in force for the time stated therein, which shall not exceed three years.
- (II) Cancel any long lease if on the 1st June water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears.
- (III) Cancel any lease of which the lands cannot be irrigated from the canal except by passing water over an unleased area.

MISCELLANEOUS.

30. No person shall, without the written permission of the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer, pass or cause any animal or vehicle to pass along or across any of the works, channels or banks of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, except by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries and their approaches as have been provided for the purpose.

31. Unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operations of these rules, no officer employed on the canal shall have any interest in the distribution of water from it, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others.

BILL

To repeal the Bengal Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1880. Ben. Act VIII of 1880.

WHEREAS it is expedient to repeal the Bengal Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1880; It is hereby enacted as follows:— Ben. Act VIII of 1880.

Short title and commencement.

1. (1) This Act may be called the Bengal Repealing Act, 1905; and

(2) It shall come into force on such day as may be appointed by the Local Government by notification in the Calcutta Gazette.

Repeal of Bengal Act VIII of 1880.

2. The Bengal Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1880, is hereby repealed.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

It is intended to introduce the Glanders and Farcy Act, 1899 (XIII of 1899), by notification under section 3 thereof, into all the areas in which Bengal Act VIII of 1880 is at present in force. The introduction of the former Act into those areas will render it unnecessary to retain the latter Act on the Statute Book. It is, accordingly, proposed to repeal Bengal Act VIII of 1880.

THE following Report of the Select Committee, together with the Bill as amended by them, is, by order of the President, published for information :—

REPORT OF THE SELECT COMMITTEE ON THE BILL TO PROVIDE FOR THE ABOLITION OF THE OFFICE OF COMMISSIONER IN THE SUNDARBANS.

WE, the undersigned Members of the Select Committee appointed to consider the Bill to provide for the abolition of the Office of Commissioner in the Sundarbans, have considered the Bill and the paper noted in the margin, and have the honour to submit this our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed hereto.

Letter No. 15R L., dated Calcutta, the 23rd January, 1905, from the Hon'ble Mr. E. W. Collin, I.C.S., Commissioner, Presidency Division.

2. The amendments which we have made are printed in italics, and are explained in the following paragraphs.

3. Clause 3 of the Bill as introduced.—On consideration we are agreed that clause second of section 13 of Regulation III of 1828 deals only with the original demarcation of the outside boundary of the Sundarban jungle. As this boundary has already been demarcated, and the clause second in no way refers to the settlement and general administration of the Sundarbans tracts, we find that no good purpose will be served by the amendment of any portion of section 13 of the Regulation. We advise, therefore, that clause 3 should be omitted from the Bill as introduced.

4. Clause 3.—By section 2 of Regulation IX of 1816 the Commissioner in the Sundarbans was vested with all the duties, powers and authority (including the charge of the ábkári máhal) which would ordinarily be exercised by the Collector of a district. Though, on abolition of the Office of Commissioner in the Sundarbans, these duties, powers and authority would naturally revert to the Collector (and in fact they actually did so when the Commissionership was for a period held in abeyance), we consider it advisable that it should be clearly enacted that the respective Collectors shall resume them.

5. Clause 4.—Grants, leases, agreements and amalnams relating to land in the Sundarbans have generally contained references to action to be taken by the Commissioner in the Sundarbans. This wording may give rise to difficulties under the proposed administration. The new clause 4 will make provision for interpretation in such circumstances, and has been drawn to include such references in any written instrument relating to land in the Sundarbans.

6. We recommend that the Bill, as now amended, be passed.

3. All the powers and functions heretofore vested in and exercised by the Commissioner in the Sundarbans in any district shall henceforth be vested in and exerciseable by the Collector of that district.

[Cf. Reg. IX of 1816, s. 2.]

References in written instruments to the Commissioner in the Sundarbans.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

THE NORTHERN SECTION OF THE EASTERN BENGAL STATE RAILWAY.

The Hon'ble MR. CHAUDHURI asked:—

(a) Is it a fact that, with a view to cope with the increased traffic on the Northern Section of the Eastern Bengal State Railway and to accelerate the speed of the Darjeeling Mail Train, it has been proposed to introduce much heavier engines along the line, and is it the case that work is actually in progress, which when completed will reduce the number of bridges and culverts along the line and dam up many of the water-courses, such as the Narad, etc., in the neighbourhood of the Natore and Gopalpore Railway Stations, to save the cost of re-building the bridges and culverts which were meant for much lighter traffic, and is it also the case that the height of the existing bridges over navigable rivers along the line is being reduced with a view to avoid necessary costs of construction of bridges fit for such heavy traffic?

(b) Having regard to the fact that competent authorities attribute the prevalence of malarial fever and other epidemic diseases in many districts of Bengal to, amongst other causes, the obstruction of the natural drainage of the country by Railway embankments, and that malarial fever and cholera have been very prevalent along the line, particularly above and below Natore, has the Government of Bengal been consulted, and has this Government considered whether the scheme of Railway re-construction above referred to will not seriously affect the health of the people along the line of the said Railway?

(c) Will the Government be pleased to state what profits were made by the Northern Section of the Eastern Bengal State Railway during the year 1903-04 and during the last half-year, and how much has been sanctioned for the work of re-construction above referred to? Will the Government be pleased also to lay on the table a plan of the re-construction showing the existing bridges and culverts and the proposed alterations?

The Hon'ble MR. HORN replied:—

"I propose to answer together the questions (a) and (b) which have been asked by the Hon'ble Member.

"It is a fact that heavier engines have been lately introduced on the Metre Gauge Section of the Eastern Bengal State Railway. The type of engine has been selected by the Standardization Committee appointed by the Secretary of State and it will in future be adopted on Metre Gauge lines.

"The girders on the Metre Gauge Section of the Eastern Bengal State Railway were constructed many years ago and were designed for lighter loads than those permitted by present Standards. The work now in progress on the Northern Section has been undertaken in order to strengthen the bridges to admit of the unrestricted use of the new Standard Metre Gauge Engines.

"While the girders are being altered or renewed, advantage is being taken to cut out spans which the experience of many years has shown to be redundant. Certain girders are therefore being removed and the openings beneath them filled up. There are 22 bridges containing in all 132 openings. It is intended to fill up 31 of these openings; but in no instance will any bridge be closed or the passage hitherto provided for cattle or small boats be restricted.

"No water-courses whatever are to be dammed up or interfered with; nor will the number of bridges and culverts be reduced.

"With regard to navigable rivers the girder alterations will affect the following rivers, viz., the Burrul, the Narud, the Godar, the Pangul, and the Atrai. At the Burrul, Godar, and Pangul rivers, the headway of the spans used for navigation is not being interfered with, but in spans not necessary to the navigation of the channels the girders are being lowered by 2 to 3 feet. At the Burrul bridge which consists of 15 spans of 60 feet one span which is quite high and dry even in the flood season is being filled up. The Narud river has silted up to such an extent as to be useless except for very small boats. It contains two land spans of 40 feet and a centre span of 60 feet. The north span is quite dry and is being filled up. The centre span is being altered to two spans of 30 feet. The south span is quite dry; but as a road passes under it it will be retained. The girders on the Narud bridge are to be lowered about 3 feet, as the headway originally provided for boats of considerable size is not now required. The Atrai Bridge is being lowered 3 feet with the consent of the District Magistrate. The headway of 15 feet above highest flood level is greater than that provided at many more important river crossings on the Metre Gauge Section.

"(c).—Separate accounts are not kept for the Northern Section as distinct from the other Metre Gauge portions of the Eastern Bengal State Railway system. I would refer the Hon'ble Member to the Annual Administration Report for the calendar year 1903, Appendix 12, pages 48 and 49. The report for 1904 has not yet been published. The figures for the half-year ending the 31st December, 1904, are not yet available. The approximate cost of the alterations now in progress is Rs. 97,000, which is only part of a three years' programme. The estimate for strengthening the girders, which amounts to Rs. 2,74,000, has been approved by the Government of India.

"No general plan of the re-construction has been prepared, as only detailed drawings of the girders for the various bridges are necessary to admit of the carrying out of the work."

EXPENDITURE ON PLAGUE AND MALARIA.

The Hon'ble MR. CHAUDHURI asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the deaths from plague and from malarious fever in Bengal for 1900-01, 1901-02, 1902-03, 1903-04 and the money spent out of the public funds on measures, precautionary or otherwise, in respect of plague and malarious fever, respectively?

The Hon'ble MR. SHERRES replied:—

"A statement has been placed on the table showing, for the years referred to, the reported deaths from 'plague' and 'fever.' How many of the deaths under the latter head were due to malaria is not known, but it may be mentioned that in Dinajpur Captain Rogers enquired into the cause of death in 1,000 cases attributed to fever and found that death was due to malaria in only 31·8 per cent. of the cases.

"The accounts do not completely separate the expenditure on plague, but the information, so far as it is available, is also shown. The expenditure on account of malaria cannot be separately given. It would have to include not only the cost of producing and distributing quinine but a large part of the expenditure incurred under the heads of 'medical' 'sanitation' and 'drainage.'

Statement referred to in the above answer.

	1900-01.	1901-02.	1902-03.	1903-04.

(a) In addition to these there were 699 deaths from suspicious plague.

(b) Not available.

(c) Not shown separately. The figures for 1903-04 were given in consequence of orders in paragraph 25 of the Annual Government Resolution on Mufassil Municipalities for 1902-03.

(d) Figures for the first six months only.

SALARIES OF MINISTERIAL OFFICERS.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said:—

It appears from the Financial Statement for the year 1904-05 that a sum of four lakhs of rupees was provided therein for the increase of the salaries of Ministerial Officers, and in course of the debate which took place upon the Statement on the 16th April, 1904, it was stated on behalf of the Government that inquiries had been made and schemes submitted to the Government of India in connection with such provision. His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor was further pleased to observe that the matter which had his cordial sympathy "will receive the closest attention from the Bengal Government during this year." Now that the year is drawing to its close may I inquire—

- (a) whether this Government has received the sanction of the Government of India to the schemes above referred to?
- (b) if so, will the Government be pleased to state when these hard-worked and ill-paid ministerial officers are likely to obtain the relief contemplated by the above provision?
- (c) if the Government of India have not yet accorded such sanction, will the Government be pleased to inform the Council what the schemes are and what further action it proposes to take with a view to give effect to them?

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRRES replied:—

"The scheme has not yet been sanctioned. The Government of India find that there are certain matters to be cleared up before they can submit it to the Secretary of State. Government regrets the necessity for delay; for it is very desirous of seeing a sound scheme carried through."

LEVY OF ROAD CESS AND INCOME-TAX ON NON-AGRICULTURAL LANDS, ETC.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR asked:—

(a) Is the Government aware that the value of all hāt, fair, homestead and other non-agricultural lands is availed of for the purposes of assessment of both the road cess as well as the income-tax? And will the Government be pleased to consider whether the levying of both these taxes upon the same land is or is not illegal and inequitable?

(b) Has the attention of the Government been called to the case of Umad Rasul Shaha Fakir vs. Anath Bandhu Choudhury decided by the Calcutta High Court (Rampini and Gupta, JJ.) and reported in 28 I. L. R. (Cal.) 637, in which it has been distinctly held that the Board's Rule No. 33 of 1900 under which the road cess is levied upon such lands is ultra vires? And even apart from this decision, will the Government, in consideration of the manifest hardship which it entails on the tax-payers, be pleased to order the withdrawal or modification of the said or any subsequent similar rules of the Board of Revenue?

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

(a) Does the Government levy both income-tax and road cess in respect of lands where hāts and mélas are held?

(b) Has the attention of Government been drawn to the ruling reported in I. L. R., 28 Cal., p. 637, where the High Court has held that the rule of the Board of Revenue directing payment of cess in respect of profits of hāts and fairs is ultra vires?

(c) Has the rule abovementioned been abrogated? If not, will the Government be pleased to direct that the said rule be withdrawn?

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRRES replied:—

"(a) It will be seen from section 5(a) of the Income Tax Act and section 6 of the Road Cess Act that the law contemplates the payment both of income-tax and of cesses in respect of rent or revenue derived from land which is not used for agricultural purposes. The Lieutenant-Governor does not regard these provisions of the law as inequitable.

“(b) The Board's Rule No. 33 of 1900 which was declared by the ruling of the High Court to be ultra vires was, under the advice of the Legal Remembrancer, superseded by the Board's Revenue Circular No. 2 of March, 1902. The High Court ruled that the profits of a mela are not assessable to Road Cess. This had always been accepted by the Board and the assessment animadverted upon by the High Court was contrary to the Board's intention. A revised circular was issued to make it more clear that only the rent can be assessed to Road and Public Works Cesses. The Lieutenant-Governor does not propose to order the modification or withdrawal of their circular.”

EXPENSES OF WITNESSES IN CRIMINAL COURTS.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said :—

May I invite the attention of the Government to the “Revised rules for the payment on the part of the Government of the expenses of the complainants and witnesses attending the Criminal Courts” passed in 1895? These rules provide diet allowances at the rates of only 2 annas per diem for ordinary labouring classes and 4 annas only for Indians of higher rank in life, which in these days of high prices all round are hardly sufficient even for an ordinary single meal of an individual of the respective classes for whom these rates are intended, and which probably also account to some extent for the unwillingness of witnesses in accepting summons of the Criminal Courts. Under the circumstances will the Government be pleased to consider the present inadequacy of these rates and revise the aforesaid rules so as to provide a suitable rate for the diet and other allowances of these people?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied :—

“The Bengal Government has already instituted enquiries as to the adequacy of the rates now allowed on account of complainants and witnesses attending the Criminal Courts so far as the labouring classes are concerned. It will extend its enquiries to the question of the rates allowed to other classes.”

LANDLORDS' FEES.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said :—

In reply to my question about the “Landlords' fees held in deposit” asked at a meeting of the Council held on the 7th January, 1905, the Hon'ble Mr. Earle said that these deposits “become the property of Government by lapse of time” and are incorporated with the Provincial Revenues of Government for meeting its ordinary expenditure.

Will the Government be pleased to state—

- (a) under what law and by what lapse of time these deposits have become the property of Government?
- (b) whether these deposits are not trust property kept in the hand of Government by tenants for payment to their landlords, and as such are incapable of being forfeited to Government by any lapse of time?
- (c) whether any demand for payment has yet been made by any of the payees in case of any of the deposits referred to in my question alluded to above?
- (d) will the Government be pleased to take the opinion of its Legal advisers as to whether these deposits have or can legally become the property of Government, and as to whether they are not still liable to be either paid to the landlords or refunded to the tenants when demands may be made by either of them?

The Hon'ble MR. EARLE replied:—

"(1) The question of the Hon'ble Member seems to be based upon a misapprehension. If he will peruse again the reply which I gave to the question asked at the meeting of this Council held on the 7th January, 1905, he will observe that I did not say, as he alleges, that landlords' fees 'become the property of Government by lapse of time,' and thus form part of the consolidated revenue of the Provincial Government which is required to meet its ordinary expenditure. What I said was that, 'in so far as these deposits become the property of Government by lapse of time, they form part of the consolidated revenue of the Provincial Government, which is required to meet its ordinary expenditure.' That reply was given after legal advice had been taken as to the circumstances in which these fees may become the property of Government; and the Lieutenant-Governor is not prepared to enter into further disquisition on the subject.

"(2) Government has no information whether any tenant has ever applied for the refund of any money deposited by him as a landlord's fee. Applications are made from time to time by landlords for fees deposited in their favour, and, when they are found to be valid, payments are made.

"(3) It may be added that, if it were held that these deposits are money held in trust for others by Government, the previous suggestion made by the Hon'ble Member on the 7th January, 1905, that Government should divert them for the benefit of District Boards, could not be entertained."

THE SUBORDINATE EXECUTIVE SERVICE.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a statement showing the names, age, race, and the educational qualifications (i. e., whether passed the University Entrance, F.A., B.A., or M.A. examinations), the past services and other recommendations, if any, of each and all of the persons who have been admitted into the Subordinate Executive Service as Deputy Collectors and Sub-Deputy Collectors under its recent Resolution No. 5649A., dated the 26th December, 1904, by which the test of competitive examination for the recruitment of such service has been withdrawn?

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE replied:—

"No one has yet been admitted into the Subordinate Executive Service under the Resolution referred to. If the Hon'ble Member had read the rules annexed to the Resolution, he would have seen that nominations will not be received under its provisions until 1st October next."

THE VICTORIA JUTE MILLS.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU asked:—

Has the Government exempted the Victoria Jute Mill premises of Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co. within the Bhadreswar Municipality from the provisions of Part IX of the Bengal Municipal Act? If not, will the Government be pleased to state why no latrine-fee has been collected for the said Mill premises since first quarter of 1904? Is the Chairman of the said Municipality an employé of the said Company?

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRRES replied:—

"To the first part of the question the answer is in the negative and to the third part in the affirmative. Regarding the second part the Government has no information. The information may be obtained by means of a question at a meeting of the Municipal Commissioners or from an examination of the accounts, which, under section 71 of the Bengal Municipal Act, 1884, are open to the inspection of any tax-payer."

SEPTIC TANKS AT SHAMNAGAR.

The Hon'ble BABU BRUPENDRA NATH BASU asked :—

Will the Government be pleased to state whether there are septic tanks in use at the Shamnagar or Teliniparah Jute Mills of the same Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co.? Are these installations situated much nearer to the Falta Water-works intake than any other inspected by the Septic Tank Committee? If so, why were not these installations inspected by the said Committee?

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRRES replied :—

"The Hon'ble Member must be referred to the Report of the Committee for the reasons which governed the selection of the Mills they visited."

THE BENGAL SMOKE-NUISANCES BILL, 1904.

The Hon'ble Mr. Carlyle moved that the time for the preparation of the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the law relating to the abatement of nuisances arising from the smoke of furnaces or fire-places in the town and suburbs of Calcutta and in Howrah, and to provide for the extension thereof to other areas in Bengal, be further extended to the 4th March next. He said :—

"All the replies have not yet been received and it is very desirable that the Select Committee should not begin work until they all come in."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

THE SUNDARBANS BILL, 1904.

The Hon'ble Mr. Hare presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the abolition of the office of Commissioner in the Sundarbans. He said :—

"The Report requires no remarks from me. It is full and complete in itself, so I merely make this application."

THE BENGAL REPEALING BILL, 1905.

The Hon'ble Mr. Earle moved for leave to introduce a Bill to repeal the Bengal Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1880. He said :—

"I beg for leave to introduce into the Council the Bengal Repealing Act, 1905. As Hon'ble Members will gather from the Statement of Objects and Reasons, the purport of the Bill is to withdraw the Bengal Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1880, from all the areas within which that Act is at present in force and to introduce into those areas the Glanders and Farcy Act, 1899. The Bengal Act of 1880 applies, by virtue of section 1, to the town of Calcutta as defined by the notification of the 10th September, 1877. It has been extended, by orders published under section 14, to portions of Howrah, Sonapur, Kalimpong and Barhapur, its application being limited in the case of the last three places to the periods during which fairs are held there. When the Bill now under consideration becomes law, Act XIII of 1899 will be extended by notification to all those places. That Act is gradually being extended to all districts of the Province; and it has already been introduced into all the districts of the Patna Division, the Sonthal Parganas, Dacca, Burdwan and Hooghly, besides several municipalities.

"The Bengal Act of 1880 has been found in practice to be wholly ineffectual in checking the spread of contagious and infectious diseases amongst animals. In the first place its working depends entirely upon the initiative of the police; and police officers have neither the technical knowledge to enable them to detect the existence of the diseases referred to, nor the time required for coping successfully with them. On the other hand, under Act XIII of 1899 specially qualified whole-time officers will be employed to carry out work under the Act under the supervision of the Superintendent of the Veterinary Department. In the next place, the power of entry and search conferred by section 7 of the Bengal Act is altogether insufficient. That section lays down that an Inspector of Police must have reasonable grounds for supposing that a horse is affected with disease or has lately been so infected before he can make a search in any place. This condition alone makes the Act impracticable, inasmuch as it is only by actual examination that it is possible to form an opinion whether an animal is or is not diseased. Sections 5 and 7 of Act XIII of 1899 give the requisite powers in this respect. Thirdly, the Bengal Act makes no provision for dealing with animals that have been in contact with diseased horses. This is a serious omission which is made good by section 11 of the India Act.

"I think that I have said quite enough to show that Act XIII of 1899 is superior to the Bengal Act in essential matters. The need of introducing it into Calcutta, Howrah and the neighbouring municipalities has long been recognised as a very pressing want. There is every reason to believe that glanders is far more rife than is apparent from the statistics yet collected; and even these are sufficiently serious to make preventive measures essential. The difficulty of introducing the Act hitherto has been the want of funds for the purpose. It has very properly been held that it was useless to introduce the Act into a big city like Calcutta until it had been found possible to provide funds for a really efficient and trustworthy staff. In this respect it is proposed to follow the example of Bombay city, where the diseases referred to have been suppressed without friction owing to the efficiency of the staff employed. In Calcutta and its neighbourhood there will be appointed one Chief Inspector, who will also be a Veterinary Practitioner, and seven Inspectors, who will also be Veterinary Practitioners. These men will work under the immediate control of the Superintendent of the Veterinary Department at Belgatchia. When rules are framed under section 14 of the Act, the rules which have worked with conspicuous success in Bombay will be adopted as far as practicable.

"I would invite attention to section 6 of the Bengal Act. Under section 6 of that Act when a hospital for contagious diseases is established in Calcutta, the expenses of the same shall, so far as is necessary, be a first charge on the surplus fees levied on the registration of hackney-carriages under Bengal Act V of 1866. There was a hospital of this kind in Calcutta up to the year 1901; but in that year it was removed to Belgatchia, the Calcutta Corporation consenting to pay a sum of Rs. 15 a month towards the cost of the establishment maintained in connection with that institution. It is not thought necessary to retain this section and the connected sections, inasmuch as there is no prospect of bringing the hospital for contagious diseases back to Calcutta.

"Lastly, on general grounds, it is very undesirable to retain the Bengal Act on the Statute Book on the introduction of the India Act, because if it were so retained, there would be two co-ordinate agencies working under different Acts in the same area, viz., the police working under the Commissioner of Police under the former Act and the Special Inspectors working under the Superintendent of the Veterinary Department under the latter Act. These are all the remarks that I consider it necessary to make on the present occasion."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. Earle introduced the Bill and moved that it be read in Council.

The Motion was put and agreed to, and the Bill was read accordingly.

The Council was then adjourned to Saturday, the 4th March, 1905.

The following Act of the Governor General of India in Council received the assent of the Governor General on the 10th February, 1905, and is hereby promulgated for general information :—

ACT NO. II OF 1905.

An Act to validate action taken under the Indian Universities Act, 1904.

24 WHEREAS the Indian Universities Act, 1904, authorises the Chancellor of each of the Indian Universities to make directions, declarations and orders with a view to the constitution of the Body Corporate and the appointment of the Provisional Syndicate thereof;

FINAL FORECAST ON THE SUGARCANE CROP OF BENGAL, 1904.

The following note is published for general information.

A. EARLE,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 11th February 1905.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICUL- TURE, BENGAL.

FINAL FORECAST ON THE SUGARCANE CROP OF BENGAL, 1904.

Character of the season.—The character of the season most favourable for the sugarcane crop was scarcely obtained anywhere during the past year. Rain fell generally in the planting season which extends from January to April. Excessive rain however spoils the crop at the early stage of its growth, and this condition prevailed in many districts; while drought generally prevailed in September and October when copious rainfall is not harmful. Rainfall sufficient for the sowing season was obtained everywhere in January and February. In Burdwan and Chittagong Divisions, rainfall was above the normal in February. In March, the Chota Nagpur Division, and in April the Dacca and Chittagong Divisions, had more than normal rainfall, though Burdwan, Patna and Chota Nagpur Divisions suffered somewhat from drought during April. In May and June the rainfall was generally excessive specially in the Chota Nagpur Division.

where however the effects of excessive rainfall are never so injurious as the effects of drought. In July again, except in Orissa, rainfall was in excess almost everywhere. In August Orissa received its normal rainfall, the districts of the Patna and Chota Nagpur Divisions as well as Bhagalpur and Monghyr received an excess, and the remaining districts of the Province had a short rainfall. In September and October drought prevailed almost everywhere, and from the middle of September to the middle of October there was hardly any rainfall anywhere. In the latter part of October there was good rainfall specially in Bihar. In East Bengal and in Murshidabad late floods did some damage to the standing crop; while the rest of the Province continued to suffer from drought to the end of the year.

2. Area sown.—The normal area under sugarcane in this Province is now estimated at 675,900 acres, against 690,300 acres reported in the preliminary forecast. The decrease is due to the revision of figures by the Collector of Mymensingh. The actual area planted this year under sugarcane is 637,800 acres, against 632,400 acres in the previous year. This improvement is evidently due to the favourable conditions that prevailed at the planting season. The estimate of normal area is based upon ascertained facts in only 22 districts which have been wholly or to a great extent surveyed. The normal acreage under sugarcane in this area is 258,358, and the actual acreage this year, 241,256.

3. Character of the crop.—As will appear from Appendix I, the crop in ten districts, viz., in Birbhum, Khulna, Rajshahi, Dinajpur, Pabna, Faridpur, Gaya, Monghyr, Sonthal Parganas and Hazaribagh is estimated at above the normal. In 14 districts, viz., in Bankura, 24 Parganas, Bogra, Rangpur, Dacca, Mymensingh, Chittagong, Darbhanga, Bhagalpur, Malda, Balasore, Angul, Puri and Palamau the crop is estimated at between 90 and 99 per cent. In the remaining 21 districts the estimate is from 60 to 89 per cent., the worst crops being reported from Murshidabad, Champaran, Saran, Shahabad, Ranchi, Jalpaiguri, Darjeeling and Burdwan. Since the publication of the preliminary forecast in July, prospects improved only in seven districts and deteriorated in 19. According to the present estimate of the District Officers, the outturn of the crop for the whole Province is 88 per cent. of a normal crop. In the important sugarcane growing districts, the crop has been somewhat under-estimated, and I anticipate a provincial outturn of 90 per cent., thus lowering my July estimate by 2 per cent. on account of the loss caused at the end of the season by drought.

Gross outturn.—Taking the provincial outturn at 90 per cent., the probable gross outturn of cane-gur or raw sugar at 22 cwt. per acre comes to 12,628,400 cwt. as compared with 13,078,000 cwt. produced last year.

Other sources of gur.—The information available on this subject is still very incomplete, but the total amount of sugar and gur produced from the juice of the date-palm seems to be considerable, the figures obtainable working up to 3,257,172 cwt. The figures for sugar derived from the palmyra palm and other sources work up to 10,710 cwt.

I AM directed to acknowledge the receipt of your letter No. 1138, dated the 21st January 1905, in which you recommend that Government should accept the offer made by Kumar Saradindu Roy of Balihar to contribute Rs. 6,000 towards the construction of a separate building for the common room to be attached to the Rajshahi College on condition that Government should contribute at least an equal sum for the purpose, and that the main hall of the building should be called after his father, Raja Kristendra Roy Bahadur. You state that if the offer is accepted, you will endeavour to provide the funds required from Government out of the budget estimates of the Education Department for 1905-1906, and submit rough plans and estimates of the building for administrative sanction.

2. In reply, I am to say that the Lieutenant-Governor considers it desirable to encourage local self-help, and is pleased to accept the offer made by Kumar Saradindu Roy on the conditions proposed. I am to request that the thanks of Government may be conveyed to the donor for his liberality, and that you will be so good as to submit the necessary plan and estimate and suggest re-appropriation from the Education Budget for 1905-06 shewing how the amount required from Government can be met.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shelter open at the sides, and are suspended ten feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newmann's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

WATER-RATE RULES FOR THE DHAKA CANAL.

The 4th February 1905.

No. 6.—Notification.—With reference to Notification No 49, dated 1st September 1903, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd September 1903 at page 1157, and in exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 78 and 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal proposes to pass the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Dhaka Canal, with effect from the 1st April 1905.

D. B. HORN,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

1. The revenue administration of the Dhaka Canal is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Gandak Circle. The Divisional Canal Officer is responsible for maintaining the canal in an efficient condition, for the distribution of water to the lessees, and for the closing of the outlets in rotation when required; he is further responsible for the assessment of water-rates.

2. The Collector of the district is responsible for the collection of water-rates.

3. Except as provided in the Act and in these rules, no appeal shall lie from any order passed by a Canal Officer, but the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the order of the Divisional Canal Officer, and the Subdivisional Canal Officer or Divisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the orders of the Superintending Canal Officer, who shall exercise a general control over the proceedings of all Canal Officers.

4. In appeals to the Collector under section 91 of the Act other than those especially provided for in rule 14, the Collector may require the Superintending Engineer to state his opinion in writing, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings of the case.

ON BLOCKS.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer shall map out the irrigable area into blocks demarcated by suitable boundaries, and in order to equalise the area to be dealt with each year, shall determine the date of expiry of the leases in each block, so that as far as practicable one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease every year.

6. Each block, determined as above, shall be numbered and marked on the maps to be maintained by the Divisional Canal Officer, and shall also be recorded with its irrigable area in the registers to be kept by him.

ON APPLICATIONS.

7. Any person who requires a lease for water must apply to—

- (a) the Sectional Officer, or
- (b) the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

These applications must be made in writing and may be on plain paper.

The person receiving them shall enter on the back any further data required.

ON LEASES AND PERMITS.

8. Ordinarily 5-year leases may be granted for the whole irrigable area of a block or a definite part of a block under the following conditions:—

- (i) No lease for less than 10 acres shall be granted.
- (ii) No lease shall be granted when the water must cross unleased lands, unless a suitable village channel exists.

9. Villages which apply for a lease less than five years in advance of the date of expiry fixed under rule 5 will only be granted leases for the remaining years of the term fixed for the block in which they are situated, so that all the leases within the same block may expire on the same date. These leases will be granted under the same conditions as 5-year leases.

10. The Divisional Canal Officer shall issue permits for long leases to the lessees through the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

When water is urgently required, the Subdivisional Canal Officer may grant a season lease which will be cancelled if the long lease is subsequently concluded. The Subdivisional Canal Officer may also issue season leases under rule 13 (III and IV).

When a lease is granted an agreement shall be taken in forms given in Appendices I and III and a "permit" shall be given to the lessee or lessees in forms given in Appendices II and IV.

11. Water for filling tanks may be supplied when available for cash paid in advance; the water taken into the tanks may be used for irrigation or any other purpose (Forms of application and permit are given in Appendices V and VI).

12. Water may be supplied by measurement through a permanent outlet, when the working level of the water in the distributary can be kept fairly constant.

ON WATER-RATES.

13. The following rates will be charged for water, whether taken by lift or flow:—

	Rs.	A.
I.—Long leases, 16th June to 15th November	... 1	0	per acre.
II.—Season leases, 16th „ to 15th „	... 1	8	„ „
III.—Ditto, 16th November to 28th February	... 0	8	„ „
IV.—Ditto, 1st March to 15th June	... 2	0	„ „
V.—Water supplied to tanks	... 1	0	„ 10,000 a. ft.

ON DEMAND STATEMENTS.

14. The statement of the amounts due for the water-rates leviable under these rules shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall, from time to time, be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor. A parcha showing the area and amount assessed against each cultivator shall be sent to him through the cultivator's representative when the demand statement is sent to the Collector for realising the amounts. Persons charged under rule 24 shall be served, by post or otherwise, with a statement showing the amounts charged to enable them to lodge an appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Act if they desire to do so.

15. The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (I and II) shall be payable in two equal instalments, falling due respectively on the 1st January and 1st February following, but all sums of Rs. 10 and under shall become due on the 1st January and be payable in one instalment.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (III) shall fall due on the 1st April following.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (IV) shall fall due on the 1st July following.

The rates for water to be supplied under rule 13 (V) shall be payable before water is supplied.

16. Water-rates imposed under rule 24 shall fall due as soon as the assessment is made and shall be realised at once.

ON REMISSIONS.

17. Remission of water-rates, either in whole or in part, shall be granted as follows:—

- (i) By the Divisional Canal Officer for errors in assessment or rates.
- (ii) By the Divisional Canal Officer for injury to a crop on a leased area caused by a deficiency in the supply of water.

A written application must be made at least 20 days before the crop is cut.

18. Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

19. In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is not realisable may be written off as irrecoverable on the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer.

20. Before awarding compensation under section 16 of the Act or making reference under section 17 of the Act the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, and his written opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

ON CULTIVATORS' REPRESENTATIVES.

21. When a lease is entered into, the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall select as representative of the cultivators a suitable person or persons who shall be generally acceptable to the cultivators and shall each have a direct interest in the land for which the lease is executed. Jait raiyats or gumash-tas shall usually be selected, or if it is undesirable in any particular case to appoint the jait raiyats or gumash-tas, the reasons for passing them over and selecting others in preference are to be noted by the Subdivisional Canal Officer in the list of cultivators' representatives to be maintained by him.

22. The person or persons so selected shall be required to give assistance to the Canal Officers in respect of the following matters:—

- I.—In the preparation of applications for leases.
- II.—In the measurement of irrigated lands.
- III.—In giving the names of the occupiers of the various fields.
- IV.—In receiving demand statements and informing the cultivators of the demands against them.
- V.—In receiving parchas and distributing them.
- VI.—In attending, when required, at enquiries and complaints.
- VII.—In reporting to the zilladars any mutations of holdings of persons who have signed a long lease.
- VIII.—In assisting the tahsildar in collecting rates.

23. For such assistance the cultivators' representative or representatives shall be entitled to free irrigation of the lands in his own occupation, which may lie within the boundaries of the long lease, subject to a limit of 3 per cent. of the area assessed. The Divisional Canal Officer may disallow this free irrigation and recover the rates, in whole or in part, from the jait raiyat or gumash-ta or other representative, if the assistance specified in rule 22 has not been efficiently rendered to the satisfaction of the local officers. The reasons for such disallowance are to be recorded in the list of cultivators' representatives maintained by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

ON UNAUTHORISED IRRIGATION.

24. For the unauthorised use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre shall be charged; this rate may, however, be reduced at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer.

25. When it comes to the knowledge of the Subdivisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken in an unauthorised manner, he shall hold a local investigation, and, if he considers that water has been taken in this way, he shall serve a notice on the persons liable to be assessed, fixing a date for hearing objections. Any objections made shall be taken down and the whole record forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer for disposal.

26. The Divisional Canal Officer after hearing any objection that may be raised shall, if he is of opinion that the area should be assessed, fix the rates allowed under rule 24 and dispose of the case within one month of the receipt of the record from the Subdivisional Canal Officer. Water-rates shall not be charged where the unauthorised irrigation has occurred through the act, neglect or default of a Canal Officer or subordinate.

27. Applications may be subsequently received from villages in which unauthorised irrigation has been detected, and these villages may be granted leases; but in such cases the persons assessed under rule 24 shall also pay the water-rates due in respect of the lease subsequently granted, provided that the total of these two rates shall not exceed the maximum rate chargeable under rule 24. In such cases of double assessment the Divisional Canal Officer may remit, in whole or in part, the rates assessed under rule 24.

ON PENALTIES AND CANCELLING OF LEASES.

28. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st June next following.

29. The Superintending Canal Officer may, with the concurrence of the Collector, direct the Divisional Canal Officer to —

- (I) Cease to issue permits for the irrigation of lands in villages where there have been constant difficulties in realising water-rates until all the arrears of water-rates due are paid up; and also if specially so ordered, until half the amount due under new applications is paid in advance. An order under this rule shall be in force for the time stated therein, which shall not exceed three years.
- (II) Cancel any long lease if on the 1st June water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears.
- (III) Cancel any lease of which the lands cannot be irrigated from the canal except by passing water over an unleased area.

MISCELLANEOUS.

30. No person shall, without the written permission of the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer, pass or cause any animal or vehicle to pass along or across any of the works, channels, or banks of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, except by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries and their approaches as have been provided for the purpose.

31. Unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operations of these rules, no officer employed on the canal shall have any interest in the distribution of water from it, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others.

3. Except as provided in the Act and in these rules, no appeal shall lie from any order passed by a Canal Officer, but the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the order of the Divisional Canal Officer, and the Subdivisional Canal Officer or Divisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the orders of the Superintending Canal Officer, who shall exercise a general control over the proceedings of all Canal Officers.

4. In appeals to the Collector under section 91 of the Act other than those especially provided for in rule 14, the Collector may require the Superintending Engineer to state his opinion in writing, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings of the case.

ON BLOCKS.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer shall map out the irrigable area into blocks demarcated by suitable boundaries, and in order to equalise the area to be dealt with each year, shall determine the date of expiry of the leases in each block, so that as far as practicable one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease every year.

6. Each block, determined as above, shall be numbered and marked on the maps to be maintained by the Divisional Canal Officer, and shall also be recorded with its irrigable area in the registers to be kept by him.

ON APPLICATIONS.

7. Any person who requires a lease for water must apply to—

- (i) No lease for less than 10 acres shall be granted.
- (ii) No lease shall be granted when the water must cross unleased lands, unless a suitable village channel exists.

9. Villages which apply for a lease less than five years in advance of the date of expiry fixed under rule 5 will only be granted leases for the remaining years of the term fixed for the block in which they are situated, so that all the leases within the same block may expire on the same date. These leases will be granted under the same conditions as 5-year leases.

10. The Divisional Canal Officer shall issue permits for long leases to the lessees through the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

When water is urgently required, the Subdivisional Canal Officer may grant a season lease which will be cancelled if the long lease is subsequently concluded. The Subdivisional Canal Officer may also issue season leases under rule 13 (III and IV).

When a lease is granted an agreement shall be taken in forms given in Appendices I and III, and a "permit" shall be given to the lessee or lessees in the forms given in Appendices II and IV.

ON DEMAND STATEMENTS.

14. The statement of the amounts due for the water-rates leviable under these rules shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall, from time to time, be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor. A paroha showing the area and amount assessed against each cultivator shall be sent to him through the cultivator's representative when the demand statement is sent to the Collector for realising the amounts. Persons charged under rule 24 shall be served, by post or otherwise, with a statement showing the amounts charged to enable them to lodge an appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Act if they desire to do so.

15. The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (I and II) shall be payable in two equal instalments, falling due respectively on the 1st January and 1st February following, but all sums of Rs. 10 and under shall become due on the 1st January and be payable in one instalment.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (III) shall fall due on the 1st April following.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (IV) shall fall due on the 1st July following.

The rates for water to be supplied under rule 13 (V) shall be payable before water is supplied.

16. Water-rates imposed under rule 24 shall fall due as soon as the assessment is made and shall be realised at once.

ON REMISSIONS.

17. Remission of water-rates, either in whole or in part, shall be granted as follows :—

- (i) By the Divisional Canal Officer for errors in assessment of rates.
- (ii) By the Divisional Canal Officer for injury to a crop on a leased area caused by a deficiency in the supply of water.

A written application must be made at least 20 days before the crop is cut.

18. Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

19. In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is not realisable may be written off as irrecoverable on the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer.

20. Before awarding compensation under section 16 of the Act or making reference under section 17 of the Act, the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, and his written opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

ON CULTIVATORS' REPRESENTATIVES.

21. When a lease is entered into, the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall select as representative of the cultivators a suitable person or persons who shall be generally acceptable to the cultivators and shall each have a direct interest in the land for which the lease is executed. Jait raiyats or gumashtas shall usually be selected, or if it is undesirable in any particular case to appoint the jait raiyats or gumashtas, the reasons for passing them over and selecting others in preference are to be noted by the Subdivisional Canal Officer in the list of cultivators' representatives to be maintained by him.

22. The person or persons so selected shall be required to give assistance to the Canal Officers in respect of the following matters :—

- I.—In the preparation of applications for leases.
- II.—In the measurement of irrigated lands.
- III.—In giving the names of the occupiers of the various fields.
- IV.—In receiving demand statements and informing the cultivators of the demands against them.
- V.—In receiving parchas and distributing them.
- VI.—In attending, when required, at enquiries and complaints.
- VII.—In reporting to the silladars any mutations of holdings of persons who have signed a long lease.
- VIII.—In assisting the tahsildar in collecting rates.

23. For such assistance the cultivators' representative or representatives shall be entitled to free irrigation of the lands in his own occupation, which may lie within the boundaries of the long lease, subject to a limit of 3 per cent. of the area assessed. The Divisional Canal Officer may disallow this free irrigation, and recover the rates, in whole or in part, from the jait raiyat or gumashta or other representative, if the assistance, specified in rule 22, has not been efficiently rendered to the satisfaction of the local officers. The reasons for such disallowance are to be recorded in the list of cultivators' representatives maintained by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

ON UNAUTHORISED IRRIGATION.

24. For the unauthorised use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre shall be charged: this rate may, however, be reduced at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer.

25. When it comes to the knowledge of the Subdivisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken in an unauthorised manner, he shall hold a local investigation, and if he considers that water has been taken in this way, he shall serve a notice on the persons liable to be assessed fixing a date for hearing objections. Any objections made shall be taken down and the whole record forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer for disposal.

26. The Divisional Canal Officer after hearing any objection that may be raised shall, if he is of opinion that the area should be assessed, fix the rates allowed under rule 24 and dispose of the case within one month of the receipt of the record from the Subdivisional Canal Officer. Water-rates shall not be charged, where the unauthorised irrigation has occurred through the act, neglect or default of a Canal Officer or subordinate.

27. Applications may be subsequently received from villages in which unauthorised irrigation has been detected, and these villages may be granted leases; but in such cases the persons assessed under rule 24 shall also pay the water-rates due in respect of the lease subsequently granted, provided that the total of these two rates shall not exceed the maximum rate chargeable under rule 24. In such cases of double assessment the Divisional Canal Officer may remit, in whole or in part, the rates assessed under rule 24.

ON PENALTIES AND CANCELLING OF LEASES.

28. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st June next following.

29. The Superintending Canal Officer may, with the concurrence of the Collector, direct the Divisional Canal Officer to—

- (I) Cease to issue permits for the irrigation of lands in villages where there have been constant difficulties in realising water-rates until all the arrears of water-rates due are paid up; and also if specially so ordered, until half the amount due under new applications is paid in advance. An order under this rule shall be in force for the time stated therein, which shall not exceed three years.
- (II) Cancel any long lease if on the 1st June water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears.
- (III) Cancel any lease of which the lands cannot be irrigated from the canal except by passing water over an unleased area.

MISCELLANEOUS.

30. No person shall, without the written permission of the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer, pass or cause any animal or vehicle to pass along or across any of the works, channels or banks of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, except by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries and their approaches as have been provided for the purpose.

31. Unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operations of these rules, no officer employed on the canal shall have any interest in the distribution of water from it, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others.

FIRST FORECAST OF THE WHEAT CROP OF BENGAL, 1904-1905.

The following note is published for general information.

A. EARLE,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 21st February 1905.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

First forecast of the Wheat crop of Bengal, 1904-1905.

Preliminary.—Wheat is grown chiefly in Bihar, and in the districts of Murshidabad, Nadia, Rajshahi, Rangpur, Pabna, Palamau and Hazaribagh.

2. Character of the season.—The conditions most favourable for the wheat crop are a moist condition of the soil in October and occasional light showers during the next three months. Dry cold is helpful, and the deltaic area of the Province is therefore unsuitable for this crop. The rainfall of October throughout the wheat districts was very favourable. Drought prevailed since then until January, when rainfall was again general. Murshidabad and Nadia received very little rainfall in October and scarcely any since then until January, when a hail-storm did considerable damage in Murshidabad. The outturn in these two districts will be only about 60 per cent. All the other important wheat districts have enjoyed favourable conditions.

3. Area sown.—The total normal area under wheat in the Province now stands at 1,504,500 acres against 1,498,500 acres returned last year, the increase being due to revision of figures by the District officers of Bhagalpur and Purnea. The actual area sown this year is returned as 1,448,400 acres against 1,508,300 acres of last year. The decrease is due to rain coming very late in the sowing season. In the case of Patna, Muzaffarpur and Cuttack both the normal and actual areas are based on ascertained data, i.e., on survey figures. The figures for normal areas only, returned by Saran, Champaran and Darbhanga are also similarly obtained from actual data. The remaining figures are either wholly or partly approximations.

4. Character of the crop.—From the Appendix it will be seen that nine districts have returned 100 per cent. crop, seven districts between 90 and 99 per cent., seven districts 80 to 89 per cent., seven districts 70 to 79 per cent. and only six districts less than 65 per cent. The three districts, viz., Jessore, Angul and Ranchi, which have returned the worst crops, are unimportant as wheat growing districts. According to the estimate of District Officers, the outturn for the whole Province works out to 90 per cent., but, considering the favourable condition of rainfall during the past month, I am inclined to raise the estimate to 95 per cent. of a normal crop.

FORECAST OF THE LATE COTTON CROP OF BENGAL, 1904-1905.

The following note is published for general information.

A. EARLE,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 21st February 1905.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRI-CULTURE, BENGAL.

Forecast of the late Cotton crop of Bengal, 1904-1905.

Character of the season.—The late cotton is grown in sixteen districts of this Province, the most important being Saran, Muzaffarpur, Cuttack and Singhbhum. It is not grown in Bengal proper, except to a small extent in Midnapore and Bankura. Heavy rain, i.e., a rainfall of 6 inches or more per month, is highly injurious to this crop at the early part of the growing season, while it can stand almost absolute drought during the latter part of the season. The sowing season is different in different localities. In most places the crop is sown in September, while in Orissa and in parts of Manbhum sowing is done after rainfall in December or January. Favourable conditions prevailed only in the districts of Patna and Balasore, and the prospects in these two districts therefore are the best. In the districts of Saran and Champaran, on the other hand, unfavourable conditions prevailed, in the sowing season in the case of Champaran, where only 1.12 inches of rain were obtained against the normal of 9.89 inches, and in the early part of the growing season in the case of Saran, where in October 7.29 inches of rain were obtained against the normal of 2.67 inches. Owing to the injury caused by drought at the sowing season, Champaran expects only a 50 per cent. crop, while, owing to the injury done by excess of rainfall at the early part of the growing season, Saran expects an outturn of 85 per cent. In Bhagalpur and Manbhum the conditions were generally favourable, and a 93 per cent. and 89 per cent. crop, respectively, are expected in these two districts. In the remaining districts, where drought generally prevailed from September onwards, the crop is estimated at between 52 and 84 per cent.

2. Area sown.—Special enquiries were made throughout the year with regard to the area and yield under both varieties of cotton. Since the issue of a circular to District Officers, which tabulated the results of these enquiries up to last August, the travelling Overseers of this Department were deputed to help the District officers in a further enquiry, and the present forecast gives the results, though it cannot by any means be yet regarded either as final or even satisfactory. The total normal area now returned is 41,900 acres against 50,200 acres of last year's forecast, and against 40,400 acres ascertained at the special enquiry concluded before last August. The area planted this year is returned as 37,800 acres against 39,900 acres of last year's forecast, which was subsequently revised to 38,700 acres. Of the normal and actual areas under late cotton returned this year, only 26,936 acres and 8,965 acres, respectively, are derived from ascertained data, the estimate for the remaining areas being only approximations. Thus the whole of the normal areas returned by Saran, Champaran, Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga and Puri and the actual areas for this year returned by Muzaffarpur, Darbhanga and Puri are derived from survey papers.

3. Character of the crop.—According to the estimates furnished by District Officers, the provincial outturn comes to 75 per cent., but, considering the favourable character of the rainfall last month, the crop that will be actually harvested is not likely to fall below 80 per cent. of a normal crop.

4. Gross outturn.—According to the district estimates the total yield of the crop calculated at 75 per cent. will be 5,106,100 lbs. Information regarding outturn is being collected by crop-picking experiments, but is not yet complete. Adding 5 per cent., the total yield this year according to my estimate comes to 5,361,400 lbs.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF JANUARY 1905.

THE weather of January was chiefly characterised by the beginning of a remarkable series of depressions, which appearing first in the west advanced slowly across the province. Though these depressions were not all equally well marked, nor followed an equally definite path, they were distinguished by the same general characteristics. The most of them were accompanied by rainfall, but their leading feature was the variation in temperature which took place as they passed over the province. In the first place there was a rise especially in the night temperature, the day temperature owing to the accompanying cloud and rain remaining generally low. As the low pressure however moved eastwards and was succeeded by high pressure from the west, temperature fell rapidly to a point below its original height; and as these depressions followed each other with great rapidity, temperature gradually sank to an abnormally low point over the province.

At the beginning of the month weather was fine and seasonable with unusually high pressure, the excess being as much as quarter of an inch in parts of Bengal. Conditions remained very settled for the first eight days of the month, and although pressure fluctuated slightly during that period, it remained considerably above the normal throughout the province. Temperature likewise varied but little and was for the most part normal or slightly below. It was not till the 9th of the month that there was any indication of a material change in the weather. On that date a rapid fall of the barometer set in, which brought the pressure nearly down to normal. This fall of pressure was part of a general change which was taking place in the meteorological conditions of Upper India and which was primarily brought about by atmospheric movements in the region lying to the north-west of the Indian continent. The first area of low pressure, to which these disturbances gave rise, though not very well marked in North-East India, influenced the weather in Bengal considerably from the 12th to the 13th, giving rise to light to moderate general rain over the province. This disturbance was followed very rapidly by a fresh depression which was shown over the Central Provinces on the 15th, and which was no doubt due to the same general causes. Light rainfall accompanied this second depression on the 16th and 17th. Temperature which on the 10th had been below the normal everywhere rose under the influence of the first disturbance; in the interval between the first and second disturbances it speedily fell once more; and as owing to the cloudy and rainy weather accompanying the latter day temperatures were very low, the mean temperature, notwithstanding a small rise in the minima, remained below the normal. The usual fluctuations of the barometer accompanied the passage of the two depressions, but on the 17th pressure was again above normal.

On the 18th a fresh area of low pressure was shown over the Central Provinces; it speedily passed eastwards on the two succeeding days, causing light precipitation over the province between the 18th and 20th. On the 20th pressure was again relatively high in the west, but a fresh fall had already commenced indicating the advance of still another disturbance from North-Western India.

Temperature had, in obedience to the principles indicated in the introductory paragraph, slowly fallen, and on the 20th was everywhere considerably below the normal.

The depression now under consideration was better defined and deeper than any of its predecessors, and as it advanced across the province from the 21st to the 24th, gave rise to general though for the most part light rainfall between these dates. On the morning of the 25th the depression had disappeared, and pressure was again nearly normal over the province.

During this period of disturbed weather, night temperature had risen so considerably as to bring the mean above the normal notwithstanding the low day temperatures which prevailed everywhere. With the disappearance of the disturbance, however, temperature began to fall very rapidly. What may be described as a cold wave advanced across the whole of Northern India in the rear of the depression, and brought both night and day temperatures to an abnormally low point. From the 25th the defect of mean temperature below the normal was nearly 10° over the whole province.

The recovery of pressure on the latter date was, however, shortlived. Still another depression was advancing from the west, and as early as the 27th the pressure over the province began under its influences once more to fall.

This last disturbance of the month was not accompanied by any rainfall, but it produced the usual effect on the temperature. Especially between the 28th and 29th, when the province was most directly under its influence, was there a sharp rise in temperature which finally brought the mean above the normal on the latter date. Rising pressure, however, extended very rapidly from west to east in the rear of the storm and was accompanied by a fresh cold wave, whose influence began to be felt in the west and north of the province on the last day of the month, and which again brought abnormally low temperatures to the whole of Bengal in the early days of February.

Pressure.—During the first eight days of the month pressure was high. On the 9th the change of weather set in, and the various depressions as they passed across the province brought with them the usual fluctuations in pressure, i.e., a fall of pressure in advance of the storm and a rise in pressure in its rear. Though, however, during this period the province was chiefly under the domination of low pressure, the very high pressures which prevailed in the first seven or eight days of the month more than counterbalanced the defect thus caused, and mean pressure for the month is slightly above the normal.

Temperature.—The main features of the temperature variations have been already noted. Day temperatures were almost continuously low, while night temperatures rose above the normal, while the various depressions were actually passing over the province; both night and day temperatures reached a very low point under the influence of the cold wave which followed the penultimate depression of the month. Mean temperature is accordingly in defect over the whole province, and so likewise is the mean maximum, the defect in the latter case being more marked than in the former. On the other hand Orissa and a narrow strip of Central Bengal show a slight excess over the mean daily minimum.

Rainfall.—The precipitation of the month was confined to the period between the 13th and 24th of January and was due to the cold-weather storms which crossed the province between these two dates. Rainfall was largely above the average in South-West Bengal, Orissa and Chota Nagpur, but the effect of the depressions as far as rain was concerned was not so marked in the Eastern Divisions, and the rainfall was consequently in very slight defect in East and North Bengal. In Bihar, where the normal precipitation for January is greater than that of the rest of the province, the rainfall was nearly of average amount.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the month of January 1905:—

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

WATER-RATE RULES FOR THE DHAKA CANAL.

The 4th February 1905.

No. 8.—Notification.—With reference to Notification No. 49, dated 1st September 1903, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd September 1903 at page 1157, and in exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 78 and 99 of Act III (B.C.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal proposes to pass the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Dhaka Canal, with effect from the 1st April 1905.

D. B. HORN,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

1. The revenue administration of the Dhaka Canal is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Gandak Circle. The Divisional Canal Officer is responsible for maintaining the canal in an efficient condition, for the distribution of water to the lessees, and for the closing of the outlets in rotation when required; he is further responsible for the assessment of water-rates.

2. The Collector of the district is responsible for the collection of water-rates.

3. Except as provided in the Act and in these rules, no appeal shall lie from any order passed by a Canal Officer, but the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the order of the Divisional Canal Officer, and the Subdivisional Canal Officer or Divisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the orders of the Superintending Canal Officer, who shall exercise a general control over the proceedings of all Canal Officers.

4. In appeals to the Collector under section 91 of the Act other than those especially provided for in rule 14, the Collector may require the Superintending Engineer to state his opinion in writing, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings of the case.

ON BLOCKS.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer shall map out the irrigable area into blocks demarcated by suitable boundaries, and in order to equalise the area to be dealt with each year, shall determine the date of expiry of the leases in each block, so that as far as practicable one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease every year.

6. Each block, determined as above, shall be numbered and marked on the maps to be maintained by the Divisional Canal Officer, and shall also be recorded with its irrigable area in the registers to be kept by him.

ON APPLICATIONS.

7. Any person who requires a lease for water must apply to—

- (a) the Sectional Officer, or
- (b) the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

These applications must be made in writing and may be on plain paper.

The person receiving them shall enter on the back any further data required.

ON LEASES AND PERMITS.

8. Ordinarily 5-year leases may be granted for the whole irrigable area of a block or a definite part of a block under the following conditions:—

- (i) No lease for less than 10 acres shall be granted.
- (ii) No lease shall be granted when the water must cross unleased lands, unless a suitable village channel exists.

9. Villages which apply for a lease less than five years in advance of the date of expiry fixed under rule 5 will only be granted leases for the remaining years of the term fixed for the block in which they are situated, so that all the leases within the same block may expire on the same date. These leases will be granted under the same conditions as 5-year leases.

10. The Divisional Canal Officer shall issue permits for long leases to the lessees through the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

When water is urgently required, the Subdivisional Canal Officer may grant a season lease which will be cancelled if the long lease is subsequently concluded. The Subdivisional Canal Officer may also issue season leases under rule 13 (III and IV).

When a lease is granted an agreement shall be taken in forms given in Appendices I and III and a "permit" shall be given to the lessee or lessees in forms given in Appendices II and IV.

11. Water for filling tanks may be supplied when available for cash paid in advance; the water taken into the tanks may be used for irrigation or any other purpose (Forms of application and permit are given in Appendices V and VI).

12. Water may be supplied by measurement through a permanent outlet, when the working level of the water in the distributary can be kept fairly constant.

ON WATER-RATES.

13. The following rates will be charged for water, whether taken by lift or flow:—

	Rs.	A.
I.—Long leases, 16th June to 15th November	...	1 0	per acre.
II.—Season leases, 16th " to 15th "	...	1 8	" "
III.—Ditto, 16th November to 28th February	...	0 8	" "
IV.—Ditto, 1st March to 15th June	...	2 0	" "
V.—Water supplied to tanks	...	1 0	" 10,000 c. ft.

ON DEMAND STATEMENTS.

14. The statement of the amounts due for the water-rates leviable under these rules shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall, from time to time, be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor. A parcha showing the area and amount assessed against each cultivator shall be sent to him through the cultivator's representative when the demand statement is sent to the Collector for realising the amounts. Persons charged under rule 24 shall be served, by post or otherwise, with a statement showing the amounts charged to enable them to lodge an appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Act if they desire to do so.

15. The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (I and II) shall be payable in two equal instalments, falling due respectively on the 1st January and 1st February following, but all sums of Rs. 10 and under shall become due on the 1st January and be payable in one instalment.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (III) shall fall due on the 1st April following.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (IV) shall fall due on the 1st July following.

The rates for water to be supplied under rule 13 (V) shall be payable before water is supplied.

16. Water-rates imposed under rule 24 shall fall due as soon as the assessment is made and shall be realised at once.

ON REMISSIONS.

17. Remission of water-rates, either in whole or in part, shall be granted as follows:—

- (i) By the Divisional Canal Officer for errors in assessment or rates.
- (ii) By the Divisional Canal Officer for injury to a crop on a leased area caused by a deficiency in the supply of water.

A written application must be made at least 20 days before the crop is out.

18. Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

19. In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is not realisable may be written off as irrecoverable on the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer.

20. Before awarding compensation under section 16 of the Act or making reference under section 17 of the Act the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, and his written opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

ON CULTIVATORS' REPRESENTATIVES.

21. When a lease is entered into, the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall select as representative of the cultivators a suitable person or persons who shall be generally acceptable to the cultivators and shall each have a direct interest in the land for which the lease is executed. Jait raiyats or gumashats shall usually be selected, or if it is undesirable in any particular case to appoint the jait raiyats or gumashats, the reasons for passing them over and selecting others in preference are to be noted by the Subdivisional Canal Officer in the list of cultivators' representatives to be maintained by him.

22. The person or persons so selected shall be required to give assistance to the Canal Officers in respect of the following matters:—

- I.—In the preparation of applications for leases.
- II.—In the measurement of irrigated lands.
- III.—In giving the names of the occupiers of the various fields.
- IV.—In receiving demand statements and informing the cultivators of the demands against them.
- V.—In receiving parchas and distributing them.
- VI.—In attending, when required, at enquiries and complaints.
- VII.—In reporting to the zilladars any mutations of holdings of persons who have signed a long lease.
- VIII.—In assisting the tahsildar in collecting rates.

23. For such assistance the cultivators' representative or representatives shall be entitled to free irrigation of the lands in his own occupation, which may lie within the boundaries of the long lease, subject to a limit of 3 per cent. of the area assessed. The Divisional Canal Officer may disallow this free irrigation and recover the rates, in whole or in part, from the jait raiyat or gumashat or other representative, if the assistance specified in rule 22 has not been efficiently rendered to the satisfaction of the local officers. The reasons for such disallowance are to be recorded in the list of cultivators' representatives maintained by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

ON UNAUTHORISED IRRIGATION.

24. For the unauthorised use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre shall be charged; this rate may, however, be reduced at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer.

25. When it comes to the knowledge of the Subdivisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken in an unauthorised manner, he shall hold a local investigation, and, if he considers that water has been taken in this way, he shall serve a notice on the persons liable to be assessed, fixing a date for hearing objections. Any objections made shall be taken down and the whole record forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer for disposal.

26. The Divisional Canal Officer after hearing any objection that may be raised shall, if he is of opinion that the area should be assessed, fix the rates allowed under rule 24 and dispose of the case within one month of the receipt of the record from the Subdivisional Canal Officer. Water-rates shall not be charged where the unauthorised irrigation has occurred through the act, neglect or default of a Canal Officer or subordinate.

27. Applications may be subsequently received from villages in which unauthorised irrigation has been detected, and these villages may be granted leases; but in such cases the persons assessed under rule 24 shall also pay the water-rates due in respect of the lease subsequently granted, provided that the total of these two rates shall not exceed the maximum rate chargeable under rule 24. In such cases of double assessment the Divisional Canal Officer may remit, in whole or in part, the rates assessed under rule 24.

ON PENALTIES AND CANCELLING OF LEASES.

28. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st June next following.

29. The Superintending Canal Officer may, with the concurrence of the Collector, direct the Divisional Canal Officer to—

- (I) Cease to issue permits for the irrigation of lands in villages where there have been constant difficulties in realising water-rates until all the arrears of water-rates due are paid up; and also if specially so ordered, until half the amount due under new applications is paid in advance. An order under this rule shall be in force for the time stated therein, which shall not exceed three years.
- (II) Cancel any long lease if on the 1st June water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears.
- (III) Cancel any lease of which the lands cannot be irrigated from the canal except by passing water over an unleased area.

MISCELLANEOUS.

30. No person shall, without the written permission of the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer, pass or cause any animal or vehicle to pass along or across any of the works, channels, or banks of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, except by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries and their approaches as have been provided for the purpose.

31. Unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operations of these rules, no officer employed on the canal shall have any interest in the distribution of water from it, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others.

WATER-RATE RULES FOR THE TEUR (MADHUBAN) CANAL.

The 4th February 1905.

No. 7.—Notification.—With reference to Notification No. 101, dated 19th February 1884, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 20th February 1884 at page 365, and in exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 78 and 99 of Act III (B.O.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal proposes to pass the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Teur (Madhuban) Canal, with effect from the 1st April 1905.

D. B. HORN,

Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

1. The revenue administration of the Teur (Madhuban) Canal is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Gandak Circle. The Divisional Canal Officer is responsible for maintaining the canal in an efficient condition, for the distribution of water to the lessees, and for the closing of the outlets in rotation when required; he is further responsible for the assessment of water-rates.

2. The Collector of the district is responsible for the collection of water-rates.

3. Except as provided in the Act and in these rules, no appeal shall lie from any order passed by a Canal Officer, but the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the order of the Divisional Canal Officer, and the Subdivisional Canal Officer or Divisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the orders of the Superintending Canal Officer, who shall exercise a general control over the proceedings of all Canal Officers.

4. In appeals to the Collector under section 91 of the Act other than those especially provided for in rule 14, the Collector may require the Superintending Engineer to state his opinion in writing, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings of the case.

ON BLOCKS.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer shall map out the irrigable area into blocks demarcated by suitable boundaries, and in order to equalise the area to be dealt with each year, shall determine the date of expiry of the leases in each block, so that as far as practicable one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease every year.

6. Each block, determined as above, shall be numbered and marked on the maps to be maintained by the Divisional Canal Officer, and shall also be recorded with its irrigable area in the registers to be kept by him.

ON APPLICATIONS.

7. Any person who requires a lease for water must apply to—

- (a) the Sectional Officer, or
- (b) the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

These applications must be made in writing and may be on plain paper.

The person receiving them shall enter on the back any further data required.

ON LEASES AND PERMITS.

8. Ordinarily 5-year leases may be granted for the whole irrigable area of a block, or a definite part of a block, under the following conditions:—

- (i) No lease for less than 10 acres shall be granted.
- (ii) No lease shall be granted when the water must cross unleased lands, unless a suitable village channel exists.

9. Villages which apply for a lease less than five years in advance of the date of expiry fixed under rule 5 will only be granted leases for the remaining years of the term fixed for the block in which they are situated, so that all the leases within the same block may expire on the same date. These leases will be granted under the same conditions as 5-year leases.

10. The Divisional Canal Officer shall issue permits for long leases to the lessees through the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

When water is urgently required, the Subdivisional Canal Officer may grant a season lease which will be cancelled if the long lease is subsequently concluded. The Subdivisional Canal Officer may also issue season leases under rule 13 (III and IV).

When a lease is granted an agreement shall be taken in forms given in Appendices I and III, and a "permit" shall be given to the lessee or lessees in the forms given in Appendices II and IV.

11. Water for filling tanks may be supplied when available for cash paid in advance; the water taken into the tank may be used for irrigation or any other purpose (Forms of application and permit are given in Appendices V and VI).

12. Water may be supplied by measurement through a permanent outlet, when the working level of the water in the distributary can be kept fairly constant.

ON WATER-RATES.

13. The following rates will be charged for water, whether taken by lift or flow :—

	Rs.	A.
I.—Long leases, 16th June to 15th November	...	1 0	per acre.
II.—Season leases, 16th „ to 15th „	...	1 8	„
III.—Ditto, 16th November to 28th February	...	0 8	„
IV.—Ditto, 1st March to 15th June	...	2 0	„
V.—Water supplied to tanks	...	1 0	per 10,000 c. ft.

ON DEMAND STATEMENTS.

14. The statement of the amounts due for the water-rates leviable under these rules shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall, from time to time, be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor. A paroha showing the area and amount assessed against each cultivator shall be sent to him through the cultivator's representative when the demand statement is sent to the Collector for realising the amounts. Persons charged under rule 24 shall be served, by post or otherwise, with a statement showing the amounts charged to enable them to lodge an appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Act if they desire to do so.

15. The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (I and II) shall be payable in two equal instalments, falling due respectively on the 1st January and 1st February following, but all sums of Rs 10 and under shall become due on the 1st January and be payable in one instalment.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (III) shall fall due on the 1st April following.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (IV) shall fall due on the 1st July following.

The rates for water to be supplied under rule 13 (V) shall be payable before water is supplied.

16. Water-rates imposed under rule 24 shall fall due as soon as the assessment is made and shall be realised at once.

ON REMISSIONS.

17. Remission of water-rates, either in whole or in part, shall be granted as follows :—

- (i) By the Divisional Canal Officer for errors in assessment of rates.
- (ii) By the Divisional Canal Officer for injury to a crop on a leased area caused by a deficiency in the supply of water.

A written application must be made at least 20 days before the crop is out.

18. Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

19. In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is not realisable may be written off as irrecoverable on the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer.

20. Before awarding compensation under section 16 of the Act or making reference under section 17 of the Act, the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, and his written opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

ON CULTIVATORS' REPRESENTATIVES.

21. When a lease is entered into, the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall select as representative of the cultivators a suitable person or persons who shall be generally acceptable to the cultivators and shall each have a direct interest in the land for which the lease is executed. Jait raiyats or gumashtas shall usually be selected, or if it is undesirable in any particular case to appoint the jait raiyats or gumashtas, the reasons for passing them over and selecting others in preference are to be noted by the Subdivisional Canal Officer in the list of cultivators' representatives to be maintained by him.

22. The person or persons so selected shall be required to give assistance to the Canal Officers in respect of the following matters :—

- I.—In the preparation of applications for leases.
- II.—In the measurement of irrigated lands.
- III.—In giving the names of the occupiers of the various fields.
- IV.—In receiving demand statements and informing the cultivators of the demands against them.
- V.—In receiving parchas and distributing them.
- VI.—In attending, when required, at enquiries and complaints.
- VII.—In reporting to the silladars any mutations of holdings of persons who have signed a long lease.
- VIII.—In assisting the tahildar in collecting rates.

23. For such assistance the cultivators' representative or representatives shall be entitled to free irrigation of the lands in his own occupation, which may lie within the boundaries of the long lease, subject to a limit of 8 per cent. of the area assessed. The Divisional Canal Officer may disallow this free irrigation, and recover the rates, in whole or in part, from the jait raiyat or gumashta or other representative, if the assistance, specified in rule 22, has not been efficiently rendered to the satisfaction of the local officers. The reasons for such disallowance are to be recorded in the list of cultivators' representatives maintained by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

ON UNAUTHORISED IRRIGATION.

24. For the unauthorised use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre shall be charged: this rate may, however, be reduced at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer.

25. When it comes to the knowledge of the Subdivisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken in an unauthorised manner, he shall hold a local investigation, and if he considers that water has been taken in this way, he shall serve a notice on the persons liable to be assessed fixing a date for hearing objections. Any objections made shall be taken down and the whole record forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer for disposal. *

26. The Divisional Canal Officer after hearing any objection that may be raised shall, if he is of opinion that the area should be assessed, fix the rates allowed under rule 24 and dispose of the case within one month of the receipt of the record from the Subdivisional Canal Officer. Water-rates shall not be charged, where the unauthorised irrigation has occurred through the act, neglect or default of a Canal Officer or subordinate.

27. Applications may be subsequently received from villages in which unauthorised irrigation has been detected, and these villages may be granted leases; but in such cases the persons assessed under rule 24 shall also pay the water-rates due in respect of the lease subsequently granted, provided that the total of these two rates shall not exceed the maximum rate chargeable under rule 24. In such cases of double assessment the Divisional Canal Officer may remit, in whole or in part, the rates assessed under rule 24.

ON PENALTIES AND CANCELLING OF LEASES.

28. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st June next following.

29. The Superintending Canal Officer may, with the concurrence of the Collector, direct the Divisional Canal Officer to—

- (I) Cease to issue permits for the irrigation of lands in villages where there have been constant difficulties in realising water-rates until all the arrears of water-rates due are paid up; and also if specially so ordered, until half the amount due under new applications is paid in advance. An order under this rule shall be in force for the time stated therein, which shall not exceed three years.
- (II) Cancel any long lease if on the 1st June water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears.
- (III) Cancel any lease of which the lands cannot be irrigated from the canal except by passing water over an unleased area.

MISCELLANEOUS.

30. No person shall, without the written permission of the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer, pass or cause any animal or vehicle to pass along or across any of the works, channels or banks of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, except by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries and their approaches as have been provided for the purpose.

31. Unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operations of these rules, no officer employed on the canal shall have any interest in the distribution of water from it, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others.

WATER-RATE RULES FOR THE DHAKA CANAL.

The 4th February 1905.

No. 6.—Notification.—With reference to Notification No. 49, dated 1st September 1903, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd September 1903 at page 1157, and in exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 78 and 99 of Act III (B.O.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal proposes to pass the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Dhaka Canal, with effect from the 1st April 1905.

D. B. HORN,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

1. The revenue administration of the Dhaka Canal is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Gandak Circle. The Divisional Canal Officer is responsible for maintaining the canal in an efficient condition, for the distribution of water to the lessees, and for the closing of the outlets in rotation when required; he is further responsible for the assessment of water-rates.

2. The Collector of the district is responsible for the collection of water-rates.

3. Except as provided in the Act and in these rules, no appeal shall lie from any order passed by a Canal Officer, but the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the order of the Divisional Canal Officer, and the Subdivisional Canal Officer or Divisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the orders of the Superintending Canal Officer, who shall exercise a general control over the proceedings of all Canal Officers.

4. In appeals to the Collector under section 91 of the Act other than those especially provided for in rule 14, the Collector may require the Superintending Engineer to state his opinion in writing, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings of the case.

ON BLOCKS.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer shall map out the irrigable area into blocks demarcated by suitable boundaries, and in order to equalise the area to be dealt with each year, shall determine the date of expiry of the leases in each block, so that as far as practicable one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease every year.

6. Each block, determined as above, shall be numbered and marked on the maps to be maintained by the Divisional Canal Officer, and shall also be recorded with its irrigable area in the registers to be kept by him.

ON APPLICATIONS.

7. Any person who requires a lease for water must apply to—

- (a) the Sectional Officer, or
- (b) the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

These applications must be made in writing and may be on plain paper.

The person receiving them shall enter on the back any further data required.

ON LEASES AND PERMITS.

8. Ordinarily 5-year leases may be granted for the whole irrigable area of a block or a definite part of a block under the following conditions:—

- (i) No lease for less than 10 acres shall be granted.
- (ii) No lease shall be granted when the water must cross unleased lands, unless a suitable village channel exists.

9. Villages which apply for a lease less than five years in advance of the date of expiry fixed under rule 5 will only be granted leases for the remaining years of the term fixed for the block in which they are situated, so that all the leases within the same block may expire on the same date. These leases will be granted under the same conditions as 5-year leases.

10. The Divisional Canal Officer shall issue permits for long leases to the lessees through the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

When water is urgently required, the Subdivisional Canal Officer may grant a season lease which will be cancelled if the long lease is subsequently concluded. The Subdivisional Canal Officer may also issue season leases under rule 13 (III and IV).

When a lease is granted an agreement shall be taken in forms given in Appendices I and III and a "permit" shall be given to the lessee or lessees in forms given in Appendices II and IV.

11. Water for filling tanks may be supplied when available for cash paid in advance; the water taken into the tanks may be used for irrigation or any other purpose (Forms of application and permit are given in Appendices V and VI).

12. Water may be supplied by measurement through a permanent outlet, when the working level of the water in the distributary can be kept fairly constant.

ON WATER-RATES.

13. The following rates will be charged for water, whether taken by lift or flow:—

	Rs.	A.
I.—Long leases, 16th June to 15th November	...	1 0	per acre. .
II.—Season leases, 16th " to 15th "	...	1 8	" "
III.—Ditto, 16th November to 28th February	...	0 8	" "
IV.—Ditto, 1st March to 15th June	...	2 0	" "
V.—Water supplied to tanks	...	1 0	" 10,000 a. ft.

ON DEMAND STATEMENTS.

14. The statement of the amounts due for the water-rates leviable under these rules shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall, from time to time, be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor. A paroha showing the area and amount assessed against each cultivator shall be sent to him through the cultivator's representative when the demand statement is sent to the Collector for realising the amounts. Persons charged under rule 24 shall be served, by post or otherwise, with a statement showing the amounts charged to enable them to lodge an appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Act if they desire to do so.

15. The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (I and II) shall be payable in two equal instalments, falling due respectively on the 1st January and 1st February following, but all sums of Rs. 10 and under shall become due on the 1st January and be payable in one instalment.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (III) shall fall due on the 1st April following.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (IV) shall fall due on the 1st July following.

The rates for water to be supplied under rule 13 (V) shall be payable before water is supplied.

16. Water-rates imposed under rule 24 shall fall due as soon as the assessment is made and shall be realised at once.

ON REMISSIONS.

17. Remission of water-rates, either in whole or in part, shall be granted as follows:—

- (i) By the Divisional Canal Officer for errors in assessment or rates.
- (ii) By the Divisional Canal Officer for injury to a crop on a leased area caused by a deficiency in the supply of water.

A written application must be made at least 20 days before the crop is out.

18. Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

19. In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is not realisable may be written off as irrecoverable on the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer.

20. Before awarding compensation under section 16 of the Act or making reference under section 17 of the Act the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, and his written opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

ON CULTIVATORS' REPRESENTATIVES.

21. When a lease is entered into, the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall select as representative of the cultivators a suitable person or persons who shall be generally acceptable to the cultivators and shall each have a direct interest in the land for which the lease is executed. Jait raiyats or gumashtas shall usually be selected, or if it is undesirable in any particular case to appoint the jait raiyats or gumashtas, the reasons for passing them over and selecting others in preference are to be noted by the Subdivisional Canal Officer in the list of cultivators' representatives to be maintained by him.

22. The person or persons so selected shall be required to give assistance to the Canal Officers in respect of the following matters:—

- I.—In the preparation of applications for leases.
- II.—In the measurement of irrigated lands.
- III.—In giving the names of the occupiers of the various fields.
- IV.—In receiving demand statements and informing the cultivators of the demands against them.
- V.—In receiving parohas and distributing them.
- VI.—In attending, when required, at enquiries and complaints.
- VII.—In reporting to the silladars any mutations of holdings of persons who have signed a long lease.
- VIII.—In assisting the tahsildar in collecting rates.

23. For such assistance the cultivators' representative or representatives shall be entitled to free irrigation of the lands in his own occupation, which may lie within the boundaries of the long lease, subject to a limit of 3 per cent. of the area assessed. The Divisional Canal Officer may disallow this free irrigation and recover the rates, in whole or in part, from the jait raiyat or gumashta or other representative, if the assistance specified in rule 22 has not been efficiently rendered to the satisfaction of the local officers. The reasons for such disallowance are to be recorded in the list of cultivators' representatives maintained by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

ON UNAUTHORISED IRRIGATION.

24. For the unauthorised use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre shall be charged; this rate may, however, be reduced at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer.

25. When it comes to the knowledge of the Subdivisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken in an unauthorised manner, he shall hold a local investigation, and, if he considers that water has been taken in this way, he shall serve a notice on the persons liable to be assessed, fixing a date for hearing objections. Any objections made shall be taken down and the whole record forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer for disposal.

26. The Divisional Canal Officer after hearing any objection that may be raised shall, if he is of opinion that the area should be assessed, fix the rates allowed under rule 24 and dispose of the case within one month of the receipt of the record from the Subdivisional Canal Officer. Water-rates shall not be charged where the unauthorised irrigation has occurred through the act, neglect or default of a Canal Officer or subordinate.

27. Applications may be subsequently received from villages in which unauthorised irrigation has been detected, and these villages may be granted leases; but in such cases the persons assessed under rule 24 shall also pay the water-rates due in respect of the lease subsequently granted, provided that the total of these two rates shall not exceed the maximum rate chargeable under rule 24. In such cases of double assessment the Divisional Canal Officer may remit, in whole or in part, the rates assessed under rule 24.

ON PENALTIES AND CANCELLING OF LEASES.

28. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st June next following.

29. The Superintending Canal Officer may, with the concurrence of the Collector, direct the Divisional Canal Officer to —

- (I) Cease to issue permits for the irrigation of lands in villages where there have been constant difficulties in realising water-rates until all the arrears of water-rates due are paid up; and also if specially so ordered, until half the amount due under new applications is paid in advance. An order under this rule shall be in force for the time stated therein, which shall not exceed three years.
- (II) Cancel any long lease if on the 1st June water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears.
- (III) Cancel any lease of which the lands cannot be irrigated from the canal except by passing water over an unleased area

MISCELLANEOUS.

30. No person shall, without the written permission of the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer, pass or cause any animal or vehicle to pass along or across any of the works, channels, or banks of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, except by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries and their approaches as have been provided for the purpose.

31. Unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operations of these rules, no officer employed on the canal shall have any interest in the distribution of water from it, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others.

consider the Bill to amend the law relating to the abatement of nuisances arising from the smoke of furnaces or fire-places in the town and suburbs of Calcutta and in Howrah, and to provide for the extension thereof to other areas in Bengal, have considered the Bill and the papers noted in the margin, and have the honour to submit this, our Report, with the Bill as amended by us annexed hereto.

2. The amendments which we have made are printed in italics and are explained in the following paragraphs.

3. Clause 2 (2).—We are agreed that the period of six weeks for the submission of objections is insufficient, and therefore recommend that it be extended to three months.

4. Clause 3 (1).—We have considered the question as to whether furnaces used for private electric installations should be included in the proviso. The number of persons possessing such installations being so small, it seems unnecessary to specially legislate for them. The definition of "furnace" brings goods and ballast trains, steam-rollers and steam-boilers in engine sheds under the operation of the Act. We have modified the restrictions on the emission of smoke by ocean-going steamers by the amendment of sub-clause (ii) of the proviso. This amendment will exempt such steamers for a certain period (to be prescribed by rule) prior to their leaving Port or moving from one part of the Port to another, it being necessary for them to get up steam at such times. We have also considered it expedient to make mention among the exemptions of burning ghats.

5. Clause 4.—We are fully in accord with the unanimous opinion expressed by the various bodies and associations consulted to the effect that such bodies or associations as are likely to be affected by the Act should have power to nominate the unofficial members of the Commission. We have altered sub-clause (3) of the clause accordingly. At the same time we would recommend that at least half of the official Members should be persons possessing practical knowledge of steam-raising installations.

6. Clause 5.—It is advisable to make it quite clear that Assistant Inspectors are to be subordinate to the Chief Inspector, who in his turn should be subject to the control of the Commission.

7. Clause 6.—The fines throughout this section appear to us to be unduly heavy. We propose their reduction to the extent shewn in the revised draft Bill hereto annexed.

Under Chapter XXXIII of the Calcutta Municipal Act, 1899, and sections 466, 469, 473, power is conferred on the Chairman of the Municipality to grant licenses for the manufacture of bricks, iron, coke, etc. It is conceivable that after getting such a license and expending considerable sums on the purchase of appliances and the erection of furnaces a person might suddenly find that a notification issued under this section prohibited all further work, causing him heavy loss. To prevent such a case arising, we recommend that where such a license has been granted by the Corporation prior to the issue of a notification by Government the prohibition issued under this section should not affect any furnace or appliances covered by the license.

The use of the word "erection" makes it sufficiently clear that only new erections are to be affected by the section.

Sub-clause (1).—We think that kilns used for the manufacture of tiles of any description should be included in head (a).

With regard to the objection of the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce to the power taken to prohibit erection of brick kilns within specified areas we think it unnecessary to make any alteration in the Bill, as the Local Government may be trusted not to interfere unduly with trade.

Sub-clause (2).—The provision as to increased fine for a subsequent conviction cannot be made to apply to one and the same erection, for the same offence cannot be punished twice.

Sub-clause (4).—We think it advisable to provide an increased penalty for a second conviction under this sub-clause.

8. Clause 7.—While by clause 6 of the Bill as introduced power is taken to prohibit the erection of kilns or furnaces within specified areas, and to impose a penalty for non-compliance with such prohibition, no procedure is laid down whereby the removal of the kiln or furnace may be ensured. It might well happen that it would pay the person who made the erection to pay the fine and then to continue using the kiln or furnace. We therefore propose that the new clause 7 be inserted in the Bill. A notice or order to demolish within a certain period will be issued by the Magistrate, followed in case of disobedience, by the imposition of a fine for each day during which the disobedience continues after the period has elapsed.

9. Clause 8.—The suggestion of the Bengal Chamber of Commerce that the provisions of section 2 of the Bengal Act, II of 1863, in favour of those who, in the opinion of the Magistrate, have done their best to minimise a nuisance, should be continued in the present Bill has been considered by us, but we find it impracticable, as it would make the provisions of the Bill unworkable. A liberal allowance will doubtless be made when the rules are framed. If clause 8 of the Bill, as originally introduced, be cut out, clause 9 will, in a modified form, find its best place as a sub-clause to this clause.

It seems expedient that power should be taken to regulate, by rule, the altitude below which smoke may not be emitted from a chimney.

10. Clause 8 of the Bill as introduced.—We have carefully considered whether this clause is necessary or politic seeing that the preceding clause will provide sufficient means for punishing the emission of unduly dense smoke. It will be to the interest of owners to see that the best appliances are used. We would recommend that the clause be omitted from the Bill.

11. Clause 9.—It is in our opinion inadvisable that Inspectors should have power to enter and inspect buildings without notice, and they should not be allowed to test appliances or carry on experiments without written authority from the Commission. In every such case due notice should be given. The penalty for non-compliance seems to us to be unduly high, and we propose to reduce it to a maximum of one hundred rupees.

12. Clause 10.—It is very important that the rules under this Act should be drafted by experts, and that the Commission should either be entrusted with the framing of them, or in any case consulted. We recommend that the procedure laid down in section 20 of the Mines Act, 1901 (VIII of 1901), should be followed, namely, that all rules previous to publication should be referred to the Commission for opinion. We have inserted a sub-clause to this effect. The provisions of section 24 of the Bengal General Clauses Act, 1899 (Bengal Act I of 1899), will ensure sufficient opportunity being given for criticism before the rules are finally passed. The two new sub-heads to sub-clause (2) are consequential upon the amendments proposed in clauses 3 and 8.

13. Clause 11.—We consider that it would be dangerous to leave the institution of complaints to Assistant Inspectors. They should have the authority of the Chief Inspector. The time-limit—six months—for the institutions of prosecutions is, in our opinion, too long. We recommend that it be reduced to two months.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

DREDGING OF THE BHAGIRATHI RIVER.

The Hon'ble ASIF KADE SAIYID WASIF ALI MIRZA asked :—

(a) Is the Government going to take any steps, without further delay, for using dredgers for the improvement of the river Bhagirathi and Hooghly, as it has recognised the miserable condition of the river during the dry season?

(b) Does the Government consider that the necessity for the use of dredgers has ceased owing to the facility of communication likely to be secured by the opening of the Ranaghat-Katihar line?

(c) Does not the Government consider it desirable and necessary to remove the existing shoals and to secure a navigable channel with current throughout the year for the improvement of the sanitary condition of the large tracts through which the river runs?

(d) Does not the Government share the views of experts who believe that the Port of Calcutta would be materially prejudiced if the channel of the Bhagirathi and Hooghly be not properly improved and maintained?

(e) Is the Government aware that the merchants and traders carrying on inland trade prefer carrying their articles by river to railway, and does not the Government believe that, notwithstanding the facilities of connection to be had by the opening of the Ranaghat-Katihar line, the river traffic would increase to a considerable degree if the Bhagirathi-Hooghly river be made navigable throughout the year?

(f) If the Government be not prepared to make use of dredgers for improving the channel, would the Government be pleased to direct its officer in charge of the Nadia Rivers Division to make more extensive use of corrugated iron sheets and sal posts in the Bandel works instead of bamboo mats and bamboo posts?

The Hon'ble MR. INGLIS replied :—

"It will be convenient if I answer questions (a), (b) and (c) together.

"The proposal to keep the Bhagirathi open for navigation throughout the year by means of large suction dredgers has never been seriously contemplated by this Government. Admitting that the scheme were practicable from an engineering point of view it would certainly be prohibitive on account of its great cost; and in view of the large expenditure which will shortly be incurred in the development of the railway systems near the river, it is highly improbable that the Government of India would sanction further expenditure in order to increase still further the means of communication with Calcutta for the Ganges traffic.

"A project for establishing direct water communication between Madareepore and Khulna has recently been submitted to the Government of India for sanction. In the estimate provision is made for the purchase of a large suction dredger. If the estimate is approved by the Secretary of State it will be possible to have the machine landed in India in the course of next year. It is the intention of Government to experiment with this dredger in removing the extensive shoal which has formed at the entrance of the Bhagirathi: should the experiment prove successful there is reason to believe that a good supply of fresh water will be assured in the upper parts of the river during the hot weather months.

"The answer to (d) is in the negative.

"(e) It is not the experience of this Government that merchants and traders prefer carrying their articles by river to railways. Since the Bengal-Nagpur Railway and the South Bihar Railway came into competition with the Orissa Canals, the Orissa Coast Canal, the Midnapore and the Sone Canals, the receipts from tolls in these canals have decreased by fifty per cent.

"(f) An experiment was made last year to train the shoals in the Nadia rivers by using corrugated iron sheets instead of mats in the preparation of the bandels.

"It has been decided not to continue the experiment as the results obtained were not commensurate with the cost incurred."

REDUCTION OF THE TRAFFIC STAFF ON THE EASTERN BENGAL STATE RAILWAY.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR asked :—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been called to two paragraphs which appeared in the Bengalee of the 21st September last and in the Telegraph of the same date, in both of which it was stated that it was in contemplation to reduce the numerical strength of the Traffic Staff of the Eastern Bengal State Railway? Has the Government been yet consulted in the matter? And before any such reduction is sanctioned, will the Government be pleased thoroughly to consider the inexpediency of such a step particularly in view of the effect which such reductions may have on chances of accidents which are not unknown on this Railway?

(b) Will the Government, in view of the heavy traffic on this Railway and the risks attendant thereon, be further pleased to consider the propriety of extending the double lines from Poradah to Rajbari?

The Hon'ble Mr. INGLIS replied:—

"(a) No general reduction of traffic staff on the Eastern Bengal State Railway has been carried out or is contemplated; but from time to time the traffic staff at the various stations on the system is adjusted by responsible officers to the strength which is considered by them to be necessary for the safe and efficient working of the traffic.

"Settlement of the details of the traffic staff to be employed at each station is entrusted by Government to the Manager of the Railway.

"(b) No special risks are entailed in working the traffic on the Poradah-Rajbari single line, and the line is capable of dealing with a heavier traffic than now ever passes over it."

INCOME-TAX IN THE DISTRICTS OF BENGAL FOR 1901-1905

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to call for and lay on the table a statement containing the following particulars regarding the assessment of income-tax in each district for the years 1901-1902, 1902-1903, 1903-1904 and 1904-1905, in the subjoined or any other form that may be found convenient?—

STRIKE IN THE GOVERNMENT SHELLFACTORY AT COSSIPORE.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR asked:—

Has the attention of the Government been called to a paragraph in the Amrita Bazar Patrika of the 17th February, 1905, in which it is stated that over three thousand workmen have struck work at the Government Shell Factory at Cossipore? Is it true, as stated in the said paragraph, that the strike is due to the factory authorities having extended the working hours, from 8 A.M. to 4 P.M., to 7-45 A.M. to 8-15 P.M.? If so, will the Government be pleased to inform the Council what action it has taken or proposes to take with a view to pacify the strike?

The Hon'ble MR. EARLE replied:—

"The attention of Government had not been drawn to the paragraph in question when the Hon'ble Member put his question. Inasmuch as the Government Shell Factory at Cossipore is administered by the Government of India through the Director-General of Ordnance, the Lieutenant-Governor confined himself to ascertaining that the strikers returned to work after two days and that the public peace was in no way endangered."

RAILWAY LINE BETWEEN GOPALPUR AND SERAJGANJ.

The Hon'ble MR. CHAUDHURI asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to state what is being done with regard to the proposed railway between Gopalpur and Serajganj?

The Hon'ble MR. INGLIS replied:—

"A survey and estimate for a line from near Gopalpur to Serajganj have been completed. The line would be 49½ miles long to the town of Serajganj, and, on the broad gauge, is estimated to cost 62 lakhs of rupees. An investigation has also been made during the present cold season of the possibility of extending the line to opposite Jaganathgunge, the terminus of the Dacca system of railways. An estimate of the cost of such an extension is now under preparation."

RETURNS OF BIRTHS AND DEATHS IN THE DISTRICTS OF JESSORE AND NADIA AND IN THE SUB-DIVISION OF NATORE FOR 1901--1905.

The Hon'ble MR. CHAUDHURI asked:—

Will the Government be pleased to lay on the table a tabular statement giving for the years 1901-1902, 1902-1903, 1903-1904, 1904-1905, the births and deaths (and in the case of the latter, showing in separate columns those due to fever and cholera and the total number of deaths and the rate per mille) in the district of Jessore; in such important places in the district of Nadia, as Krishnagar, Navadwip, Santipur, Meherpur, Chakdah, Kushtia, Kumarkhali and in the Sub-division of Natore in the Rajshahi Division, all of which showed a decline of population at the last census?

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRGES replied:—

"A statement which contains the information asked for by the Hon'ble Member has been laid upon the table."

THE BENGAL SMOKE-NUISANCES BILL, 1904.

The Hon'ble MR. CARLYLE presented the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to amend the law relating to the abatement of nuisances arising from the smoke of furnaces or fire-places in the town and suburbs of Calcutta and in Howrah, and to provide for the extension thereof to other areas in Bengal. He said:—

"Government propose to take up the discussion of the Bill on the 25th of this month."

THE SUNDARBANS BILL, 1904.

The Hon'ble MR. HARE moved that the Report of the Select Committee on the Bill to provide for the abolition of the office of Commissioner in the Sundarbans be taken into consideration.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. HARE also moved that the clauses of the Bill be considered in the form recommended by the Select Committee.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

Clauses 3 and 4.

The Hon'ble MR. CHAUDHURI moved that clause 4 of the Bill be omitted. He said:—

"Having regard to the comprehensive character of clause 3 of the Bill as settled in Committee, clause 4 of the same seems to me to be a superfluity. If all the powers and functions that were formerly vested in, and exercised by, the Commissioner in the Sundarbans are now to be vested in, and exercised by, the Collector of a district, it goes without saying that any reference to the said Commissioner in the existing leases, agreements and amalnamas will be interpreted by the Law Courts as referring to the Collector. A reference to the terms of the leases will show that there need be no apprehension on this account.

"But before referring to the leases I would point out that if clause 4 stood in its present form it might give rise to difficulties of the very nature which it is its object to remove. This clause says that in respect of written instruments relating to land in the Sundarbans, all references to the 'Commissioner in the Sundarbans' will be construed as referring to a Collector. The Commissioner in the Sundarbans had also other duties. For instance, Regulation IX of 1816 placed him in charge of the Akbari Mahal, and the Report of Select Committee purports to transfer his powers and functions in this respect as well to the Collector. In exercise of such functions he might have had to execute written instruments, such as the granting of licenses, &c. Written grants of this kind would not surely fall within the category of 'written instruments relating to land.'"

"The expression 'relating to land' goes to restrict the scope of the interpretation clause considerably. A similar expression, viz., 'disputes relating to land' in the Code of Criminal Procedure has given rise to a great deal of litigation and legal interpretation; and, if possible, I would avoid such expression in an interpretation clause. Supposing the Commissioner in the Sundarbans had to lease out fisheries or grant license for cutting wood, gathering wax and honey, collecting shells, &c., grants of this kind made in writing would not surely be classed as instruments relating to land. In case if such documents or other agreements or contracts, which may not relate to land, are forthcoming, any reference therein to the Commissioner in the Sundarbans ought surely to refer to the Collector. The Hon'ble Mr. Collin mentions in his note, on this Bill that besides the leases referred to by him, there may be other deeds and documents which he has not been able to trace. But under the present limitations of clause 4, question may arise as to whether reference to the Commissioner in such instruments will refer to the Collector. The three instances of powers reserved to the Commissioner in the Sundarbans in the cultivation, the howladari leases or amalnamas would, as a matter of course, be exerciseable by the Collectors who are now vested with the Commissioner's powers within their local jurisdiction both by virtue of clause 3 and by the terms of the very written instruments themselves."

"For instance, in cultivation leases it is provided that in cases of boundary disputes between lessees of adjoining plots, the dispute is to be submitted to the decision of 'the officer exercising the powers of the Commissioner of the Sundarbans for the time being.' Now after clause 3 becomes law these words would unmistakably and unquestionably point to the Collector within his local area as exercising such powers. I am sure that the Hon'ble Members will agree that if there be any possibility of the existence of any written instruments other than those relating to land, it would be better to drop clause 4 altogether."

The Hon'ble MR. O'KINEALY said:—"I regret I am unable to support the amendment proposed by the Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri. It seems to me that acceptance of that amendment by the Council will be placing upon the words of the third clause a greater strain than they could bear. The Regulation which it is the object of this Bill to repeal by the second section vested certain powers in the Commissioner, and these are the words of section 2, Regulation IX of 1816: 'The Commissioner shall be vested with all the duties, powers and authority which have been or may be exercised by the Collectors of Land Revenue (including the charge of the Abkari Mahal) under the rules and regulations which may have been or may be enacted.'

"As I have said, it being the object of this Bill to repeal this Regulation, it became necessary to restore those powers which had been given to the Commissioner of the Sundarbans to the officers from whom they had been taken, and that is what clause 3 proposes to do. It follows the words of section 2, which confer powers on the Commissioner of the Sundarbans under the Regulation of 1816, and enacts that: 'All the powers and functions heretofore vested in and exercised by the Commissioner in the Sundarbans in any district shall henceforth be vested in and exerciseable by the Collector of that district.'

"There were duties other than those I have mentioned which the Commissioner of the Sundarbans had to perform, and they were what might be called the duties of an arbitrator, that is to say in granting leases, amalmahs and other documents concerning the leasing of land in the Sundarbans there were provisions to prevent unnecessary resort to litigation in cases of disputes and to prevent also resort to physical force in cases of persons disputing about the boundaries of their holdings. There was always a clause in those leases that the settlement of disputes which might occur, if they did occur, between neighbouring landholders, should be referred to the Commissioner of the Sundarbans for his decision. In acting in this way under powers which are not given by the law but acting merely in the position of a private arbitrator owing to an agreement between the different parties it seemed to the Select Committee—and I think rightly—that this was a class of matters which was not dealt with by clause 3, because as I say in this latter class of cases the Commissioner of the Sundarbans is in the position of a private individual and not in the position of a public officer having statutory powers.

"The Select Committee therefore thought it necessary to deal with this class of duties of the Commissioner of the Sundarbans and give those powers to the Collector, because it is of the greatest possible importance that the powers which were exerciseable by the Commissioner should be exercised by somebody else, as otherwise the result would be that the landholders in the Sundarbans would be either driven to physical force for the purpose of settling their disputes, or to litigation which might mean to them ruin. In that view the Select Committee drafted the fourth clause in this way:—

In every written instrument relating to land in the Sundarbans executed prior to the commencement of this Act, all references to "the Commissioner in the Sundarbans" shall be construed as referring to the Collector of the district in which the land or any part of it is situated.

"The matter has been enquired into, and I understand there are no documents or deeds other than those in connection with land in the Sundarbans, and the duties cast upon the Commissioner of the Sundarbans are wholly within this section. The Select Committee therefore confined themselves to the question of land in the Sundarbans, because if one makes a section so wide as to make it indeterminate, it is not merely a flaw in legislating, but it becomes a danger. There may be some of these leases which cover lands extending over more than the borders of a neighbouring district, and if it were left that the Collector of the district should be substituted merely for the Commissioner of the Sundarbans in leases in which the land extends over the boundary of a district it would be indeterminate, and one could not say who was the Collector to exercise jurisdiction. To avoid that difficulty the Select Committee thought that the words 'in which the land or any part of it is situated' must be put in. The Collector of each district may have jurisdiction. In all probability the dispute arises in a portion of the land which is within a certain district, it will be the Collector of that district who will exercise jurisdiction.

"Therefore I submit that clause 4 of the Bill deals with matters which are foreign to clause 3, and to abolish clause 4 and leave clause 3 to do the functions of both clauses would, as I say, put upon it a strain which the words of the clause would not bear."

The Hon'ble Mr. HARE said:—"I agree with the Hon'ble Mr. O'Kineale that it is necessary and desirable to retain clause 4, partly for the reasons which have been given in the Report of the Select Committee, and for the further reason that there may be agreements in which the Commissioner of the Sundarbans may be mentioned as an arbitrator in a quasi-private capacity. I think therefore it is necessary that we should retain clause 4, and I oppose the amendment."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—"I support the learned Advocate-General in the contention he has submitted to the Council. Section 3 of the Select Committee's Report deals with the powers and functions of the Commissioner in the Sundarbans—powers and functions which he may emphasise or which may be vested in him under any Statute, and section 4 deals with documents in which the Commissioner of the Sundarbans is referred to either in a private capacity or in a quasi-public capacity and in which he exercises powers and functions not devising them by Statute, but under agreement. I think it might lead to a great deal of difficulty and confusion if section 4 as drafted by the Select Committee were omitted. The only objection that the Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri has to this section is that it is superfluous; but on the other hand the omission of it may give rise to great difficulties, and in that view I would humbly submit that the recommendation of the Select Committee with regard to this section may be accepted."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"Although I fully agree with the Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri that the word 'land' as used in clause 4 of the Bill may give rise to controversy, I cannot go so far as to say that the clause should be omitted, and I agree with the Advocate-General, for the reason stated by him, that the retention of clause 4 is necessary."

The Hon'ble Mr. CHAUDHURI, in reply, said:—"I beg to correct the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu when he says that my only objection to clause 4 is that it is superfluous. I did not simply say that it was superfluous, but I urged for its omission also because of the limited nature of the expression 'instrument relating to land.' It does not cover general agreements and contracts. If there were none of that kind, I would not press my objection, but if there be any—and we are not sure whether that is the case or not—it would be rather risky to have clause 4 in its present form."

The Motion was then put and lost.

The Hon'ble Mr. CHAUDHURI also moved that clause 3 of the Bill be amended as follows and that clause 4 be omitted:—

All the powers and functions heretofore vested in, and exercised by, the Commissioner in the Sundarbans in any district shall henceforth be vested in, and exerciseable by the Collector of that district, and in every written instrument all references to the Commissioner in the Sundarbans shall be construed as referring to the Collector.

He said:—"I have already given my reasons for regarding clause 4 as it stands now as being of very restricted operation, limited as it is in regard to written instruments relating to land. I think, therefore, that if it be desirable to retain it, it would be better to read the two together as above. In the amendment I propose, clause 4 has been tacked on to clause 3 with certain omissions. The expression 'relating to land' has been omitted to widen the scope of the interpretation clause. In the next place, "although the words 'Collector of the district in which the land or any part of it is situated' are omitted, still in clause 3 the words 'by the Collector of that district' all ambiguity is removed with regard to the expression 'Collector' with which the amended clause closes. If it is the Collector by whom all the powers and functions heretofore vested in, and exercised by the Commissioner in the Sundarbans is to be exercised within whose local area any boundary disputes arise, he will surely be the officer who would arbitrate with regard to such boundary disputes. If the boundary extends to the jurisdiction of another Collector, either of them or both may arbitrate by arrangement. If we go on reading clause 4 into clause 3 thus 'and in every written instrument' without limiting the expression 'written instrument' to land, then it would include agreements, contracts, deeds or documents of every kind, and in such written instruments all references to the Commissioner in the Sundarbans will be construed as referring to the Collector. In putting clause 3 in the form in which I have, I think it will cover the interpretation clause and at the same time obviate the difficulties that may arise from limiting clause 4 to written instruments relating to land."

The Hon'ble Mr. O'KINEALY said:—"I regret that I cannot support the present amendment of the Hon'ble Mr. Chaulhuri. The first objection that I have to the amendment he now proposes is this. I explained in the observation which I made on the previous amendment that the subjects of clause 3 and clause 4 as they now stand are entirely different and distinct and have nothing to do one with the other. What the Hon'ble Member proposes to do is to mix those clauses together, that is to say, to make one clause deal with two different description of matters instead of having them dealt with separately as they are in the present Bill. That is to my mind a flaw in the proposed amendment which will prevent my supporting it.

"But there is also this. The proposed amendment necessitates that the words of section 3 as they now stand should be made to support the provisions of clause 4 which relate to entirely different matters. That I think is another flaw which shows that the present manner—that is, the manner in which the Select Committee have dealt with these two clauses—is preferable to that proposed by the Hon'ble Member.

"There is another matter also in which this clause is ambiguous, and that is with reference to leases of land extending over two districts. There is no provision which covers this at all, and the Hon'ble Member has had to resort to an elaborate argument for the purpose of supporting his view. I think it is desirable to avoid any such necessity, and that it is better to make the sections plain and distinct as to what they are intended to mean.

"There is another matter with reference to this amendment which I think makes it dangerous. So far as is known the only matters to which clause 4 can apply are matters and incidents dealing with land. No other are known in which the powers of the Commissioner of the Sundarbans are exercisable in a private manner, and if that be the case it seems to me that it would be wrong to unnecessarily widen the language and make it so indefinite that it would be impossible to say to what it did refer. The language which is used in the section as drafted by the Select Committee deals with the circumstances so far as they are known, and I should think that it would be dangerous to widen the section in any way so as to deal with matters which, so far as is known, do not exist."

The Hon'ble Mr. HAME said:—"I must oppose the present amendment. I think, having retained clause 4 of the Bill, it fully fulfils the purposes that we intend. The amendment proposed would be too vague even if it could be adopted for other reasons. If an instrument does not relate to land, it is difficult to say what Collector would be applied to in view of the fact that there are 39 Collectors; but in any case I am bound to oppose this amendment because I prefer the clause in the Bill before us."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"In discussing the previous amendment, the Hon'ble the Advocate-General said, if I understood him correctly, that the words 'all instruments relating to land in the Sundarbans' related to the subject-matter of land and nothing else. Whether that would be so or not is not quite certain, but I do not think any useful purpose would be served by tacking clause 4 to clause 3 as has been proposed by the Hon'ble Mr. Chaudhuri, and I regret I am not in favour of the amendment proposed by Mr. Chaudhuri."

The Motion was then put and lost.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBICA CHARAN MAZUMDAR moved that the words "land in" after the words "relating to" in clause 4 of the Bill be omitted; and that for the words and expression "land or any part of it" in the said clause the words and expression "subject-matter of such instrument or any part thereof" be substituted. He said:—

"I had the privilege of hearing the Hon'ble Advocate-General in advance of my amendment, and yet I must confess I am not quite satisfied, and consequently I am under the necessity of moving the amendment. The reason for the amendment is quite obvious. The clause as it stands refers simply to land, and there is no doubt about it. This, Sir, seems to me to be neither clear nor exhaustive. There may be instruments relating not only to land but also to water, to the gathering of wax or to the cutting of timber or relating to any other products of the forest, which have always been abundant in the Sundarbans. The Hon'ble Mr. Collin, who ought to be taken as an authority in this matter, himself says there may exist similar cases in some of the old leases or deeds, but that he has not been able to trace any, as the leases generally refer to the 'Commissioner in the Sundarbans or other officer appointed by Government.' No doubt the Hon'ble Advocate-General has told us that all the instruments that exist refer only to land, but I am unable to persuade myself to believe that ever since the beginning of the last century we have had instruments relating only to land.

"As a matter of fact it may not be unknown to many persons who actually know about the working of the Sundarbans that there were leases of various other kinds, namely, for cutting timber; there might have been leases for gathering wax and so forth. To say that there are no other instruments would, I believe, be going to the region almost of prophecy. I should have liked to have heard some of the Hon'ble Members of this Council who have access to these records to say that there were none; in fact I find that the Hon'ble Mr. Collin says that he has not been able to trace out other documents; in fact it would be impossible to trace out all of them. This is only a short time ago, and I do not know what flood of knowledge or information has been thrown amongst us to enable us to say that there are no other leases. Supposing even that there are none: do we ask too much to be more precise and more careful? In this matter, in fact, Your Honour will find that clause First of section 13 itself notices some of these various kinds of instruments, such as gathering wax and so forth. In this state of uncertainty I think we would be acting more wisely in making the clause more general in its application instead of restricting it simply to instruments relating to land only.

"It has not been contended, nor do I think will it be contended, that any shelter will be sought to be taken under the General Clauses Act, for neither in the Government of India General Clauses Act nor in the Bengal General Clauses Act is there any definition of the word 'land.' The only definition of 'land' that we find is in the Interpretation Act, 52 & 53 Vict., cap. 63, but even there the definition is not wide enough to cover the kind of interest, or rather privilege, to which I have referred. Besides, if in the face of section 10 of the Bengal General Clauses Act we found it expedient to provide this clause, I do not understand how we can be quite free from apprehension that we may not be misunderstood, and that difficulties may not arise hereafter if any question relating to any instruments other than that of land should come up for consideration, and it seems to me that when we have undertaken to settle all doubts, a whole measure would be better than a half measure. Where is the difficulty in making the clause more general?

"I do not, of course, understand the Hon'ble Advocate-General to mean that simply because the Select Committee has brought it in this fashion therefore it ought to be maintained. The thing is, we are going to amend the law, and if we see that the use of certain other words would make it more general so as to cover a much larger area than might be covered by the words settled by the Select Committee, I do not see there ought to be any difficulty in accepting it, at all events as a precautionary measure against all possible contingencies. With these observations, I beg to place the amendment before the Council."

The Hon'ble Mr. HARR said:—"I must oppose this amendment. I think no case has been made out for extending clause 4 so as to cover all written instruments, and I therefore think the clause may stand as it is in the Bill now before the Council."

The Hon'ble Mr. EARLE said:—"I should like to point out that the Commissioner in the Sundarbans could only act as an arbitrator in his private capacity or in a semi-private capacity by permission of the Board of Revenue. The Board gave him that permission under certain forms of leases that are given in the Waste Lands Manual. Those forms of leases refer entirely to land, and not to water, timber or any other article. It seems to me, therefore, to be quite unnecessary to widen the scope of the section in the manner proposed by the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar."

The Hon'ble Mr. COLLIN said:—"As the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar has referred to me as an authority in such flattering terms, I would only say that in the letter in which I raised the point on which clause 4 was added, I referred to certain forms of leases which are in existence and which are to be found under the Waste Land Rules and in which certain power is given to the Commissioner in the Sundarbans. I also said that there may be some other agreements which I had not been able to trace. I referred then entirely to agreements with reference to land. The different conditions under which grants have been given in the Sundarbans have varied considerably since the Commissionership was appointed, and at one time the Commissioner was a much greater man than he is now, and my impression is that in some of the old leases referring especially to revenue-free lands on Saugor Island, I have seen a reference to the Commissioner in the Sundarbans as being given power to decide certain disputes. It was entirely with reference to those matters that I wrote my letter which has been referred to, and I had not in my mind any reference to any other forms of agreements, such as for collection of wax or fisheries. Those matters are entirely dealt with by the Forest Department. So far as any land has been settled by the Commissioner in the Sundarbans it has been settled with the proprietors without any reservations. Any other land which remains unsettled is under the Forest Department either as a Reserve forest or as a Protected forest, and the rules of the Forest Department govern all the arrangements for collection of revenue."

The Hon'ble BABU KALI PADA GHOSH said:—"I confess I have no practical experience of the working of the Sundarbans forests; but taking a common-sense view of the matter I should say, Sir, the amendment proposed by the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar ought to be accepted. Although it may be the fact that in instruments that have been already executed in connection with the Sundarbans only land forms the subject-matter of such instruments, it may so happen that in future leases something other than land or anything connected with forest may be treated in such instruments, and to obviate all difficulties in this connection it would be desirable to accept the amendment proposed by my friend. I do not see any harm in doing so, because all that it aims at is to cover instruments that may relate to matters other than land, and I think it would be wise to accept such amendment."

The Hon'ble Mr. SHIRRES said:—"I venture to think that it was incumbent on the Hon'ble Member to produce proof of the existence of some documents which would be prejudicially affected by the proposed legislation. It is neither customary nor wise to legislate on hypothetical possibilities. It is the invariable practice to confine ourselves, when legislating, to ascertained facts."

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said :—" If my friend, the Hon'ble Babu Ambika Charan Mazumdar, were able to cite cases or instances in which leases relating to things other than land were dealt with or referred to I should have had no hesitation in supporting his amendment ; but when I find that the officers, who are principally responsible for the administration of the tract known as the Sundarbans, do not themselves want any such provision as my friend suggests, I do not think it is desirable on the part of non-official Members of this Council and having no part in the administration of this tract to press the amendment which is not wanted by those who are responsible for the administration of that part, and in that view I do not see my way to support the amendment of the Hon'ble Member."

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR, in reply, said :—" I will only make one observation with reference to the remarks which have just fallen from my friend, the Hon'ble Babu Bhupendra Nath Basu. I do not admit that there is any difference between official and non-official Members in the consideration of any Bill. It is as much the interest of the official as the non-official Members to see that laws are made so as to be satisfactory in dealing with every possible case that may arise, and the responsibility for this will rest as much with us as with the official Members. I have already stated my views in support of the amendment, but I am asked to cite instances in order to convince Hon'ble Members as to the propriety of my amendment. The fact is that my amendment only aids in dealing with possible contingencies. As I have already said, not that there are actual instances which I can cite, but what I mean to say is that instances might arise which might throw us into difficulties, and it is with that view that I propose my amendment. I have nothing further to add."

The Motion was then put and lost.

New Clauses.

The Hon'ble MR. CHAUDHURI, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely :—

That the following clause be inserted after clause 3 of the Bill :—

"4. In clause Second of section 13 of the Bengal Land-revenue Assessment (Resumed Lands) Regulation, 1828,—

- (a) for the words 'Commissioner of the Sundarbans' and 'Commissioner' the words 'Deputy Collector' shall be substituted; and
- (b) for the word 'Commissioner's,' in both places in which it occurs, the words 'Deputy Collector's' shall be substituted."

The Hon'ble MR. CHAUDHURI moved that clause Second of section 13 of the Bengal Land-revenue Assessment (Resumed Lands) Regulation, 1828, be repealed. He said :—

"The amendment proposed relates to the survey of the Sundarbans. In the Regulation of 1828 there is provision for carrying on a survey for determining the limits of the Sundarbans. In the preamble to that Regulation, it is stated that it is 'desirable to make provision for the immediate settlement of the limits of the Sundarbans, as ascertained by careful local inquiry, conducted by the Commissioner especially appointed to the duty and the surveyors under his authority.' When it was necessary for Government to determine the boundaries of the Sundarbans they appointed a Special Commissioner for carrying on the survey, and when the survey was carried on at the spot certain powers were given to the Commissioner to hear objections and certain limitations were imposed by which if objections were not made within three months they would not be allowed. Then there were other provisions for disputing the boundaries as determined by the survey. The following is the second clause of the Regulation referred to :—

The boundary of the Sundarbans jungle shall be laid down by accurate survey, as determined on the spot by the Commissioner of the Sundarbans; and any zamindar, taluqdar, or party interested shall be entitled, on application made through the Commissioner, and on payment of the charge of preparing the same, to receive a copy of the survey map or of any part of the same, with the boundary marked there as so determined, together with a copy of the Commissioner's proceedings on the subject.

Any party deeming his right injured by the demarcation so laid down shall be at liberty, at any time within three months from the date of the Commissioner's proceeding fixing the same (which proceeding shall always be held and published on the spot), to contest the same by petition to the ordinary Courts of Justice by which the case is cognisable, praying further investigation:

Provided that no plea of objection against the line of demarcation laid down shall be heard or admitted, excepting only such as shall declare and offer proof that at the time of survey a specific quantity of land or land with defined limits was in the occupation of the petitioner cleared and under cultivation, which, by the line of demarcation adopted, is placed within the Sundarban tract belonging to Government.

Every such application so made shall be regarded as a claim to hold the tract claimed free of the public assessment, and shall be investigated and decided under the rules of Regulation II, 1819, as modified by this Regulation.

"Now when we are going to abolish the office of the Commissioner of the Sundarbans it would be undesirable to let the present words stand. This whole section has reference to the Commissioner of the Sundarbans. It gives him power to determine the boundaries of the Sundarbans and confers right on parties aggrieved by such determination to contest it in courts of law within certain time limitations. I see no good in keeping this clause alive when we are abolishing the office of the Commissioner in the Sundarbans.

"When that office has been extinguished and the Collector has been given all his powers, then any survey that may now have to be carried on in the Sundarbans will be carried on under the directions of the Local Government and by proper officers appointed in this behalf. That is the general law, and to leave any special law with regard to the survey of the Sundarbans in an old Regulation would be inadvisable. The Sundarbans forms the lowest portion of the Gangetic delta. On one side it is bounded by the river Megna, on the other side by the Ganges, and it is intersected by numerous rivers and streams and on the south there is the sea; so that the boundaries of the Sundarbans cannot be considered as having been fixed and determined for all times. It may be necessary to take up a re-survey of the Sundarbans. If I am not mistaken, I read in some recent accounts of the Sundarbans that great changes had taken place even in its area; thousands of acres of land have been washed away from the Saugor Island, and there are other portions where similar changes in the boundaries had taken place. If there should be occasion for a fresh survey of the Sundarbans, then the survey will have to be conducted under the general law and under the direction of the Local Government.

"It is a general principle of law that any special law overrides the general law, and there is every likelihood that when a re-survey of the Sundarbans takes place questions may be raised by people whose zamindaries or lands may adjoin the boundaries of the Sundarbans as to the validity of any survey carried on under the Survey Act, so long as Regulation III of 1828 which specifically provides for it stands unrepealed. In the Report of the Select Committee it is said that this section has been spent. The Committee evidently referred to the preamble. It is mentioned there that immediate settlement of the limits of the Sundarbans is necessary. That preamble was drawn up when Regulation III of 1828 was passed. So it is surmised that when the limits of the Sundarbans have been once determined no survey for determining the boundaries will hereafter be necessary. But as I have said before, the map boundaries may be fixed, but the geographical boundaries may shift. At any future survey the question will be, under what law the re-survey is to take place. It may be said that the preamble to Regulation III, 1828, is clear that the clause in question only referred to the original determination of the limits of the Sundarbans. But a preamble is as often as not referred to and relied upon for the interpretation of statutes.

"In case of a subsequent survey under the general law, if any question is raised with regard to the validity of the survey, the persons who will question it will refer to this section, and confusion and conflict is likely to arise. If clause second, section 13, Regulation III of 1828, is regarded as spent, I do not see any use in retaining it in the Statute Book. Since the previous sanction of the Government of India has been obtained in connection with this Bill there is nothing in our way to prevent us from repealing clause 2, section 13 of the Bengal Land-revenue Assessment (Resumed Lands) Regulation, III of 1828, and I, therefore, beg to move for its repeal.

The Hon'ble MR. HARE said:—"I may say I am prepared to accept the proposed amendment which was considered in the Select Committee. It was not necessary to amend clause 2 of section 13, Regulation III of 1828, because its function was already completed, but we see no objection to repealing the section. I therefore say I am prepared to accept the proposal. The effect of this would be that clause 2 of the Bill would be amended and the repeal of the second section of section 13 of the Bengal Land-revenue Assessment (Resumed Lands) Regulation, III of 1828, would be mentioned in clause 2. Clause 2 will then read as follows:—

The Sundarbans Regulation, 1816, and clause Second of section 13 of the Bengal Land-revenue Assessment (Resumed Lands) Regulation, 1828, and so much of the Repealing and Amending Act, 1903, as relates to the said Sundarbans Regulation, 1816, are hereby repealed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble BARU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR, by leave of the Council, withdrew the following motion of which he had given notice, namely:—

That the following clause be inserted after clause 4 of the Bill:—

"5. In clause Second of section 13 of the Bengal Land-revenue Assessment (Resumed Lands) Regulation, 1828,—

- (a) for the words 'Commissioner of the Sundarbans' and 'Commissioner' the words 'Collector or Deputy Collector especially empowered by the Local Government in this behalf' be substituted; and
- (b) for the word 'Commissioner's,' in both places in which it occurs, the words 'Collector's or such Deputy Collector's' be substituted."

The Hon'ble MR. HARE moved that the Bill, as settled in Council, be passed.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

THE BENGAL REPEALING BILL, 1905.

The Hon'ble MR. EARLE moved that the Bill to repeal the Bengal Contagious Diseases (Animals) Act, 1880, be taken into consideration.

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble MR. EARLE also moved that the Bill be passed. He observed:—

"I said on the previous occasion all I had to say in regard to this Repealing Bill, and I have nothing further to add to-day."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council was then adjourned to Saturday, the 25th March, 1905.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making
Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 23

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor-General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 1st March, 1905 —

NO. 5 OF 1905.

A Bill to provide for investing the Railway Board with certain powers or functions under the Indian Railways Act, 1890.

WHEREAS a Railway Board has been constituted for controlling the administration of railways in India, and it is expedient to provide for investing such Board with certain powers or functions under the Indian Railways Act, 1890, it is hereby enacted as follows —

1. (1) This Act may be called the Indian Railway Board Act, 1905, and

(2) It shall be read with and taken as part of the Indian Railways Act, 1890.

2 The Governor General in Council may, by notification in the Gazette of India invest the Railway Board either absolutely or subject to conditions,—

- (a) with all or any of the powers or functions of the Governor General in Council under the Indian Railways Act, 1890, with respect to all or any railways and
- (b) with the power of the officer referred to in section 47 of the said Act to make general rules for railways administered by the Government

3 Any notice, determination, direction, requisition, appointment, expression of opinion, approval or sanction, to be given or signified on the part of the Railway Board, for any of the purposes of or in relation to, any powers or functions with which it may be invested by notification under section 2, shall be sufficient and binding if in writing signed by the Secretary to the Railway Board, or by any other person authorized by the said Railway Board to act in its behalf in respect of the matters to which such authorisation may relate, and the said Railway Board shall not in any case be bound in respect of any of the matters aforesaid unless by some writing signed in manner aforesaid.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to provide or investing the Railway Board which has recently been constituted with—

- (1) the powers and functions of the Governor General in Council under the Indian Railways Act, 1890 (IX of 1890), which can, as that Act stands, be delegated only to Local Governments, and
- (2) the power to make general rules as to Government railways, which can, as section 47 of the Act stands, be exercised only by an officer to be appointed by the Governor General in Council in this behalf, and not by a Board.

2. This object is secured by clause 2 of the Bill. Clauses 1 and 3 are formal. The former declares that the proposed Act shall be read with and taken as part of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, and the latter, following sections 139 and 144 (2) of the Indian Railways Act, 1890, prescribes the mode in which communications from the Railway Board are to be signified.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard. Newman's No. 36, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

2. The Collector of the district is responsible for the collection of water-rates.

3. Except as provided in the Act and in these rules, no appeal shall lie from any order passed by a Canal Officer, but the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the order of the Divisional Canal Officer, and the Subdivisional Canal Officer or Divisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the orders of the Superintending Canal Officer, who shall exercise a general control over the proceedings of all Canal Officers.

4. In appeals to the Collector under section 91 of the Act other than those especially provided for in rule 14, the Collector may require the Superintending Engineer to state his opinion in writing, which shall form part of the record of the proceedings of the case.

ON BLOCKS.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer shall map out the irrigable area into blocks demarcated by suitable boundaries, and in order to equalise the area to be dealt with each year, shall determine the date of expiry of the leases in each block, so that as far as practicable one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease every year.

6. Each block, determined as above, shall be numbered and marked on the maps to be maintained by the Divisional Canal Officer, and shall also be recorded with its irrigable area in the registers to be kept by him.

9. Villages which apply for a lease less than five years in advance of the date of expiry fixed under rule 5 will only be granted leases for the remaining years of the term fixed for the block in which they are situated, so that all the leases within the same block may expire on the same date. These leases will be granted under the same conditions as 5-year leases.

10. The Divisional Canal Officer shall issue permits for long leases to the lessees through the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

When water is urgently required, the Subdivisional Canal Officer may grant a season lease which will be cancelled if the long lease is subsequently concluded. The Subdivisional Canal Officer may also issue season leases under rule 13 (III and IV).

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (IV) shall fall due on the 1st July following.

A written application must be made at least 20 days before the crop is out.

18 Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

19. In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is not realisable may be written off as unrecoverable on the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer.

20. Before awarding compensation under section 16 of the Act or making reference under section 17 of the Act the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, and his written opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

ON CULTIVATORS' REPRESENTATIVES.

21. When a lease is entered into, the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall select as representative of the cultivators a suitable person or persons who shall be generally acceptable to the cultivators and shall each have a direct interest in the land for which the lease is executed. Jait raiyats or gumashlas shall usually be selected, or if it is undesirable in any particular case to appoint the jait raiyats or gumashlas, the reasons for passing them over and selecting others in preference are to be noted by the Subdivisional Canal Officer in the list of cultivators' representatives to be maintained by him.

22 The person or persons so selected shall be required to give assistance to the Canal Officers in respect of the following matters:—

I.—In the preparation of applications for leases.

II.—In the measurement of irrigated lands.

III.—In giving the names of the occupiers of the various fields.

IV.—In receiving demand statements and informing the cultivators of the demands against them.

V.—In receiving parchas and distributing them.

VI.—In attending, when required, at enquiries and complaints.

VII.—In reporting to the zilladars any mutations of holdings of persons who have signed a long lease.

VIII.—In assisting the tahsildar in collecting rates.

23 For such assistance the cultivators' representative or representatives shall be entitled to free irrigation of the lands in his own occupation, which may lie within the boundaries of the long lease, subject to a limit of 3 per cent. of the area assessed. The Divisional Canal Officer may disallow this free irrigation and recover the rates, in whole or in part, from the jait raiyat or gumashla or other representative, if the assistance specified in rule 22 has not been efficiently rendered to the satisfaction of the local officers. The reasons for such disallowance are to be recorded in the list of cultivators' representatives maintained by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

ON UNAUTHORISED IRRIGATION.

24. For the unauthorised use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre shall be charged; this rate may, however, be reduced at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer.

25. When it comes to the knowledge of the Subdivisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken in an unauthorised manner, he shall hold a local investigation, and, if he considers that water has been taken in this way, he shall serve a notice on the persons liable to be assessed, fixing a date for hearing objections. Any objections made shall be taken down and the whole record forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer for disposal.

26. The Divisional Canal Officer after hearing any objection that may be raised shall, if he is of opinion that the area should be assessed, fix the rates allowed under rule 24 and dispose of the case within one month of the receipt of the record from the Subdivisional Canal Officer. Water-rates shall not be charged where the unauthorised irrigation has occurred through the act, neglect or default of a Canal Officer or subordinate.

27. Applications may be subsequently received from villages in which unauthorised irrigation has been detected, and these villages may be granted leases; but in such cases the persons assessed under rule 24 shall also pay the water-rates due in respect of the lease subsequently granted, provided that the total of those two rates shall not exceed the maximum rate chargeable under rule 24. In such cases of double assessment the Divisional Canal Officer may remit, in whole or in part, the rates assessed under rule 24.

ON PENALTIES AND CANCELLING OF LEASES.

28. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st June next following.

29. The Superintending Canal Officer, may, with the concurrence of the Collector, direct the Divisional Canal Officer to—

- (I) Cease to issue permits for the irrigation of lands in villages where there have been constant difficulties in realising water-rates until all the arrears of water-rates due are paid up; and also if specially so ordered, until half the amount due under new applications is paid in advance. An order under this rule shall be in force for the time stated therein, which shall not exceed three years.
- (II) Cancel any long lease if on the 1st June water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears.
- (III) Cancel any lease of which the lands cannot be irrigated from the canal except by passing water over an unleased area.

MISCELLANEOUS.

30. No person shall, without the written permission of the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer, pass or cause any animal or vehicle to pass along or across any of the works, channels, or banks of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, except by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries and their approaches as have been provided for the purpose.

31. Unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operations of these rules, no officer employed on the canal shall have any interest in the distribution of water from it, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others.

ON DEMAND STATEMENTS.

14. The statement of the amounts due for the water-rates leviable under these rules shall be prepared under the supervision and signature of the Divisional Canal Officer in such form as shall, from time to time, be sanctioned by the Lieutenant-Governor. A parcha showing the area and amount assessed against each cultivator shall be sent to him through the cultivator's representative when the demand statement is sent to the Collector for realising the amounts. Persons charged under rule 24 shall be served, by post or otherwise, with a statement showing the amounts charged to enable them to lodge an appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Act if they desire to do so.

15. The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (I and II) shall be payable in two equal instalments, falling due respectively on the 1st January and 1st February following, but all sums of Rs. 10 and under shall become due on the 1st January and be payable in one instalment.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (III) shall fall due on the 1st April following.

The rates for water supplied under rule 13 (IV) shall fall due on the 1st July following.

The rates for water to be supplied under rule 13 (V) shall be payable before water is supplied.

16. Water-rates imposed under rule 24 shall fall due as soon as the assessment is made and shall be realised at once.

ON REMISSIONS.

17. Remission of water-rates, either in whole or in part, shall be granted as follows :—

(i) By the Divisional Canal Officer for errors in assessment of rates.

(ii) By the Divisional Canal Officer for injury to a crop on a leased area caused by a deficiency in the supply of water.

A written application must be made at least 20 days before the crop is cut.

18. Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

19. In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is not realisable may be written off as irrecoverable on the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer.

20. Before awarding compensation under section 16 of the Act or making reference under section 17 of the Act, the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, and his written opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

ON CULTIVATORS' REPRESENTATIVES.

21. When a lease is entered into, the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall select as representative of the cultivators a suitable person or persons who shall be generally acceptable to the cultivators and shall each have a direct interest in the land for which the lease is executed. Jait raiyats or gumashtas shall usually be selected, or if it is undesirable in any particular case to appoint the jait raiyats or gumashtas, the reasons for passing them over and selecting others in preference are to be noted by the Subdivisional Canal Officer in the list of cultivators' representatives to be maintained by him.

22. The person or persons so selected shall be required to give assistance to the Canal Officers in respect of the following matters :—

I.—In the preparation of applications for leases.

II.—In the measurement of irrigated lands.

III.—In giving the names of the occupiers of the various fields.

IV.—In receiving demand statements and informing the cultivators of the demands against them.

V.—In receiving parchas and distributing them.

VI.—In attending, when required, at enquiries and complaints.

VII.—In reporting to the silladars any mutations of holdings of persons who have signed a long lease.

VIII.—In assisting the tahsildar in collecting rates.

23. For such assistance the cultivators' representative or representatives shall be entitled to free irrigation of the lands in his own occupation, which may lie within the boundaries of the long lease, subject to a limit of 3 per cent. of the area assessed. The Divisional Canal Officer may disallow this free irrigation, and recover the rates, in whole or in part, from the jait raiyat or gumashta or other representative, if the assistance, specified in rule 22, has not been efficiently rendered to the satisfaction of the local officers. The reasons for such disallowance are to be recorded in the list of cultivators' representatives maintained by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

ON UNAUTHORISED IRRIGATION.

24. For the unauthorised use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre shall be charged: this rate may, however, be reduced at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer.

25. When it comes to the knowledge of the Subdivisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken in an unauthorised manner, he shall hold a local investigation, and if he considers that water has been taken in this way, he shall serve a notice on the persons liable to be assessed fixing a date for hearing objections. Any objections made shall be taken down and the whole record forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer for disposal.

26. The Divisional Canal Officer after hearing any objection that may be raised shall, if he is of opinion that the area should be assessed, fix the rates allowed under rule 24 and dispose of the case within one month of the receipt of the record from the Subdivisional Canal Officer. Water-rates shall not be charged, where the unauthorised irrigation has occurred through the act, neglect or default of a Canal Officer or subordinate.

27. Applications may be subsequently received from villages in which unauthorised irrigation has been detected, and these villages may be granted leases; but in such cases the persons assessed under rule 24 shall also pay the water-rates due in respect of the lease subsequently granted, provided that the total of these two rates shall not exceed the maximum rate chargeable under rule 24. In such cases of double assessment the Divisional Canal Officer may remit, in whole or in part, the rates assessed under rule 24.

ON PENALTIES AND CANCELLING OF LEASES.

28. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any leased area is habitually wasted or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st June next following.

29. The Superintending Canal Officer may, with the concurrence of the Collector, direct the Divisional Canal Officer to—

- (I) Cease to issue permits for the irrigation of lands in villages where there have been constant difficulties in realising water-rates until all the arrears of water-rates due are paid up; and also if specially so ordered, until half the amount due under new applications is paid in advance. An order under this rule shall be in force for the time stated therein, which shall not exceed three years.
- (II) Cancel any long lease if on the 1st June water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears.
- (III) Cancel any lease of which the lands cannot be irrigated from the canal except by passing water over an unleased area.

MISCELLANEOUS.

30. No person shall, without the written permission of the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer, pass or cause any animal or vehicle to pass along or across any of the works, channels or banks of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, except by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries and their approaches as have been provided for the purpose.

31. Unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operations of these rules, no officer employed on the canal shall have any interest in the distribution of water from it, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others.

PART IV.

Bills of the Bengal Council.

GOVERNMENT OF BENGAL.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

No. 104T., dated the 13th March, 1905.—In exercise of the power conferred by rule 34 of the Rules for the Conduct of the Legislative Business of the Bengal Council, the Lieutenant-Governor is pleased to order the publication of the following Bill, which it is proposed to introduce in the said Council, together with the Statement of Objects and Reasons:—

A

BILL

To amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890.

WHEREAS it is expedient to amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890; Ben. Act III of 1890.

It is hereby enacted as follows:—

Short title.

1. This Act may be called the Calcutta Port (Amendment) Act, 1905.

Amendment of section 5.

2. In section 5 of the Calcutta Port Act, 1890, for the words "fifteen Commissioners" the words "seventeen Commissioners" shall be substituted, and for the words "five nominated Commissioners" the words "seven nominated Commissioners" shall be substituted. Ben. Act III of 1890.

Amendment of section 5.

3. After clause (7) of section 35 of the said Act, the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

"(7a) The building of vessels for the carrying of goods or passengers, or both, within the limits of the port, or partly within and partly without those limits."

Insertion of new section 35A.

4. After section 35 of the said Act the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"35A. The Commissioners shall not undertake the carrying of goods for hire in any vessel belonging to or hired by them, except with the sanction of the Local Government.

Such sanction may be general in its terms subject to any restrictions which the Local Government may enjoin in respect of the carriage of any class or classes of goods between specified places."

Insertion of new section 105A.

5. After section 105 of the said Act the following shall be inserted, namely:—

"105A. The Commissioners shall also frame a scale of charges for the carrying of goods and passengers, respectively, on vessels belonging to or hired by them."

Amendment of section 106.

6. In section 106 of the said Act, for the words "for hire" the words "whether for hire or not, and" shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

THE object of this Bill is to increase the constitution of the Port Commission to 17 members and to empower the Commissioners to improve and regulate the means of communication across and along the river Hooghly within the limits of the Port of Calcutta.

2. The constitution of the Port Commission is under section 5 of the Calcutta Port Act (Ben. Act III of 1890) fixed at 15 members. This number only allows of two of the three Railway Companies carrying traffic into Calcutta being represented on the Commission and does not provide for the interests of Howrah in the Port of Calcutta. It is proposed in section 2 of the Bill to add two members to the Port Commission to allow of these important interests being adequately represented.

3. The Commissioners already have power, under section 55 of the Calcutta Port Act, 1890 (Ben. Act III of 1890), to acquire vessels, and it is proposed in clause 3 of the Bill to empower them to build vessels for carrying passengers or goods within or partly within and partly without the limits of the Port; while clause 5 introduces an amendment to enable them to require payment for the carrying of goods or passengers in vessels belonging to or hired by them.

4. Existing conditions render it desirable that a ferry service for passengers should be established and worked by the Port Commissioners by way of an addition to the private passenger services already working. It is not intended that the Commissioners should carry goods in their vessels in competition with companies and other boat-owners already engaged in business of this class; but the necessity for carrying goods in the Commissioners' vessels in some cases might arise at any time, and it is expedient to recognise and provide for such a necessity. It is proposed, however, by clause 4 of the Bill, to require the general sanction of the Local Government to the carrying of goods, under such restrictions as may appear necessary so as to prevent any undue competition with private trade.

5. Under section 6 (k) of the Indian Ports Act, the Local Government is vested with powers to frame rules for licensing and regulating cargo, passenger and other boats plying, whether for hire or not, in any port in which the Act is in force. In the Port of Calcutta this duty of licensing and regulating boats is vested in the Commissioners of the Port; but under section 106 of the Calcutta Port Act, the Commissioners are empowered to frame a scale of tolls, rates, charges and fees to be paid by owners of vessels plying for hire only. Consequently when framing the rules under section 6 (k) of the former Act, vessels not plying for hire were excluded from licensing and registration.

6. A comparison of section 6 (k) of the Indian Ports Act with the corresponding section of the repealed Act of 1875 shows that it was the object of the Legislature to make no distinction in the treatment of vessels that are plying for hire and vessels that are not plying for hire, and it was clearly due to an omission that the correction was not made in the Calcutta Port Act when it was last amended in 1898. In the interests of the Port it is necessary that vessels not plying for hire should be regulated and brought under the same control as those plying for hire, and it is now proposed to do this by amending section 106 of the Act.

PART VI.

Bills introduced into the Council of the Governor General for making
Laws and Regulations, or published under Rule 23.

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA.

LEGISLATIVE DEPARTMENT.

The following Bill was introduced in the Council of the Governor General of India for the purpose of making Laws and Regulations on the 10th March, 1905:—

No. 6 OF 1905.

A Bill further to amend the Court-fees Act, 1870.

WHEREAS it is expedient further to amend the Court-fees Act, 1870; It is hereby enacted as follows:—

1. This Act may be called the Court-fees (Amendment) Act, 1905.

Short title.

2. In section 7, sub-head xi, of the Court-fees Act, 1870,— Amendment of section 7, Act VII, 1870.

(1) after clause (c), the following clause shall be inserted, namely:—

“(cc) by a landlord to eject a tenant or a person remaining, after the determination of his tenancy, in possession of any immoveable property;”

(2) for the word “land”, in clause (e), the words “any immoveable property” shall be substituted; and

(3) for the word “land”, in the concluding clause, the word “property” shall be substituted.

STATEMENT OF OBJECTS AND REASONS.

IT has been held by the Chief Court of Lower Burma that the court-fee payable in suits for the ejectment of persons remaining in possession of immoveable property after the determination of their tenancy must, under clause v of section 7 of the Court-fees Act, 1870, be computed upon the value of the property. The effect of the decision referred to is to require the payment of an unduly heavy fee in suits the object of which is solely to secure ejectment, and in which the title to property is not in dispute. It is accordingly proposed by the present Bill, which has been prepared after consultation with the various Local Governments and High Courts, to declare that the court-fee in such suits shall be computed upon the yearly rent of the property. This is the effect of the new clause (cc) which sub-clause (1) of clause 2 of the Bill proposes to insert in sub-head xi of section 7 of the Act. The other clauses of the Bill are designed to remove the possibility of doubt as to the meaning of the word “land” as used in clause (e) and the last clause of the same sub-head.

The 8th March, 1905.

A. T. ARUNDEL.

J. M. MACPHERSON,
Secretary to the Government of India.

PRELIMINARY FORECAST OF THE OIL-SEED CROPS OF BENGAL, 1904-1905.

THE following note is published for general information. Since the publication of this forecast frost is reported to have damaged linseed in Patna district to the extent of 40 per cent, and mustard and rape in Purnea district to the extent of 20 per cent. Slight damage to the oil-seed crops is reported from Saran and Muzaffarpur. The report from Shahabad has not yet been received.

R. W. CARLYLE,

Offg. Chief Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

The 10th March 1905.

DEPARTMENT OF LAND RECORDS AND AGRICULTURE, BENGAL.

Preliminary Forecast of the Oil-seed Crops of Bengal, 1904-1905.

Explanatory.—This forecast furnishes preliminary estimates of area and outturn of the different kinds of oil-seeds, both dhadoi and rabi, grown in these Provinces. The chief oil-seed crops of the Province are white and brown mustard or colza, rape (rai) or small mustard, sesamum (si), linseed, castor, niger oil-seed (sirgija) and cruca sativa (tardam). The large and small mustards which are not yet distinguished in the returns occupy about 55 per cent.

of the total area under oil-seeds. Linseed occupies about 23 per cent. The remaining 24 per cent. is occupied by other oil-seed crops. The chief mustard growing districts are in the Rajshahi Division, also in Mymensingh, Dacca, Purnea and the Sonthal Parganas. The lands annually inundated by the great rivers of the Province are best suited for this crop. Linseed, which does better in the harder old alluvium, flourishes best in Darbhanga, Saran, Champaran and Gaya. Til like mustard grows best on new alluvium, and it is also grown successfully in the gritty and rocky soils of this Province. So while this crop is largely grown in Jessore, Bogra, Pabna, Dacca, Mymensingh, Backergunge, Tippera and Noakhali, it is also grown in Midnapore, Gaya, Angul, Hazaribagh and Palamau.

2. Character of the season.—The season has been on the whole favourable to the oil-seed crops. The rainfall at the end of October was highly beneficial to the rabi oil-seeds at the sowing and the early growing seasons. Drought affected the crops chiefly in Palamau, Ranchi, Jessore and Angul. Excessive rainfall in October at sowing time affected the crop prejudicially chiefly in Nadia, Noakhali and Jalpaiguri. Injury done by insect pest is reported only from Buxar and Sadar subdivisions of Shahabad. Late floods in Eastern Bengal and Murshidabad did rather good than harm to the oil-seed crops that were sown afterwards. The drought that prevailed in December has been more than compensated for by the showers which were general in January all over the Province.

3. Area sown.—Since the publication of the final forecast of the oil-seed crops of 1903-1904, the District Officers of Burdwan, Hooghly, Jalpaiguri, and Mymensingh have submitted revised figures for normal areas. The total normal area for the whole Province is now estimated at 3,954,400 acres against 3,878,900 acres estimated last year. The area actually sown this year is 3,685,200 acres against 3,829,500 acres which was subsequently revised to 3,827,300 acres. The decrease is due in some districts to rains holding off till the end of October. Of the normal and actual areas, 1,200,786 acres and 717,967 acres only are based on ascertained facts.

4. Character of the crop.—As in the last year, Pabna, Dacca and Purnea have again reported a 100 per cent. crop. The other districts which have reported 100 per cent. crop are Birbhum, Mymensingh, Champaran and Bhagalpur. Twelve districts, viz., 24 Parganas, Dinajpur, Faridpur, Backergunge, Tippera, Chittagong, Patna, Gaya, Saran, Muzaffarpur, Malda and Cuttack, have reported 90 to 99 per cent. crops. Twelve other districts, viz., Hooghly, Murshidabad, Khulna, Rajshahi, Jalpaiguri, Darjeeling, Rangpur, Shahabad, Darbhanga, Balasore, Hazaribagh and Singhbhum, have reported 80 to 89 per cent. crops. Angul, Ranchi and Palamau have reported the worst crops estimated variously at 50 to 58 per cent. of a normal crop. According to the district estimates the general outturn for the Province comes to 87 per cent. of a normal crop against 84 per cent. estimated last year by District Officers. Considering the favourable character of the rainfall in January, I am inclined at present to raise the general estimate to 90 per cent.

Director of the Dept. of Land Records and Agriculture, Bengal.

RESOLUTION ON THE SURVEY AND SETTLEMENT REPORTS FOR THE YEAR ENDING THE 30TH SEPTEMBER, 1904.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT—LAND REVENUE.

Calcutta, the 13th March 1905.

RESOLUTION—No. 1458.

READ—

The Survey and Settlement Reports for the year ending the 30th September 1904, with the remarks of the Board of Revenue thereon.

The submission of the Settlement Report of the Director of Land Records was delayed for over a month by the necessity of obtaining fresh statistics for its appendices in certain modified forms the introduction of which was unavoidably delayed. Both the Survey and Settlement Reports have been written concisely and in general conformity with the orders of Government.

2. During the year, the work of the Survey and Settlement Departments in Bengal extended over portions of fifteen districts comprised in eight Divisions, exclusive of certain municipal and other minor areas, and of the Political States of Kharsawan and Seraikola in Chota Nagpur the survey and settlement of which have been undertaken at the request of the Chiefs. With a few trifling exceptions, the programme, which was large, was carried out completely. The traverse survey covered a total area of 5,028 square miles as against 6,884 square miles in the year 1902-1903; but the area cadastrally surveyed (5,044·77 square miles) exceeded the previous year's outturn by 1,325·77 square miles, while an additional area of 463 square miles was surveyed topographically. Up to the close of the period covered by the present Reports, a record-of-rights had been framed, under the supervision of the Director of Land Records, in respect of 35,231 square miles out of the 151,185 square miles which form the total area of British territory in the Province. The progress during the last 18 years has averaged 1,957 square miles per annum; but the area completed in the year 1903-1904 amounted to 2,749 square miles, and the recent expansion of the unit of operations to be carried out by each Survey and Settlement party will result in yet more rapid progress in future.

3. Both Reports present a year's record of successful administration, and the Lieutenant-Governor is glad to notice that, as observed by the Board, Major Crichton continued to keep prominently before him the object of securing all economy possible without impairing the efficiency of the work. As indicated by the figures noted in the margin, the cost rates of traverse survey were slightly higher than in the previous year in all the larger operations. His Honour is, however, satisfied that, in the circumstances stated in paragraphs 13, 16, 19 and 21 of the Survey Report, the rates could not well have been lower. As regards cadastral survey and initial record-writing, which are by far the most expensive items of survey work, the cost rates per square mile in Bhagalpur, Backergunge and Ranchi were, respectively, Rs. 82·7, Rs. 130, and Rs. 93·2 as against Rs. 132·5, Rs. 167·7, and Rs. 94 in the previous year. The reduction is stated to be due mainly to larger fields and the acquisition of experience by the staff. Sir Andrew Fraser agrees with Major Crichton that the cost rate of Rs. 101·5 for cadastral survey and initial record-writing in the district of Purnea is a very low rate, considering the fact that the district is very unhealthy; and His Honour notices with satisfaction that the Managers of the Darbhanga and Banaili estates in this district gave ready assistance to the Survey Department in obtaining coolie labour with regard to which considerable difficulty was experienced at the outset. The exceptionally low cost rate of cadastral survey and initial record-writing in Ranchi was due in a great measure to the fact that the people continued to supply labour free of charge. This is very satisfactory, inasmuch as, owing to the poverty of the country and the people, economy is of special importance in Chota Nagpur.

DISTRICT.	Cost rate of traverse survey per square mile.
	1902-03.	1903-04.
	Rs.	Rs.

4. In paragraphs 67, 71 and 72 of the Settlement Report the Director of Land Records refers to a deplorable state of things in the district of Ranchi. Of the number of holdings the records of which were attested during the year, 16 per cent. are held by non-occupancy raiyats. The total number of tenures recorded was 17,152, of which 5,906 were holdings of occupancy raiyats and 2,782 of non-occupancy raiyats. This unduly high proportion is attributable mainly to the existing tenancy law of Chota Nagpur, under which no raiyat can acquire a right of occupancy in a plot of land unless he has cultivated or held that particular plot for a period of 12 continuous years. An amendment of the law cannot be undertaken until sufficient materials for a definite decision have been collected by means of the survey and settlement operations now in progress; but the Lieutenant-Governor hopes that those operations will effect some improvement in the condition of the raiyats in the meantime. The other matters referred to by the Director, viz, the subversion of the rights of the Mundas under the cloak of the law, and the consequent want of confidence in the law courts on the part of the aboriginal population, engaged the Lieutenant-Governor's attention during his visit to Ranchi in September 1904. The whole subject was fully discussed by His Honour with the local officers and the Rev. Father Hoffmann, S.J., Missionary at Sarwada, who is admittedly one of the best living authorities regarding the religion and customs of the Mundas. With regard to the possibility of remedying the evil already done, the Lieutenant-Governor awaits a joint report from the Commissioner of Chota Nagpur and the Settlement Officer of Ranchi. As regards the prevention of injury to the raiyats in future, it is to be noted that one of the main objects with which the settlement of the district had been undertaken was to ascertain and maintain the rights of the Mundas. It appeared to His Honour, therefore, that the principal preventive measure should be to provide against the settlement becoming fruitless and nugatory owing to the courts remaining ignorant of, or in any way antagonistic to, its results. Steps have accordingly been taken for the instruction of Deputy Magistrates and of officers subordinate to the Judicial Commissioner of Chota Nagpur in the nature and value of the settlement records, and for the regular supply of information to these officers as to the progress of the settlement in every part of the district. At the request of His Honour Mr. Carnduff, late Judicial Commissioner of Chota Nagpur, has also brought out an annotated edition of the Chota Nagpur Landlord and Tenant Procedure Act, which furnishes an authoritative account of the history and nature of the Mundari tenures; and this will, it is hoped, lead to more satisfactory decisions of cases in future.

5. In the course of the settlement proceedings in Ranchi, considerable difficulty was experienced in the identification of the lands surveyed under the Bhuinhari Act, II (B.C.) of 1869, as the bhuinhari maps never exactly coincide with the actual field boundaries of the present survey. The procedure adopted by the Settlement Department to eliminate the discrepancies, as stated in paragraph 66 of the Director's Report, appears to the Lieutenant-Governor to be satisfactory.

6. In North Bhagalpur the task of the Settlement Department was beset with special difficulties, inasmuch as many landlords had enhanced rents in contravention of the provisions of section 29 of the Bengal Tenancy Act. Similar instances having come to light elsewhere, Government has now under consideration an amending Bill intended to remove the defects in the law which render such contravention possible.

7. In paragraph 4 of the Resolution on the Survey and Settlement Reports for the year ending 30th September 1903, the Lieutenant-Governor had occasion to express his decided opinion that the trustworthiness of the record-of-rights should on no account be impaired by the appointment of kanungos and persons not previously in the service of Government to the responsible office of an Assistant Settlement Officer. The Government of India have also expressed their strong disapproval of the employment of such agency, and the practice has been continued only because of the inadequacy of the Provincial and Subordinate Executive Services. It has now been finally decided that no one below the rank of a Sub-Deputy Collector shall be appointed to be an Assistant Settlement Officer, and steps have been taken to provide the requisite number of Deputy and Sub-Deputy Collectors. As soon as these have been provided kanungos and persons not previously in the service of Government will no longer be appointed Assistant Settlement Officers.

8. With regard to the question of diara surveys alluded to in paragraph 5 of the last year's Resolution, it has been decided that as riverain tracts will be surveyed in the course of the survey and settlement of each district, action should for the present be confined to keeping up to date the maps of diara lands so surveyed, and arrangements have been made for a beginning in the Patna Division.

9. The schemes for the maintenance of settlement records in North Bihar, Chittagong and Orissa are still under the consideration of the Government of India. The Settlement Report bears evidence of considerable improvement in the record of mutations and the maintenance of rent-rolls in Government and wards' estates. The Lieutenant-Governor has no doubt that the Board will take such steps as may be considered necessary for the proper performance of this important task where it is still backward.

10. The Lieutenant-Governor is much gratified to find that during the year there was an appreciable advance in the utilisation of settlement records. These records are prepared with immense trouble and at great expense; and if they are properly used and are given the weight which attaches to them under the law, they cannot fail to be of the greatest assistance in many branches of district administration, and to afford the protection which it is their primary object to ensure. Ignorance as to the nature of these documents and as to the mode of using them have been the main reasons why they have not hitherto been in such request as they should be. Suitable instructions have therefore been issued for the guidance of Executive Officers; and a scheme is now under consideration for giving Munsifs a training in settlement work in order that before entering upon the difficult duty of adjudicating on disputes connected with land, they may acquire a practical knowledge of the settlement procedure and records and of agrarian conditions generally.

11. Revised rules for the maintenance of boundary marks have only recently issued, but already there are signs of improvement in this matter; and, judging from this, the Lieutenant-Governor agrees with Mr. Maddox that a more efficient record and maintenance of these marks in future may well be looked for.

12. This short review would be incomplete without an expression of the Lieutenant-Governor's cordial appreciation of the services of Major R. T. Crichton and Mr. S. L. Maddox, who were in charge of the Survey and Settlement Departments respectively, and of those of the officers named in the concluding chapters of the two Reports. Sir Andrew Fraser fully agrees with what the Director of Land Records and the Board have said with regard to Mr. Beatson Bell, Settlement Officer, Backergunge, whom His Honour congratulates upon the smooth and successful carrying out of operations in a district which presented special difficulties. The Lieutenant-Governor's acknowledgments are also due to Messrs. McPherson, Lister and Coupland for the excellent work done by them.

ORDER.—Ordered that this Resolution be published in the Calcutta Gazette, and that a copy of it, with copies of the two Reports, be submitted to the Government of India.

By order of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

R. W. CARLYLE,

Offg. Chief Secretary to the Govt. of Bengal.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self-registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph. The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

a, dew; o, overcast; p, passing temporary showers; d, drizzling rain; g, gloomy; t, thunder.

Proclamation.

TO be peremptorily sold pursuant to an order of this Honorable Court in execution of the decree made in this suit, wherein Nemy Churan Coondou is plaintiff and Nibaran Chunder Deriah and others are defendants, and dated, respectively, the 2nd day of July and 26th day of January 1904, by the Sheriff of Calcutta at his sale-room on the ground-floor of the Court-house by public auction on Thursday, the 30th day of March 1905, at the hour of 12 o'clock noon, the following property belonging to the plaintiff:—

All that the undivided, one-third part or share of the plaintiff, Nemy Churan Coondou, in all that upper-roomed, brick-built dwelling-house with land containing by estimation 1 cottah 3 chitaks 42 square feet more or less, being premises No. 20 Raj Chunder Sen's Lane, Champatollah, in the town of Calcutta, and bounded on the north by the tenanted house of Thakur Dass Mookerjee, and on the east, west and south by Raj Chunder Sen's Lane.

The amount for the recovery of which the sale has been ordered is Rs. 1,835-12 with interest thereon at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum from the 27th day of April last besides costs of execution.

From a search made at the office of the Registrar of Assurances, Calcutta, it appears that the said Nemy Chunder Coondou executed a Bengali bill of sale of his one-third share in the said premises in favour of Sreemutty Narayan Mony Dassee of the same place, widow of Dina Nath Coondou, deceased, on the 11th day of May last at or for the sum of Rs. 1,500.

It appears from the evidence of Nemy Charan Coondou and Narayan Mony Dassee taken before the Registrar of this Court that a bill of sale in favour of Narayan Mony Dassee was executed and registered by Nemy Churan Coondou, but that there was in fact no sale at all, and that the bill of sale is still in the custody of the said Nemy Churan Coondou who is still the owner of the said one-third share and in possession thereof.

That save and except as above there is no mortgage, or other incumbrances affecting the said premises.

The conditions of sale may be seen at the Sheriff's Office in the ground floor of the Court-house any day before the sale.

*Abstract of the Proceedings of the Council of the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal,

NEW MEMBER.

The Hon'ble MR. CURNDUFF took his seat in Council.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

THE GORAGHAT ROAD WITHIN THE BHADRESWAR MUNICIPALITY.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—

Is the Government aware that the Sub-Divisional Officer, Serampore, has made over a considerable portion of another important public thoroughfare, vis., "Gorerghat Road" within the Bhadreswar Municipality to Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co., and the said road has already been taken possession of by the Company? Has the transfer been made under the Land Acquisition Act? If not, does the Government consider the transfer legal?

The Hon'ble MR. SHIERES replied:—

"It has been ascertained that the Sub-Divisional Officer, Serampore, has not made over any portion of the Gorerghat Road within the Bhadreswar Municipality to Messrs. Thomas Duff & Co."

THE CALCUTTA UNIVERSITY TEACHERS' ASSOCIATION.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR asked:—

(a) Has the attention of the Government been called to an article in the Indian Mirror of the 20th December last, in which it is stated that there has been established in Calcutta a "Teachers' Association" which seeks to control the action of the Senate and the Syndicate of the University?

(b) Will the Government be pleased to inquire if there are any teachers or professors belonging to any Government School or College among the members of this Association? And will His Honour the Lieutenant-Governor, as Rector of the University, be further pleased to ascertain how many members of this Association are among the Senate and in the Provisional Syndicate of the University? And how many of them are in Government service?

(c) Does the Government approve of Government officers forming part of an organization which, without any sort of official responsibility, thus seeks to prepare work for the Senate and the Syndicate and fetter the independent delegations of these important bodies?

The Hon'ble MR. CARNDUFF replied:—

"(a) The Lieutenant-Governor is aware of the existence of an Association called the 'Calcutta University Teachers' Association,' the object of which is 'to provide University teachers with opportunities for the discussion of educational questions and the formation and public expression of definite professional opinion.' All persons who follow, as their main occupation, the profession of teaching in colleges or other institutions affiliated to the Calcutta University, or who, having been formerly so engaged, are mainly employed in the direction or inspection of teaching, are eligible for election as members of the Association.

"(b) There are several teachers or professors in Government institutions who are members of the Association. Some of these are also among the members of the Senate and of the Provisional Syndicate of the University.

"(c) The Lieutenant-Governor entirely approves of the existence of the Association and of its objects. He considers that it is very desirable to promote greater intercourse among teachers and to enable them to meet together periodically to discuss questions affecting education. Enquiry, which His Honour has thought it necessary to make, shows that the Association does not seek to control the action of the Senate and Syndicate of the University, nor to fetter these bodies in the discharge of their important duties. It is true that, on one occasion, a suggestion was made that all the members, who are also members of the Senate, should bind themselves to act together in regard to a University matter; but this suggestion was not accepted or acted on. His Honour would certainly disapprove of Government officers belonging to any organisation which fettered them in the discharge of their duties either as Government servants or as Fellows of the University or members of the Syndicate. But he has been assured, and is satisfied, that it is not one of the objects of this Association to do anything of the kind; and His Honour believes that Government officers may belong to it not only without injury, but with advantage to the work that they have to do."

INCOME-TAX ASSESSMENT IN BENGAL DURING THE YEARS 1901-1904.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said:—

On examining the figures given in the statement of Income-tax Assessment for the years 1901-1902, 1902-1903 and 1903-1904, as furnished by Government at my request on the 4th March, 1905, it appears that although the number of assesseees in each of the six classes noted therein was pretty steady in both the years 1901-1902 and 1902-1903, there was a remarkable increase in the number of assesseees with income of Rs. 1,000—1,250 in every district in 1903-1904,—the year in which Act XI of 1903 came into force granting exemption to all incomes below Rs. 1,000,—while in not a few of the districts such increase was nearly double of the previous years; and that on the whole while the number of assesseees in this class (e.g., Rs. 1,000—1,250) stood at nearly 12,000 in both the years 1901-1902 and 1902-1903, it suddenly rose to 19,000 in 1903-1904; but that such striking fluctuations were not observable in the other classes (e.g., Rs. 1,250—1,500, Rs. 1,500—1,750 and Rs. 1,750—2,000) which still continued pretty steady. And as regards the demand of tax also it would further appear that while the decrease in the revenue on account of exemption of all incomes below Rs. 1,000 ought alone to have come to nearly 9 lakhs of rupees, the total revenue for the year 1903-1904 did not show an equivalent percentage of decrease upon the previous year.

(a) In view of the above facts and figures, will the Government be pleased to enquire whether or not a large number of persons who were entitled to exemption from taxation under Act XI of 1903 have had their incomes arbitrarily raised so as to be included in the lowest grade of assessment in 1903-1904, thereby frustrating to a large extent the benevolent intentions of Government in raising the minimum of taxable limit to Rs. 1,000?

(b) Will the Government be further pleased to warn all income-tax officers against any attempt at tampering with a concession which the Government has generously granted to a poor people particularly in commemoration of His Majesty's accession to the Throne?

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRRES replied:—

"The Board of Revenue has asked the local officers to explain the increase in the number of assesseees in the lowest grade. Until the replies have been received and considered no further instructions on the subject can be issued."

THE EDUCATION DEPARTMENT.

The Hon'ble BABU AMBIKA CHARAN MAZUMDAR said:—

(a) In view of the congestion which has taken place in the Educational Services as organised in 1896 and the want of attraction which they still present to distinguished men in adopting the Educational Department, will the Government be pleased to consider whether it is not time to re-consider and re-adjust the system of 1896 and place the Educational Services on a more satisfactory and attractive basis?

(b) Will the Government be further pleased to lay on the table a statement containing the following particulars regarding the officers in the Subordinate

Educational Service outside the grade established under the re-organization of the Bengal Educational Department in 1896?—

- (i) the names of such officers;
- (ii) their educational qualifications;
- (iii) their present salary;
- (iv) the date of their first appointment;
- (v) the date on which they were admitted to their present salary.

The Hon'ble Mr. CARNDUFF replied:—

“(a) The importance of re-organising the Education Department has been fully realised by the Government of Bengal; and a scheme is now before the Government of India. It includes the Provincial and Subordinate Educational Services and the ungraded officers of the Department.

“(b) In these circumstances it seems unnecessary to give the detailed information asked for.”

MORTALITY IN THE JESSORE DISTRICT.

The Hon'ble Mr. CHAUDHURI said:—

According to the last Census Report the population of the district of Jessore shows a decrease of 75,672 in the course of ten years, which, again, is over 25,000 more than the decline of population during the previous ten years, and further the mortality in the district during 1904 exceeded the births by over 14,000. In view of such rapidly increasing mortality in the district due to such preventable diseases as malarial fever and cholera, has the Government enquired into the causes thereof, and will the Government be pleased to state what steps have been taken or may be in contemplation to remove such causes?

The Hon'ble Mr. SHIRRES replied:—

“The figures quoted by the Hon'ble Member from the Census Report are correct. There has been no recent increase in the death-rate from cholera in Jessore. The mortality in the year 1904 was unusually high, but the average mortality in the five years ending with 1904 was exactly the same as that of the preceding quinquennium. During the same quinquennial periods the death-rate attributed to fever has increased from 30·66 to 32·08. This subject was discussed in the Resolution on the last Annual Report of the Sanitary Commissioner for Bengal; and it was shown that the increase in the death-rate in certain districts during the five years ending with 1902 as compared with the preceding five years had been coincident with an increase in the rainfall in those districts, while in the remaining districts of the Province and in the Province as a whole there had been a decrease. In Jessore the rainfall increased from an average of 47·60 inches in the five years ending with 1897 to 66·16 inches in the five years ending with 1902. The history of Jessore fever, or as is usually called Burdwan fever, is a long one, and much has been written regarding it. There is every reason to suppose that the mortality due to it when it first appeared was much greater than it has been in recent years, although no reliable statistics are available for the earlier years. Accounts of it will be found in Hunter's Gazetteer in his statistical accounts of the Burdwan and Jessore districts and in the last Census Report by Mr. Gait. A Commission was appointed to enquire into it in the year 1864; and another Commission enquired again in 1881. In 1900 Captain Rogers made another enquiry with special reference to the riparian Municipalities; and again in 1904, in view of the recent advances in bacteriological science, he was specially deputed to make another enquiry in Dinajpur. The last enquiry yielded important results. It has long been known that certain types of fever classed as malaria do not yield to quinine, but we are only now beginning to be able to differentiate them. As the diagnosis of the chankidar has to be relied on it cannot be stated what proportion of the deaths are due to true malaria. Government has recently increased the quantity of quinine in pice packets and has taken steps to add to the quinine factory and to increase the number of centres of distribution. It may also be added that a scheme is under consideration for draining some of the bhils in the district of Jessore into the Bhoirab."

MORTALITY IN THE NATOR SUB-DIVISION.

The Hon'ble MR. CHAUDHURI said:—

Is not the extraordinary death-rate in the Nator Sub-division (65·77 per mille) during the year 1904 and the high rate of mortality prevailing during previous years (varying between 40 and 50 per mille) and the general decline of population in the sub-division chiefly due to scarcity of good drinking water and the obstruction of the natural drainage of the country? Will the Government be pleased to enquire whether the removal of the sand-bars at the source of the river Bural, ensuring an abundant flow of water from the Padma river through such streams as the Mushakhan, Narad, Gadai and Nundagooja and the automatic flushing out of the beels by such streams during the rainy season, effectively remove the causes of such heavy mortality, the North Bengal State Railway line being also provided, where necessary, with a sufficient number of culverts to prevent the accumulation of stagnant water?

If the above be found, on inquiry, a sufficient remedy, would the Government be pleased to take such steps as it may deem necessary for the purpose?

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRRES replied:—

"A report has been called for from the Commissioner of the Rajshahi Division on the subject of this question. What action will be taken on it cannot of course be stated until it has been received."

FEVER IN THE NADIA DISTRICT

The Hon'ble MR. CHAUDHURI said:—

Has the Government enquired into the causes of high rate of mortality prevailing in the Nadia district during the last three years, and have any remedial measures been adopted to cope with the epidemics of cholera and malarial fever which may be said to be responsible for the high percentage of deaths in the district?

The Hon'ble MR. SHIRRES replied:—

"The death-rate from fever in the district of Nadia in the year 1904 was 29·69, the average of the preceding five years having been 32·04. The same general remarks apply to fever in Nadia as to fever in Jessore. All that can be said is that the recent advances which have been made in our knowledge of the etiology of the diseases grouped under the head 'Malaria' raise the hope that we may soon learn how to deal more effectively with these diseases. As regards cholera there has, as stated by the Hon'ble Member, been an epidemic of that disease during the last three years. Unfortunately such epidemics are not of rare occurrence in Nadia, and the epidemics of 1883 to 1886, of 1891 and 1892 and of 1894 to 1896 were all more virulent than the present one. Much may be done by the people themselves to conserve and protect from contamination the sources of water-supply and to purify the water by boiling or filtering; but the difficulties which have arisen in connection with several Municipalities in Nadia shew that the standard of duty in regard to sanitation in that district is very low."

THE CALCUTTA PORT (AMENDMENT) BILL, 1905.

THE HON'BLE MR. INGLIS moved for leave to introduce a Bill to amend the Calcutta Port Act, 1890. He said :—

“Sir, the Bill has been circulated to Members of the Council and the Statement of Objects and Reasons explain generally the object and the scope of the Bill. I propose therefore only to make a few remarks in further explanation of the clauses of the Bill.

“The second clause of the Bill proposes to add to the number of the Commissioners by two. The Commission of the Port of Calcutta is constituted under sections 5 and 6 of the Act. There is a Chairman and a Vice-Chairman, there are eight elected Commissioners and five nominated Commissioners. Of the elected members it is provided by the Act that five shall be elected by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce, one by the Calcutta Trades Association, one by the Corporation of Calcutta, and one by such body or firms as the Local Government shall from time to time select as representing the interests of the native mercantile community. The election of this Commissioner is entrusted to the Bengal National Chamber of Commerce. The five nominated Commissioners are distributed as follows: The Deputy Director of the Royal Indian Marine; the Collector of Customs; a representative of the Inland Steam Navigation Companies and two representatives of the Railways. As Members of Council are well aware, there are three large Railway systems which centre in Calcutta: the East Indian Railway, the Bengal-Nagpur Railway and the Eastern Bengal State Railway. These Railways are all largely interested in the Port. Their interests are, however, sometimes divergent and may occasionally be antagonistic. Under existing conditions at any one time two of the three Railway systems are represented on the Commission by a system of rotation. It is held to be desirable that the three Railway systems should be continuously represented on the Commission, and it is proposed to give effect to this by allocating one of the additional Commissioners to the Railway interest.

“It is also held to be desirable that the town of Howrah should be represented on the Commission, and it is intended that the second Additional Commissioner should be either the Magistrate of Howrah or some other person selected to represent that town.

“Clauses 3, 4 and 5 of the Bill are required to enable the Port Commissioners to establish and work a ferry service on the Hooghly. At present the Commissioners are authorised to work a ferry between Armenian Ghat and Howrah. This authority they obtained under the provisions of the Howrah Bridge Act, and it is limited to a service to be maintained in connection with the bridge traffic only.

“It is now almost exactly two years since the Port Commissioners brought this matter to the notice of Government and asked for legislation. When they came up they asked for powers not only to enable them to work a ferry service on their own account but they also asked for powers to regulate the fares of all boats carrying passengers within the port.

“They also asked for powers to enable them to make, alter or repeal bye-laws dealing with ferries and other boats employed as public conveyances within the Port. The powers last mentioned involved an interference with vested rights of the District Board of the 24-Parganas in certain public ferries which they held under the Bengal Ferries Act. This involved a somewhat prolonged correspondence. It was eventually arranged that the Commissioners of the Port should purchase the rights held by the District Board in the ferries, and this having been done it is not necessary to make any provision for the matter in this Bill. It will, however, probably be necessary at a later date to make a small amendment in the Bengal Ferries Act.

“When the draft Bill was submitted to the Government of India last June, the Government of India suggested certain minor amendments and they took exception to the provision by which powers were to be given to the Commissioners of the Port to regulate the fares of all boats carrying passengers. They pointed out that the Commissioners might themselves be competing for passenger traffic with the owners of other boats, and it was not advisable that the Commissioners should have power to fix the rates at which their competitors should carry passengers. This was accepted by the Bengal Government, and a revised draft of the Bill was submitted to the Government of India last December, and the permission of the Secretary of State to the adoption of the Bill was received at the end of February.

"I think I may say without fear of contradiction that the establishment of a ferry service in the Hooghly will meet a public want. I think it is also generally agreed that under existing conditions the working of such a service by the Port Commissioners will be for the public convenience; at all events I think there are ample reasons for asking that the Port Commissioners may be legally enabled to establish and work a ferry service. At present under the provision of section 55 of the Act the Port Commissioners have authority to purchase or to lease moveable property generally. This no doubt would cover the purchase or hire of steamers. The Port Commissioners are, however, not authorised to build steam vessels except for the service of towing vessels within the port. Sub-section (7) of section 35 empowers them to build steam vessels required for the purpose of towing vessels in the port. It is proposed by clause 3 of the Bill to give the Port Commissioners power to build vessels suitable for the carriage of passengers and goods.

"By clause 5 of the Bill it is sought to give the Commissioners power to frame charges for the carriage of passengers and goods. The effect of clause 4 of the Bill is to restrict the Port Commissioners from the carriage of goods without the sanction of the Local Government. I may say that the Port Commissioners do not desire to compete with other carriers for the conveyance of goods, but it may be necessary and desirable at times that they should have authority to carry goods. The Local Government has ample powers under section 107 of the Act to control all schedules of charges which may be framed by the Port Commissioners.

"Clause 6 of the Bill deals with a different matter. Under section 6, sub-section (1), clause (k) of the Indian Ports Act, the Local Government has power to make certain rules. The words of the Act are:

The Local Government may, in addition to any rules which it may make under any other enactment for the time being in force, make such rules, consistent with this Act, as it thinks necessary for any of the following purposes, namely:—(Clause k) for licensing and regulating catamarans plying for hire and flats and cargo, passenger and other boats plying, whether for hire or not, and whether regularly or only occasionally, in or partly within and partly without any such port, and for determining the quantity of cargo or number of passengers to be carried by any such vessels.

"By section 8 of the Indian Ports Act, sub-section 1), the Conservator of any Port subject to this Act may, with respect to any vessel within the port, give directions for carrying into effect any rule for the time being in force therein under section 6.

"By section 7 of the same Act, the Local Government shall appoint some officer or body of persons to be Conservator of every Port subject to this Act. Under the powers given in this section the Commissioners of the Port of Calcutta have been appointed Conservators of the Port. The case, therefore, stands thus: The Local Government has power to make rules for regulating and licensing all boats other than catamarans whether plying for hire or not. The Commissioners of the Port in their capacity of Conservator have powers to carry the rules into effect. There is, however, no authority in section 6 of the Indian Ports Act or in any other section of that Act to authorise the charging of any fees for such licensing or registration. For this we have to refer to section 106 of the Calcutta Port Act. Under this section the Commissioners are authorised to frame a scale of charges and fees to be paid by the owners of vessels plying for hire. They have, however, no authority to frame any scale of fees or charges for boats which do not ply for hire.

Clause 6 of the Bill has been introduced with the intention of removing this distinction.

"It will, I think, be generally admitted that as a part of the administration of the port all boats which ply within it should be subject to control and should be required to be licensed and to be registered, and I see no reason why a distinction should be drawn in the matter of fees between those boats which ply for hire and those boats which ply only for their owners. As I have already said, under section 107 the Local Government has ample power to control the scale of charges which may be suggested by the Port Commissioners. Sub-section (2) of section 107 reads thus: 'It shall also be competent to the Local Government at any time to cancel any of the scales framed under sections 103 to 106 (both inclusive), or to call upon the Commissioners to modify any portion of such scales and thereupon the Commissioners in meeting shall modify such scales accordingly.' With these remarks, I move for leave to introduce the Bill."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Hon'ble Mr. INGLIS introduced the Bill, and moved that it be read in Council.

The Hon'ble BABU BHUPENDRA NATH BASU said:—"With reference to the observations which have fallen from the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis in introducing the Bill I have only one remark to make. It seems that provisions are going to be made which will enable the Port Commissioners to compete against private enterprise. If the Port Commissioners are allowed to establish ferries and to ply boats for hire both as regards passenger traffic and goods they will be formidable rivals against private owners of boats and private carriers. I hope, Sir, public opinion will be invited as regards the desirability of conferring these powers upon the Port Commissioners. There is no doubt, as the Hon'ble Mr. Inglis said without fear of contradiction, that the establishment of ferries will be a great boon conferred on the public, but I may remind Hon'ble Members of this Council that we, the people of Calcutta, have a great grievance with regard to the hackney-carriage service, and if the Hon'ble Mr. Greer could undertake the burden of providing suitable hackney-carriages for the people of Calcutta we would all be very thankful to him; but the question will arise as to how far public bodies with practically unlimited resources, should be allowed to enter into competition with private individuals, and it is in regard to that part of the Bill that I would ask the Members of the Select Committee which is going to be framed to devote their careful attention and also to call the attention of the public to those provisions."

The Motion was put and agreed to and the Bill was read accordingly.

The Hon'ble Mr. INGLIS said:—"I need not add to the remarks which I have made in asking for leave to introduce the Bill. It can, I think, hardly be said to be a contentious measure. Possibly I am taking rather too hopeful a view of this; still I think there is not likely to be much opposition. At the same time it provides for three separate matters, in two of which the public generally and certain firms and associations are distinctly interested. It is therefore desirable that the clauses of the Bill should be well scrutinised in Committee. I now move that the Bill be referred to a Select Committee, consisting of the Hon'ble Mr. Hare, the Hon'ble Mr. B. L. Gupta, the Hon'ble Mr. Apear, the Hon'ble Babu Nalin Behari Sircar and myself, with instructions to report to the Council on the 25th instant."

The Motion was put and agreed to.

The Council was then adjourned to Saturday, the 25th March, 1905.

General Summary.—Rain is reported from the greater part of lower Bengal and Orissa, from 5 districts in Bihar, and 8 in Chota Nagpur. The fall was over an inch in four districts in Bengal Proper and in one in Orissa. Owing to the unfavourable climatic conditions of January and February the prospects of rabi are not good, but the recent rain has facilitated the cultivation of autumn crops which is in progress. Cattle-disease reported from 11 districts, but there is no want of fodder and water. The price of rice, which is the chief food-grain in Bengal, has an upward tendency, but nowhere it is abnormally high.

The mean pressure, temperature, etc., are deduced from the traces of the Barograph and Thermograph and from eye observations.

The maximum and minimum temperatures are obtained from self registering thermometers. All the thermometers are verified and the readings have been corrected to a standard constructed and verified at the Kew Observatory. They are exposed under a thatched shed open at the sides, and are suspended four feet above the ground.

The barometer readings are corrected to those of the standard, Newman's No. 86, formerly at the Surveyor-General's Office.

The hygrometric elements are obtained from Tables III, IV and V of the official tables computed in the Meteorological Office, and based on Regnault's modifications of August's formula.

The directions and the movement of the wind are taken from the trace of a Beckley's anemograph.

The mouth of the rain-gauge is one foot above the ground. Rainfall reported on any day is for 24 hours preceding 8 A.M. of that day.

o, overcast; g, gloomy; d, drizzling rain; t, thunder; p, passing temporary showers m, dew; f, fog.

SUMMARY OF THE METEOROLOGICAL AND RAINFALL OBSERVATIONS TAKEN IN BENGAL, AND OF THE METEOROLOGICAL OBSERVA-TIONS TAKEN IN ASSAM, FOR THE MONTH OF FEBRUARY 1905.

The series of cold-weather depressions, which commenced in January, continued throughout February, and their characteristic features were much more notable in the latter than in the preceding month. Not only was the accompanying precipitation greater, but the succeeding cold waves were likewise more marked. In fact, the temperatures recorded were not only abnormal, but fell below the lowest recorded temperatures for Bengal by very considerable amounts.

At the beginning of the month the cold wave, which succeeded the depression of the last days in January, was just beginning to affect the province, and both day and night temperatures fell rapidly, while at the same time there was a large excess of pressure. Bright clear weather prevailed everywhere. The first indication of the advance of a fresh depression appeared on the 4th, when a slight fall of pressure took place, while at the same time an area of relatively low pressure was shown in the United Provinces. On the 5th the depression was lying over Bengal and had deepened considerably, and though pressure commenced to rise on the morning of the 6th in the United Provinces, Bengal itself remained under the influence of this depression until the 8th, when high pressure conditions had once more re-established themselves. Though the barometer did not fall much below the normal, the disturbance was well marked and was accompanied by general, though for the most part light, rainfall. The cold which followed this storm was of a most unusual character, and the departure from the normal of the temperatures registered throughout the province was the greatest ever recorded. Ground frosts were reported from a considerable number of stations in Bengal. In Calcutta the minimum air temperature between the 9th and 10th, i.e., 45° 9' was nearly 13° below the normal.

These conditions of fine cold weather with exceptionally high pressure continued practically uninterrupted till the 14th, though pressure began to fall and temperature to rise slowly on the 12th.

This change was due to the advance of a fresh depression from North-Western India, which, however, did not actually enter the province till the 18th, when it was shown as lying over the Central Provinces and the adjacent parts of Chota Nagpur and Orissa.

Rain began to fall in Bihar on the 15th and gradually extended eastwards over the province. Pressure was lowest on the 17th, the centre of the depression being still in the Central Provinces, and the rainfall which was general over Bengal was also heaviest on that date.

A rapid rise of the barometer followed this storm, and pressure was again above the normal throughout the province on the 19th. Very low day temperatures were recorded during the period of rainfall, and the disappearance of the storm was succeeded by the usual fall in night temperatures. Weather remained cold and dry till the 22nd, when a small shallow area of low pressure appeared over the Central Provinces. This depression was, however, too slight to affect the weather of the Province to any further extent than to cause a rise in night temperatures. The barometer notwithstanding the fall caused by this depression remained everywhere above the normal, and owing to a fresh rise which took place on the 27th excess pressure on that date was considerable. On the same day, however, low pressure again showed itself in the United Provinces, and under its influence rainfall commenced in the west of the province on the last day of the month.

Pressure was above the normal during the greater part of the month, the excess of pressure being at times large. The only period during which the barometer was below the normal were on the 6th and 7th and on the 15th, 16th and 17th of the month, which periods correspond to the two important storms which passed over the province, but the deficiency of pressure during these disturbances was never very great. The mean pressure for the month is therefore high, the excess being greater than $\frac{1}{10}$ th of an inch for the whole province except Chota Nagpur.

Temperature was similarly below the normal for practically the whole month, the defect being somewhat more marked in the day than in the night temperatures. The greatest deficiency in mean maximum temperature is shown at Gaya where it amounts to 10°, while the lowest mean minimum is at Saugor Island, the defect being nearly 8°. The average of the daily mean for the month falls below the normal by more than 5° for practically the whole province. Rainfall in February was due chiefly to the storms of the 5th—7th and the 15th—18th, though some scattered showers occurred during the slightly unsettled weather of the 22nd—24th and the 26th—28th. The total rainfall was above the average for all divisions except East Bengal and Orissa, where it fell slightly below the normal. In South-West and North Bengal, Orissa and Bihar the amount of rain was practically double that usually received. On the other hand, the number of rainy days was in excess of the average for all the divisions of the province.

The following table gives the summary of the temperature and rainfall data of each of the seven meteorological divisions of the Province for the month of February 1905:—

The 27th March 1905.

No. 11.—Notification.—With reference to Notification No. 49, dated 1st September 1903, which was published in the Calcutta Gazette of the 2nd September 1903 at page 1157, and in exercise of the powers conferred on him by sections 78 and 99 of Act III (B.O.) of 1876, the Hon'ble the Lieutenant-Governor of Bengal is pleased to pass the following rules and to fix the undermentioned rates to be charged for water supplied from the Dhaka Canal, with effect from the 1st April 1905.

W. A. INGLIS,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

1. The revenue administration of the Dhaka Canal is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Gandak Circle. The Divisional Canal Officer is responsible for maintaining the canal in an efficient condition, for the distribution of water to the lessees, and for the closing of the outlets in rotation when required; he is further responsible for the assessment of water-rates.

2. The Collector of the district is responsible for the collection of water-rates.

3. Except as provided in the Act and in these rules, no appeal shall lie from any order passed by a Canal Officer, but the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the order of the Divisional Canal Officer, and the Subdivisional Canal Officer or Divisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the orders of the Superintending Canal Officer, who shall exercise a general control over the proceedings of all Canal Officers.

4. In appeals to the Collector under section 91 of the Act other than those especially provided for in rule 16, the Collector may require the Superintending Engineer to state his opinion in writing, which opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings of the case.

ON BLOCKS.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer shall map out the irrigable area into blocks demarcated by suitable boundaries, and in order to equalize the area to be dealt with each year, shall determine the date of expiry of the leases in each block, so that as far as practicable one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease every year.

6. Each block, determined as above, shall be numbered and marked on the maps to be maintained by the Divisional Canal Officer, and shall also be recorded with its irrigable area in the registers to be kept by him.

ON APPLICATIONS.

7. Any person who requires a lease for water must apply to—

- (a) the Sectional Officer, or
- (b) the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

These applications must be made in writing and may be on plain paper.

The person receiving them shall enter on the back any further data required.

ON LEASES AND PERMITS.

8. Ordinarily 5-year leases may be granted for the whole irrigable area of a block or a definite part of a block under the following conditions:—

- (i) No lease for less than 10 acres shall be granted.
- (ii) No lease shall be granted when the water must cross unleased lands, unless a suitable village channel exists.

9. Villages which apply for a lease at a period less than five years in advance of the date of expiry fixed under rule 5 will only be granted leases for the remaining years of the term fixed for the block in which they are situated, so that all the leases within the same block may expire on the same date. These leases will be granted under the same conditions as 5-year leases.

10. The Divisional Canal Officer shall issue permits for long leases to the lessees through the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

11. When water is required, pending the completion of a lease for a term of years, the Subdivisional Canal Officer may, on application, grant a season lease which will be cancelled if the long lease is subsequently concluded.

12. Season leases for the supply of water at any season may be granted, on application, by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

13. When a lease is granted, an agreement shall be taken in forms given in Appendices I, III, IVA and IVB, and a "permit" shall be given to the lessee or lessees in forms given in Appendices II, IV and IVO.

17. The rates for water supplied between 16th June and 15th November, whether on leases for a term of years or on season leases, shall be payable in two equal instalments, falling due respectively on the 1st January and 1st February following, but all sums of Rs. 10 and under shall become due on the 1st January and be payable in one instalment.

18. Water-rates imposed under rule 26 shall fall due as soon as the assessment is made and shall be realised at once.

ON REMISSIONS.

19. Remission of water-rates, either in whole or in part, shall be granted as follows:—

(i) By the Divisional Canal Officer for errors in assessment or rates.

(ii) By the Divisional Canal Officer for injury to a crop on a leased area caused by a deficiency in the supply of water.

In the latter case a written application must be made at least 20 days before the crop is out.

20. Remissions on other grounds than the above require the sanction of Government.

21. In cases where sums due on account of water-rates cannot be collected owing to the death, bankruptcy, or absconding of the defaulter, the amount which is not realisable may be written off as irrecoverable on the authority of the Superintending Canal Officer.

22. Before awarding compensation under section 16 of the Act or making reference under section 17 of the Act, the Collector shall obtain the written opinion of the Superintending Canal Officer, and his written opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings.

ON CULTIVATORS' REPRESENTATIVES.

23. Before a lease is entered into, the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall select as representative of the cultivators a suitable person or persons who shall be generally acceptable to the cultivators, and shall each have a direct interest in the land covered by the lease. Jait raiyats or gumashtas shall usually be selected, or if it is undesirable in any particular case to appoint the jait raiyats or gumashtas, the reasons for passing them over and selecting others in preference are to be noted by the Subdivisional Canal Officer in the list of cultivators' representatives to be maintained by him.

24. The person or persons so selected shall be required to give assistance to the Canal Officers in respect of the following matters:—

I.—In the preparation of applications for leases.

II.—In the measurement of irrigated lands.

III.—In giving the names of the occupiers of the various fields.

IV.—In receiving demand statements and informing the cultivators of the demands against them.

V.—In receiving parchas and distributing them.

VI.—In attending, when required, at enquiries and complaints.

VII.—In reporting to the sildars any mutations of holdings of persons who have signed a long lease.

VIII.—In assisting the tahildar in collecting rates.

25. For such assistance the cultivators' representative or representatives shall be entitled to free irrigation of the lands in his or their own occupation, which may lie within the boundaries of the long lease, subject to a total limit of 3 per cent. of the area assessed. The Divisional Canal Officer may disallow this free irrigation and recover the rates, in whole or in part, from the jait raiyat or gumashta or other representative, if the assistance specified in rule 24 has not been efficiently rendered to the satisfaction of the local officers. The reasons for such disallowance are to be recorded in the list of cultivators' representatives maintained by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

ON UNAUTHORISED IRRIGATION.

26. For the unauthorised use of canal water a rate of Rs. 5 per acre shall be charged; this rate may, however, be reduced at the discretion of the Divisional Canal Officer.

27. When it comes to the knowledge of the Subdivisional Canal Officer that canal water has been taken in an unauthorised manner, he shall hold a local investigation, and, if he considers that the land deriving benefit is liable to assessment, he shall serve a notice on the persons concerned, fixing a date for hearing objections. Any objections made shall be taken down and the whole record forwarded to the Divisional Canal Officer for disposal.

28. The Divisional Canal Officer after hearing any objection that may be raised shall, if he is of opinion that the land should be assessed, fix the rates allowed under rule 26 and dispose of the case within one month of the receipt of the record from the Subdivisional Canal Officer. Water-rates shall not be charged where the unauthorised irrigation has occurred through the act, neglect or default of a Canal Officer or subordinate.

29. Applications for leases may be subsequently received from villages in which unauthorised irrigation has been detected, and these villages may be granted leases; in such cases the persons assessed under rule 26 shall also pay the water-rates due in respect of the lease subsequently granted, provided that the total of these two rates shall not exceed the maximum rate chargeable under rule 26. In such cases of double assessment the Divisional Canal Officer may remit, in whole or in part, the rates assessed under rule 26.

ON PENALTIES AND CANCELLING OF LEASES.

30. Should it be proved, after due enquiry, that the supply of water given to any area leased for a term of years is habitually wasted or used for the irrigation of lands not under lease, it shall be competent for the Superintending Canal Officer to direct that the lease shall be cancelled with effect from the 1st June next following.

31. The Superintending Canal Officer may, with the concurrence of the Collector, direct the Divisional Canal Officer to—

- (I) Cease to issue permits for the irrigation of lands in villages where there have been constant difficulties in realising water-rates until all the arrears of water-rates due are paid up; and also, if specially so ordered, until half the amount due under new applications is paid in advance. An order under this rule shall be in force for the time stated therein, which shall not exceed three years.
- (II) Cancel any lease for a term of years, if on the 1st June water-rates to the extent of half the demand for one year are in arrears.
- (III) Cancel any lease the lands covered by which cannot be irrigated from the canal except by passing water over an unleased area

MISCELLANEOUS.

32. No person shall, without the written permission of the Divisional or Subdivisional Canal Officer, pass or cause any animal or vehicle to pass along or across any of the works, channels, or banks of a canal or drainage work after he has been desired to desist therefrom, except by means of such bridges, fords, and ferries and their approaches as have been provided for the purpose.

33. Unless specially exempted by the Lieutenant-Governor from the operations of these rules, no officer employed on the canal shall have any interest in the distribution of water from it, or purchase or bid for any Government property sold thereon, either in his own name or in the name of another, or jointly or in shares with others.

W. A. INGLIS,
Secy. to the Govt. of Bengal.

GENERAL CONDITIONS.

1. The revenue administration of the Teur (Madhuban) Canal is vested in the Superintending Engineer of the Gandak Circle. The Divisional Canal Officer is responsible for maintaining the canal in an efficient condition, for the distribution of water to the lessees and for the closing of the outlets in rotation when required; he is further responsible for the assessment of water-rates.

2. The Collector of the district is responsible for the collection of water-rates.

3. Except as provided in the Act and in these rules, no appeal shall lie from any order passed by a Canal Officer, but the Subdivisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the order of the Divisional Canal Officer, and the Subdivisional Canal Officer or Divisional Canal Officer shall modify any order passed by him in accordance with the orders of the Superintending Canal Officer, who shall exercise a general control over the proceedings of all Canal Officers.

4. In appeals to the Collector under section 91 of the Act other than those especially provided for in rule 16, the Collector may require the Superintending Engineer to state his opinion in writing, which opinion shall form part of the record of the proceedings of the case.

ON BLOCKS.

5. The Divisional Canal Officer shall map out the irrigable area into blocks demarcated by suitable boundaries, and in order to equalise the area to be dealt with each year, shall determine the date of expiry of the leases in each block, so that as far as practicable one-fifth of the total area usually irrigated may fall out of lease every year.

6. Each block, determined as above, shall be numbered and marked on the maps to be maintained by the Divisional Canal Officer, and shall also be recorded with its irrigable area in the registers to be kept by him.

ON APPLICATIONS.

7. Any person who requires a lease for water must apply to—

- (a) the Sectional Officer, or
- (b) the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

These applications must be made in writing and may be on plain paper.

The person receiving them shall enter on the back any further data required.

- (ii) No lease shall be granted when the water must cross unleased lands, unless a suitable village channel exists.

9. Villages which apply for a lease at a period less than five years in advance of the date of expiry fixed under rule 5 will only be granted leases for the remaining years of the term fixed for the block in which they are situated, so that all the leases within the same block may expire on the same date. These leases will be granted under the same conditions as 5-year leases.

10. The Divisional Canal Officer shall issue permits for long leases to the lessees through the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

11. When water is required pending the completion of a lease for a term of years, the Subdivisional Canal Officer may, on application, grant a season lease which will be cancelled if the long lease is subsequently concluded.

12. Season leases for the supply of water at any season may be granted, on application, by the Subdivisional Canal Officer.

13. When a lease is granted an agreement shall be taken in forms given in Appendices I, III, IVA and IVB, and a "permit" shall be given to the lessee or lessees in the forms given in Appendices II, IV and IVC.

14. Water for filling tanks may be supplied when available for cash paid in advance; the water taken into the tank may be used for irrigation or any other purpose (forms of application and permit are given in Appendices V and VI).

ON WATER-RATES.

15. The following rates will be charged for water supplied, whether taken by lift or flow :—

Persons charged under rule 26 shall be served as soon as the charge is made, by post or otherwise, with a statement showing the amounts charged to enable them to lodge an appeal to the Collector under section 91 of the Act if they desire to do so.

17. The rates for water supplied between 16th June and 15th November, whether on leases for a term of years or on season leases, shall be payable in two equal instalments, falling due respectively on the 1st January and 1st February following, but all sums of Rs 10 and under shall become due on the 1st January and be payable in one instalment.

The rates for water supplied between 16th November and 28th February shall fall due on the 1st April following.
